Beheading Faces All Germans Who Aid West Policy

Communist Decree Sets Law as Additional Liability for Activities

Berlin, Dec. 15 (AP)—Communist East Germany's legislature unanimously approved today a law decreeing death—at the chopping block — for German "offenders against the peace"—those who support the policies of the west.

The legislature's legal committee announced before the vote that the law is "holy as only a commandment can be." It will become effective at midnight tonight.

The new law makes German nationals liable to a death verdict by the East German Supreme Court regardless of whether they reside outside the Soviet zone and have never engaged in any activity there.

It threatens the supreme penalty against all German followers of "the aggressive policy of the imperialistic governments of the U. S. A., Great Britain and France."

Subject to Prosecution

Subject to prosecution are:

All Germans who "propagate the entanglement of Germany in an aggressive military bloc" (by Soviet definition, the North Atlantic Pact).

All Germans who "recruit mercenary troops" (troops under western command).

All Germans who "glorify the use of atomic weapons" (opponents of the Soviet-sponsored Stockholm petition to ban the American atomic bomb).

All Germans who "stir hate against other peoples in order to engage the German people in a new war" (Critics of Soviet mishandling of German war prisoners, annexation of German territory, and communization of the

Farm Bureau Tries To Halt Controls

President Says Imposition Would Be Tragic at This Time

Dallas, Dec. 15 (AP)—The American Farm Bureau Federation turned on the pressure today in an attempt to persuade President Truman not to impose price controls.

Delegates to the 1950 convention which ended here last night were wiring their senators and congressmen. Their president, Iowa hog farmer Allan B. Kline, told them "don't let your senators push you around."

Kline himself tried to reach Mr. Truman by telephone last night to tell him of the federation's unanimous action yesterday in condemning price and wage controls, and rationing, as anti-inflation weapons.

Sends Telegram

Unable to reach the President, Kline sent him a telegram declaring "it is our well-considered and unanimously-approved opinion that price controls at the present time would be a tragic error."

Sustained applause accompanied passage of the anti-controls resolution, and Kline's news of his personal efforts to persuade the President.

"Inflation cannot be stopped by price, wage and ration controls," said the resolution. "They interfere with production, impair the flexibility of our economy, reduce our capacity to expand output, required huge administrative staffs and invite black markets."

Plea Is Defeated

The federation turned down a [illegible] plea that [illegible] "support our government" by passing a resolution thanking the late President Roosevelt, President Truman and members of Congress for establishing stable markets and fair farm prices.

Governor Derides Do-Nothing Policy While Appropriations Soar; Proposes Strong Army, Navy, Air Force

New York, Dec. 15 (AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey last night demanded an immediate mobilization of American military and productive might to stem the spread of Communist aggression.

In a speech before the New York County (Manhattan) Lawyers Association, the governor urged universal military training, a U. S. army of 100 divisions, all-out production for arms and a pay-as-you go policy to crack down on inflation. The governor also urged immediate call-up of 25 now inactive National Guard divisions.

Speaking as the titular head of the Republican party, Dewey said:

"Let us get rid of the idea we can stop Russia by appropriating billions of dollars, setting up new government boards and then continuing wage rounds as usual, price increases as usual and politics as usual."

Must Make Friends

We cannot "sit down and do business with Stalin while we are weak and he is strong," the governor said. He proposed immediate action on the following:

1. A 100-division U. S. army an 80-group air force and a full strength navy.

In connection with our own armed forces buildup, Dewey urged enlistment of all possible allies, whether we "agree with their domestic policies or not."

"Tito has 30 divisions and we think he will fight on our side," he said. "We known Franco will fight and he has 22 divisions. * * * we think we know that the Germans and Japanese would fight * * * under some kind of arrangement * * *."

Britain and Turkey would fight by our side, Dewey predicted, while France is "waging a hard fight in Indo-China."

"Many other nations in Europe, the Near East, in Asia, and the Americas stand ready to fight for freedom and we should encourage them to the limit," he said.

General Registration

2. General registration of all U. S. men and women above the age of 17 for national service, and universal military training of at least two years.

Legislation for UMT, Dewey said, should be "enacted now—this month—not next month," and he added:

"Even if we mobilize all possible fighting manpower we shall still be outnumbered by the hordes of Russia, to say nothing of Red China and the other satellites."

"But fortunately * * * in modern warfare, victories are not won merely in the fighting lines but also on the production lines. We can beat Russia five to one in production but we can't save our freedom with automobiles and washing machines."

"As a beginning," he said, " we

House Group Urges Full Amount for Defense Speed-Up

Committee Trims Atomic Energy Sum, However, Also Subversive Control Money

Washington, Dec. 15 (AP)—The House Appropriations Committee today urged Congress to grant the entire $16,845,181,000 asked by President Truman to speed up national defense.

It did not cut a single penny from any of the extra funds requested for defense after Chinese Communist forces launched their successful offensive in North Korea.

But the committee trimmed amounts sought for the Atomic Energy Commission, the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics, the Tennessee Valley Authority and the Subversive Activities Control Board created by the new anti-subversive law.

Appropriations Lumped

Appropriations for these and various other agencies were lumped by the committee in an omnibus $17,820,404,424 bill slated for House consideration later today.

The total is $260,641,610 lower than the amounts proposed by the President through the Budget Bureau. The largest cut—$210,000,000—was made in the $1,050,000,000 sought by the Atomic Energy Commission for an expansion of atom bomb production.

The new allotment for the army, the navy and the air force would boost defense apprpriations to almost $42,000,000,000 for the fiscal year ending next June 30.

May Need More Funds

And the committee said "there are already indications of need for more funds." There were re-

Congress Demands Definite Marks for Manpower, Output

President Will Speak Tonight; Pace Says 41 Billions Is Not Enough

Washington, Dec. 15 (AP)—President Truman calls on Americans tonight to unite in greater sacrifices behind the critical effort to build up the free world's military might.

The tempo of that effort was already being speeded up rapidly, but members of Congress and others were demanding definite manpower and production goals.

It was disclosed officially today that the government has picked a site near Paducah, Ky., for a $500,000,000 atomic energy project —the second expansion of the atomic program to be announced within three weeks.

And Secretary of the Army Pace was disclosed to have told Congress that the $41,841,000,000 voted or sought for the military establishment this year probably won't be enough. He said the latest request for $16,844,000,000 has been outmoded before Congress can act on it.

Speaks at 10:35

Mr. Truman, speaking at 10:30 p. m. (EST) on radio and television plans to outline the home front sacrifices he thinks are necessary to meet the grave crisis of military defeats in Korea and the threat of new Communist aggression elsewhere.

A declaration of national emergency—to speed up military contract letting and put the country nearer to a war crisis—seemed certain either as a prelude or aftermath of the President's speech.

This could be accompanied or followed by selective price and wage controls. Most speculation was that their application would be gradual while personnel is being built up to administer them.

Administration officials said the declaration of an emergency may be quickly followed by calls for a 4,000,000-man army and an eventual expenditure of $100,000,000,000 a year for defense.

More for Services

Word that the armed services will need more money came from testimony by Pace before a House Appropriations Subcommittee on Dec. 9. It was made public today. Pace told the lawmakers the huge emergency money bill they are considering "has already been overtaken by the rush of recent events."

Word of the new atomic energy project came from hearings on the same bill, which covers a presidential request for $1,050,000,000

Rail Yardsmen to Be Cited For Contempt of Court Order

Cease Fire Group Studies Problem

Russian Opposition Is Likely to Stymie Peace Efforts

New York, Dec. 15 (AP) — A three-man United Nations cease fire committee today begins the search for ways to persuade the Chinese Communists and battered United Nations forces to end their bloody war in Korea.

Outspoken Russian opposition promised little success for their efforts, but the committee went ahead nevertheless.

The trio — General Assembly President Nasrollah Entezam of Iran, India's Sir Bengal N. Rau and Canada's Lester B. Pearson — holds its first meeting sometime today. Their next move appeared to be to seek from Red China representative Wu Hsiuchuan what his government considers acceptable cease fire terms.

Will Stop Fighting

The U. S. reportedly has said it will stop fighting if the Reds do the same. Though Wu has made no public statement, Russia's Jacob A. Malik has said the Chinese will withdraw from Korea if foreign—United Nations—troops pull out.

The General Assembly, with only the Soviet bloc in opposition, established the committee yesterday and told it to seek means of halting the Korean fighting. The resolution named Entezam to head the group and he immediately appointed Rau and Pearson.

Liaison Officers

The United States, which with Britain supported the proposal, named U.N. delegate Ernest A. Gross and Lt. Gen. Willis Crittenberger to serve as American liaison officers with the committee.

The assembly is expected to clear its calendar today of all business of this fifth session except the Korean question. But

Union Could Face Heavy Fines, if U. S. Is Successful in Trial

Washington, Dec. 15 (AP)—The government announced today it will bring contempt proceedings in Chicago, and probably in Cleveland, against railroad yardmen striking in defiance of court orders.

Attorney General McGrath told reporters of the decision after leaving a cabinet meeting at the White House.

The government obtained a restraining order against the strikers in Chicago Wednesday and similar orders here and in Cleveland last night.

Successful contempt action could lead to heavy fines against the union.

Officers of the union have contended, however, that the strikes were unauthorized and that the union was in no way responsible for the walkouts which have delayed mails and movement of war materials.

Officials of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen told reporters they thought personal inter-

Postmaster William R. Kraft said today he has received notice that the sending of parcel post packages, except by air, is restricted in all but 15 states because of the railroad strike in the west.

The states to which packages may be sent by parcel post from here are: New York, Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, Ohio, Indiana, Michigan and Illinois.

All first class mail not exceeding eight ounces will be accepted, and there is no restriction on air parcel post, the postmaster said.

House Republicans Adopt Resolution To Oust Acheson

Paper Will Go to Truman and Asks Personnel Changes to Restore Confidence

Washington, Dec. 15 (AP)—House Republicans today adopted a resolution calling for the ouster of Secretary of State Dean Acheson.

The action was taken at a closed meeting of House party members. G.O.P. leaders said the resolution was approved "overwhelmingly."

The resolution will be sent to President Truman.

In addition to asking for Acheson's replacement, it urges "changes in the personnel and policies responsible for this lack of confidence" in the State Department.

Senate Republicans may take some stand concerning Acheson before the day is over.

Senators to Meet

While the House Republicans were in session, the Senate G.O.P. Policy Committee called a meeting of all Republican senators for 4:30 p. m. (EST) to consider a formal vote of no confidence in Acheson.

Chairman Taft (Ohio) of the policy committee said a resolution drafted by Senator Ives (R.-N. Y.), together with "certain suggested amendments," would be submitted to the G.O.P. senators. He declined to say what were the suggested amendments. The Ives resolution asks that President Truman fire Acheson.

Adopted by House

The resolution adopted by the House Republicans says:

"In this critical hour, confidence of the American people in their leadership is essential to our security.

"It is completely obvious that Secretary Acheson and the State Department under his leadership have lost the confidence of the Congress and the American people and cannot regain it.

"Recognizing this fact, we earnestly insist for the good of our country that Mr. Acheson be replaced as secretary of state, and that there be a thorough housecleaning in the State Department, and changes in the personnel and policies responsible for this lack of confidence."

The resolution was offered by Rep. Martin (Mass), the G.O.P. floor leader.

Those attending the session said it was adopted by a voice vote after Rep. Javits (R-NY) failed in an effort to have it referred to the House G.O.P. policy committee.

Some Opposed

The conference was well attended although there were some absentees. Several members had privately told reporters they were opposed to the resolution, and did not attend. They declined to permit use of their names.

By their vote, the House Republicans picked up a ball the senators of their party have been juggling.

Over a week ago, the Senate GOP Policy Committee named a subcommittee of four to consider the Ives resolution and draft a party expression on Acheson and

Mailing of Christmas Gifts Curtailed by Rail Strikes

Washington, Dec. 15 (AP)—An embargo stemming from spreading rail strikes has tied short hobbles on the Yuletide flow of postal packages.

An order issued by the Post Office Department last night sharply restricted the parcel post and other bulk mailings post offices may accept. It fell most heavily on Christmas gifts.

The action was prompted by the tie-up of railroad switching facilities at major mail-gateway points, notably Chicago, St. Louis and Washington. The department said the walk-out of railway yard workers at these points had "effectively crippled the mail distribution system."

In general, the embargo means that post offices will not accept most types of bulk mailings which have to pass through the blocked gateway points to reach their destinations.

Matter affected includes all second class (publications) mailings except daily newspapers, all third class (circulars and catalogues), all fourth class (parcel post), and all first class mail weighing more than eight ounces.

Exceptions were provided for medicines, drugs, surgical instruments and surgical dressings.

The department said none of the restricted matter will be accepted for mailing in Chicago, St. Louis or Washington unless it is for local delivery in those cities or on adjoining rural routes.

In order to keep mail going to localized areas where normal delivery is still possible, the embargo was tailored to a geographical pattern.

U.S. Platoon Is Cut Off by Red Chinese

Air War Awaited

Allies Expect Airplane Assaults—Artillery Is Used Against Reds

Tokyo, Dec. 15 (AP)—Swarming Red Chinese attacks drove into the shrinking allied beachhead in northeast Korea today and roared on tonight with the aim of annihilating the U. S. Tenth Corps defenders.

Many Chinese were reported killed in headlong charges of Red infantry and cavalrymen under allied tank, artillery and air counterattack and against withdrawing doughboy defenses.

But the Reds kept coming onto the blazing flatlands of the Sea of Japan coast in the Hamhung-Hungnam port area.

The first major attack was made by some 2,500 shouting mounted and foot soldiers who leaped aboard American tanks and tore at them with small weapons and their bare hands.

Bigger attacks were expected tonight out of the force of 100,000 Chinese ringed around the United Nations forces backed up against the Sea of Japan.

Last Refuge

The beachhead was the last refuge in the northeast for around 60,000 allied troops who were forced to retreat by the Chinese entry into the war late in November.

One American platoon—normally 40 riflemen and one junior officer—was cut off and presumed lost in the initial attack by the 2,500 Reds.

A tank-led column failed to rescue the platoon and had to fight off the Chinese soldiers who pried at the tanks' hatches in frenzied hand combat.

The tanks withdrew undamaged after they ran out of ammunition.

Expect Lull to End

In northwest Korea, a two-week lull on the Eighth Army's front was expected to be broken soon by other Chinese hordes. A big Red troop movement on the Eighth Army's right flank in central Korea northeast of Seoul was reported.

Another dogfight prelude to the expected big air war was waged by flashing jets in the extreme northwest corner of the peninsula.

But the sustained assault by Chinese horsemen and infantry on the narrow Hamhung-Hungnam sector in the northeast posed the immediate and serious threat.

The Reds swarmed from snow mantled foothills onto the flats at Sinsong, six miles southeast of Hamhung. They attacked in predawn darkness in estimated regimental strength. The assault raged throughout the day and continued into the night.

Can't Estimate Dead

"We fired about 300 rounds of 76 mm. shells and about 15,000 rounds of machinegun ammunition at the Chinese," a tank officer told AP Correspondent Tom Lambert after his force tried to rescue the lost platoon.

"I couldn't begin to estimate how many we killed."

The action was taken at a closed meeting of House party members. G.O.P. leaders said the resolution was approved "overwhelmingly."

The resolution will be sent to President Truman.

In addition to asking for Acheson's replacement, it urges "changes in the personnel and policies responsible for this lack of confidence" in the State Department.

Senate Republicans may take some stand concerning Acheson before the day is over.

Senators to Meet

While the House Republicans were in session, the Senate G.O.P. Policy Committee called a meeting of all Republican senators for 4:30 p. m. (EST) to consider a formal vote of no confidence in Acheson.

Chairman Taft (Ohio) of the policy committee said a resolution drafted by Senator Ives (R.-N. Y.), together with "certain suggested amendments," would be submitted to the G.O.P. senators. He declined to say what were the suggested amendments. The Ives resolution asks that President Truman fire Acheson.

Adopted by House

The resolution adopted by the House Republicans says:

"In this critical hour, confidence of the American people in their leadership is essential to our security.

"It is completely obvious that Secretary Acheson and the State Department under his leadership have lost the confidence of the Congress and the American people and cannot regain it.

"Recognizing this fact, we earnestly insist for the good of our country that Mr. Acheson be replaced as secretary of state, and that there be a thorough housecleaning in the State Department, and changes in the personnel and policies responsible for this lack of confidence."

The resolution was offered by Rep. Martin (Mass), the G.O.P. floor leader.

Those attending the session said it was adopted by a voice vote after Rep. Javits (R-NY) failed in an effort to have it referred to the House G.O.P. policy committee.

Some Opposed

The conference was well attended although there were some absentees. Several members had privately told reporters they were opposed to the resolution, and did not attend. They declined to permit use of their names.

By their vote, the House Republicans picked up a ball the senators of their party have been juggling.

Over a week ago, the Senate GOP Policy Committee named a subcommittee of four to consider the Ives resolution and draft a party expression on Acheson and

U.S. Platoon Is Cut Off by Red Chinese

Allies Expect Airplane Assaults—Artillery Is Used Against Reds

Tokyo, Dec. 15 (AP)—Swarming Red Chinese attacks drove into the shrinking allied beachhead in northeast Korea today and roared on tonight with the aim of annihilating the U. S. Tenth Corps defenders.

Many Chinese were reported killed in headlong charges of Red infantry and cavalrymen under allied tank, artillery and air counterattack and against withdrawing doughboy defenses.

But the Reds kept coming onto the blazing flatlands of the Sea of Japan coast in the Hamhung-Hungnam port area.

The first major attack was made by some 2,500 shouting mounted and foot soldiers who leaped aboard American tanks and tore at them with small weapons and their bare hands.

Bigger attacks were expected tonight out of the force of 100,000 Chinese ringed around the United Nations forces backed up against the Sea of Japan.

Last Refuge

The beachhead was the last refuge in the northeast for around 60,000 allied troops who were forced to retreat by the Chinese entry into the war late in November.

One American platoon—normally 40 riflemen and one junior officer—was cut off and presumed lost in the initial attack by the 2,500 Reds.

A tank-led column failed to rescue the platoon and had to fight off the Chinese soldiers who pried at the tanks' hatches in frenzied hand combat.

The tanks withdrew undamaged after they ran out of ammunition.

Expect Lull to End

In northwest Korea, a two-week lull on the Eighth Army's front was expected to be broken soon by other Chinese hordes. A big Red troop movement on the Eighth Army's right flank in central Korea northeast of Seoul was reported.

Another dogfight prelude to the expected big air war was waged by flashing jets in the extreme northwest corner of the peninsula.

But the sustained assault by Chinese horsemen and infantry on the narrow Hamhung-Hungnam sector in the northeast posed the immediate and serious threat.

The Reds swarmed from snow mantled foothills onto the flats at Sinsong, six miles southeast of Hamhung. They attacked in predawn darkness in estimated regimental strength. The assault raged throughout the day and continued into the night.

Can't Estimate Dead

"We fired about 300 rounds of 76 mm. shells and about 15,000 rounds of machinegun ammunition at the Chinese," a tank officer told AP Correspondent Tom Lambert after his force tried to rescue the lost platoon.

"I couldn't begin to estimate how many we killed."

Remedy Is Sought on Blank Votes; Many Skip Governor

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 15 (AP)—About 164,000 New Yorkers who went to the polls Nov. 1 did not vote for governor.

Nearly half-a-million of them did not make a choice for state attorney general.

The official canvass made public yesterday, showed a record number of votes under the column "bland, void & scattering."

Nearly all of them were "blank." Most of them were in New York city.

Why has there been a steady increase in blank votes?

What's the remedy?

Some sources say many voters are confused by the voting machines pull the levers for governor and local candidates, and hurry from behind the curtain.

Others—some in official places—say the blank vote increase proves the voter definitely knows what he is doing when he confronts the machine. He votes for governor, U. S. senator and maybe local choices and just doesn't care about the other state offices

Then, there's the argument that blank votes indicate the voter is dissatisfied with all candidates for the post.

Proposed remedies also are twofold.

1—Voters must be educated in the mechanical process of voting.

2—They must be educated on their moral and civic obligation to vote for all offices, not just the "top" spots.

Whatever the cause, the number of blank votes has increased generally in the state elections. The number of votes cast has risen but the percentage increase in the number of blank votes has risen more sharply.

Numerical Comparison

Here is a comparison on the number of "blank, void and scattering" votes for the five major offices in recent campaigns.

	(1950)	(1946)	(1942)
Governor	164,176	82,685	53,237
Lt. Gov.	415,274	244,550	136,830
Comptr'l'r	460,192	264,532	222,556
Att. Gen.	493,611	296,939	344,545
	(1950)	(1949)	(1946)
U. S. Sen.	244,654	394,274	178,644

Blank votes for an office result when a voter using a voting machine votes for one or more offices but not all of them.

A void vote is one that is not counted because of a faulty write-in or some other slip-up.

Election officials contend that it is harder to "lose" your vote on a machine than on the old paper ballot, which required a certain kind of mark in a prescribed place.

"Scatterings" are isolated write-in votes for persons who are not candidates.

Insurance Statistics

In the depression '30s American families owned life insurance equal to more than twice their annual family incomes, but today the incomes have increased so sharply that the amount of insurance owned is less than the annual income.

In Israel, every able bodied male up to 50 and every unmarried childless woman up to 34 has to serve 24 days a year in the army reserves.

Bomb-Proof Parking Facilities Recommended

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 14 (AP)—Bomb-proof, underground parking facilities in the state's municipalities are recommended by a New York city expert.

Traffic congestion would be reduced, and the populace could take shelter in event of an enemy attack.

Robert Moses, New York city's parks commissioner and chairman of the Triborough Bridge and Tunnel Authority, gave this advice yesterday to about 300 officials from localities throughout the state.

Their two-day conference on current governmental problems ends today.

Moses said the urgencies of national defense need not block all public works. Traffic congestion hinders defense work and the federal government should help relieve it, he added.

Dr. James E. Allen, Jr., deputy state education commissioner, urged the federal government to establish a priority system to school-building materials. School construction, he said, is one of the major problems facing education.

Police Shortage

Singapore (AP)—The police in Singapore are opposed to increasing the capacity of the biggest indoor sports stadium here because of a shortage of policemen. An application to increase the Happy World Stadium from its present capacity of 7,128 to 12,000 people was sent to the Singapore Municipality. City officials specified a limit of 9,200 people if certain alterations were done, and sent it to the police. The police turned it down saying they may not be able to supply enough policemen to handle crowds and because of the possibility of a great number of casualties in the event of a panic or fire.

Built on Pontoons

Until modern times, the city of Bangkok in Thailand was built largely on floating pontoons or on piles along the river Me Nam and adjacent canals.

"Closed Shop"

In union practice, the term "closed shop" has reversed its meaning. In the early days a closed shop was one that employed non-union men.

Blank votes for an office result when a voter using a voting machine votes for one or more offices but not all of them.

A void vote is one that is not counted because of a faulty write-in or some other slip-up.

Election officials contend that it is harder to "lose" your vote on a machine than on the old paper ballot, which required a certain kind of mark in a prescribed place.

"Scatterings" are isolated write-in votes for persons who are not candidates.

Insurance Statistics

In the depression '30s American families owned life insurance equal to more than twice their annual family incomes, but today the incomes have increased so sharply that the amount of insurance owned is less than the annual income.

In Israel, every able bodied male up to 50 and every unmarried childless woman up to 34 has to serve 24 days a year in the army reserves.

Bomb-Proof Parking Facilities Recommended

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 14 (AP)—Bomb-proof, underground parking facilities in the state's municipalities are recommended by a New York city expert.

Traffic congestion would be reduced, and the populace could take shelter in event of an enemy attack.

Robert Moses, New York city's parks commissioner and chairman of the Triborough Bridge and Tunnel Authority, gave this advice yesterday to about 300 officials from localities throughout the state.

Their two-day conference on current governmental problems ends today.

Moses said the urgencies of national defense need not block all public works. Traffic congestion hinders defense work and the federal government should help relieve it, he added.

Dr. James E. Allen, Jr., deputy state education commissioner, urged the federal government to establish a priority system to school-building materials. School construction, he said, is one of the major problems facing education.

Police Shortage

Singapore (AP)—The police in Singapore are opposed to increasing the capacity of the biggest indoor sports stadium here because of a shortage of policemen. An application to increase the Happy World Stadium from its present capacity of 7,128 to 12,000 people was sent to the Singapore Municipality. City officials specified a limit of 9,200 people if certain alterations were done, and sent it to the police. The police turned it down saying they may not be able to supply enough policemen to handle crowds and because of the possibility of a great number of casualties in the event of a panic or fire.

AID TO SERVICE MEN

A survey by the National Industrial Conference Board discloses that most businesses are adopting policies toward employes in military service which are similar to those in effect during World War II. In addition to protecting the right to return to the job, about two-thirds of the firms covered by the survey are paying some kind of special bonus to employes at the time of going into service. Many are maintaining benefits such as pension standing, group insurance and hospitalization for employes in service.

In the recent war a large number of firms kept their employes on the pay roll during service, paying them the difference between their military pay and the income of their civilian jobs. This was a costly procedure which could be indulged in only by firms with substantial operating income. Military pay scales have been revised upward considerably since 1941, but still are far below civilian scales. Thus military service still places a severe financial burden, in the cases of men with dependents, either on the civilian employer or on the serviceman and his family.

It should not be so. It is unjust for the government to require a man to go into service and then fail to pay him enough to support his family. It is always pointed out that the serviceman is housed, fed and clothed by the government, and that this increases his real pay. That is true enough for the man with no family responsibilities, and military pay has traditionally been based on the premise that the serviceman will not have such responsibilities until he attains a rank with adequate pay attached. But when a family man is drafted he doesn't start with that kind of rank. The pay schedules should be better adjusted to this problem.

About the only ones you can pin anything on these days are babies.

LABELING PEOPLE

A different political term is turning up in America. Arthur Krock, Washington correspondent of the New York Times, devotes a column to Senator Harry F. Byrd of Virginia, calling him "a moderate." For years the general designation for him has been "conservative." This for some reason is a name that almost all politicians nowadays disclaim. They prefer to call themselves "liberals," though if everyone were liberal who so described himself, it would take in almost the entire adult population of the United States. Why "liberal" should be so popular a designation, and "conservative" so unpopular, would be interesting to discover.

No one admits, either, to being a "radical." This may be on account of the ill repute attached to the term in Great Britain. There for many years "radical" has been an abusive epithet much like "Communist" here. The Labor Party leaders would willingly admit to being Socialists, but never to being radicals.

The fundamental idea underlying many of these likes and dislikes seems to be that it is not the thing itself which matters, but the ideas suggested by the label.

There are supposed to be two sides to every story, but usually there's only one answer.

CHRISTMAS SEALS

The idea of using Christmas greetings and messages as a means of helping the victims of tuberculosis was first worked out in Denmark in 1904, as the result of an idea thought up by a postal clerk. Its success in gaining funds for the fight against the disease resulted in its adoption in this country in 1907.

The National Tuberculosis Association, consisting of three thousand affiliated units, has conducted such a successful program that the dread plague has receded from the first cause of death to the sixth. There has been a cut of eighty-five per cent in the death [illegible] a saving of about five million lives in [illegible]. Tuberculosis still causes the [illegible] more persons annually than do all other infectious diseases put together, so there is no reason to relax.

Every greeting or package to which is affixed this red seal with its double-barred cross helps to bring down the mortality rate and to bring back to health some unforunate victim.

'These Days'

WHO SAYS TO WHOM

I never thought that I would write a column about Harry Truman's letter to Paul Hume, which under our postal laws should not have passed through the mails. But then the thought came to me: Suppose Mr. Hume had written such a letter to Mr. Truman!

That speculation is interesting. Mr. Hume is 34; Mr. Truman 66. Suppose Mr. Hume had threatened to beat up Mr. Truman and to kick him in a vulnerable part of his body! For mark Mr. Truman's words:

"I never met you, but if I do you'll need a new nose and plenty of beefsteak and perhaps a supporter below. . . ."

The kicking is inherent in the threat.

Under such circumstances, the White House secretariat would have passed the letter to the secret service. They would have come down on Mr. Hume as a threatening assassin. They would have examined his relationships from birth. They would have arrested him and subjected him to examination by a psychiatrist. He probably would have been imprisoned as a nut.

But this speculation leads further. Mr. Truman threatens this musical journalist with physical punishment for saying that his daughter's singing is flat. I only heard the lady once on the radio and recalled Galli-Curci, Alma Gluck and others to her disadvantage. I never listened again, perhaps to my disadvantage.

Now, suppose Mr. Hume were to say to the President, "Fine! You want to do all those things to me. Let's go around the corner and do them!"

The secret service would arrest Mr. Hume as threatening the safety of the President, who does not mind threatening Mr. Hume's safety. Is it lese majesty or noblesse oblige?

Some politicians think that the President's vulgarities are cute. They say that the great "unwashed" will cheer his chivalrous defense of his daughter's flatness. Unfortunately for such politicians, there are no great unwashed in this country nor is it chivalrous to threaten a musical critic who in the course of his duty can only, with honesty, write one man's opinion. No publisher would have ordered Mr. Hume to color his report to suit the tastes of anyone.

Chivalry does not require the expressions of the barnyard. If Mr. Truman felt that this critic had done his daughter a grave injustice by reference to her flatness, if any, he should also have remembered that he is President of the United States and that Presidents do not throw their weight around in private matters. At a time when we have probably lost 10,000 American lives in Korea, Miss Truman's singing is strictly a private matter of minor importance.

Now, of course, music critics will avoid commenting on her singing, which will hurt her career, as singers live by notices, favorable and unfavorable. The critic who writes that her voice makes Jenny Lind sound like the last rose of summer will be accused of being afraid that the senor at the White House might kick him where the Marquess of Queensberry says you should not. If a critic wants to pan her, his colleagues will say that he is currying a letter to send to a dealer.

As for my friend, Westbrook Pegler, he has been called worse names than guttersnipe by more reputable men. Pegler gets into this because Mr. Truman wrote that Mr. Hume is a worse guttersnipe than Pegler. That, of course, is a compliment because Pegler is hated not for his style or repetitiousness, as some say, but because he has exposed corruption in Kansas City and St. Louis and other places. Pegler has an unerring way of getting under the skin of those who would keep public crimes covered up.

Pegler has a kind of soft, gentle voice that is hard to hear in a crowded room. He puts what he has to say in type and there it stands for the crooks to worry about.

Lots of people dislike or even hate Pegler, but no one, in his senses, would call him a guttersnipe. He is a moral crusader who risks his neck for what he regards as truth.

What it comes down to is this: Often bad manners are a reflection of faulty morals. When the newspapers refused to print two paragraphs of Mr. Truman's letter because they were unfit to print, I could not help wondering whether the vulgarity was just manners or the reflection of morals.

CAUSES AND TREATMENT OF ASTHMA

Anyone who suffers attacks of asthma, and those who have seen patients undergoing an attack, know how near to collapse many patients appear to be. Yet, as few if any patients die during an attack, many of us do not consider asthma a serious disease.

Much of the worry to patients and physicians disappeared when it was found that most cases of asthma appeared to be caused by one of two conditions, namely allergy—being sensitive to various substances—and nose and throat defects, patient and physician did not look further for the cause and used injections of adrenalin (epinephrine) during, and to prevent, attacks.

However, some months ago we referred to other conditions that were factors, or possible factors, in causing asthmatic attacks, and stated that where the asthma occurred before the age of forty it was due to something outside the body, (extrinsic) usually allergy, whereas if it occurred after the age of forty it was due to something inside the body, something within the patient, in his makeup or personality (intrinsic.)

In Postgraduate Medicine, is a report from research workers of the Allergy Clinic and Laboratory, Massachusetts General Hospital, Boston, Drs. Francis M. Rackemann, Walter S. Burridge, and John W. Irwin.

Intrinsic asthma develops only in patients who are predisposed, who have inherited the asthmatic state. In such people somatic (body) factors such as infections of bronchial tubes and lungs or focal infections, the menopause, or merely chronic fatigue with loss of weight, are the cause. In others, psychic (emotional) factors seem to explain the asthmatic attacks. Mixed causes are almost the rule.

With the above two types and causes of asthma, what is the treatment?

These physicians of the Massachusetts General Hospital state that the treatment of asthma has two parts—relief of the acute attack and basic or underlying cause.

Many patients are frightened by their asthma. Confidence must be restored. Each must learn how to control his asthma and not let asthma control him."

The treatment during an attack is 10 to 15 minims (drops) of adrenalin (epinephrine) injected under the skin. The underlying or basic treatment consists of a complete physical examination to look for other factors and other diseases. Encouragement and general care and management of the patient as a whole are all important.

Asthma, Causes and Treatment

The causes of asthma were unknown until recently. Now that it is known that allergy, nose and throat defects, emotional disturbances can cause the attacks, most asthmatics can be helped. Send today for Dr. Barton's handy booklet entitled "Asthma," enclosing 10 cents and a 3-cent stamp, to cover cost of handling and mailing, to The Bell Syndicate, Inc., in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, Post Office Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. The Russian Kilroy Was Here

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington—When Gen. George Marshall was appointed secretary of defense, criticism was raised that he would instinctively break down civilian safeguards. Traditionally, civilians have commanded the army, navy and air force, so it was argued that putting a military man in charge of all three services was dangerous.

One phase of this criticism now appears justified. Though he has been in office three months, General Marshall has not yet called a formal meeting of the secretaries of the army, navy and air force.

These three civilians—all able men—are supposed to be the real bosses at the army, navy and air force. Under Louey Johnson they met almost every week—sometimes oftener. But under Marshall they have not met at all. Instead he, a military man, leans almost entirely on the joint chiefs of staff.

In fact, the joint chiefs of staff today have become about the most important governing factor in Washington.

With broad-minded Gen. Omar Bradley as chairman of the joint chiefs, this is not dangerous. Furthermore, the other joint chiefs—Gen. Joe Collins, Adm. Forrest Sherman, and Gen. Hoyt Vandenberg for air—are also civilian-minded officers. However, the precedent is dangerous. For it creates a system similar to that which dominated Germany.

Musical Criticism

Most people have forgotten that, regardless of Harry Truman's letter to music-critic Paul Hume, the right to criticize musical and dramatic performances has been established by the American courts in the case of New York Times versus the Shubert Theatres.

It happened that the Shuberts objected to New York Times drama reviews, refused to give Times critics the customary passes, following which the critics purchased their own tickets. However, these were not honored at the entrance and the critics were barred.

The New York Times then went to court, and its attorney, Alfred Cook, brother-in-law of Washington Post Publisher Eugene Meyer, won the important verdict that newspapers have the right to criticize and the right of access to musical and dramatic productions in order to criticize. No power can bar them.

Ironically, it was Eugene Meyer's music critic who got the wrath of President Truman on his head when he exercised that right.

Interesting Contrast—Wonder what would have happened to a Moscow newspaperman if he had criticized the child of Russia's top man? The rapid promotions of Lieut. Gen. Vassili Stalin, son of Joseph Stalin, might be compared to the rapid musical development of Margaret Truman, in that less-spotlighted youngsters might not have come along so fast. But at least in this country we can criticize—even at the risk of a bloody nose, "plenty of beefsteak" and a "supporter."

Voteless Hawaii

Nebraska's Senator Ken Wherry was queried by a friend as to why he voted against statehood for Hawaii.

"I'm afraid we might get some of these New Dealers in the Senate," Wherry replied, referring to the fact that Hawaii, as a state, could send two senators to Washington.

"You'd get Joe Farrington as a senator," Wherry was reminded, the reference being to the stanch Republican delegate who now represents Hawaii in Congress. "Do you consider Joe a New Dealer?"

"How did he vote?" asked the G.O.P. Senate leader.

The friend of Hawaiian statehood, though amazed at Wherry's ignorance, didn't dare tell him that the delegate of Hawaii and of other territories cannot vote at all, and that this is the main reason they want statehood. So he replied: "Oh, Joe voted about the way you did."

Washington Keyhole

Irony of the G.O.P. attack on Dean Acheson is that he had wanted to retire around Jan. 1. Now, in view of the bitter battle against him, both his and the President's dander is up....When Acheson does get out, keep an eye on Tom Finletter, now secretary for air, as the new secretary of state. Finletter did a bang-up job for the State Department at the San Francisco conference, has also handled various big international-economic problems....Quoth Wyoming's Sen. Joe O'Mahoney to Herbert Bayard Swope when asked if he'd take the Senate Democratic leadership: "I don't relish the idea of being the majority leader of a minority party."....Attorney-General-Elect Pat Brown, only Democrat elected in California, took time to interview most Washington officials who deal with his state's intricate problems—reclamation, tidelands oil, highways, etc. Brown also conferred with most of the California congressmen.

Chinese Relax

The behavior of Chinese Communist delegates at Lake Success is so boorish that it makes the Russians seem friendly by comparison.

Occasionally, however, one of the Chinese will relax and let his mask down. This happened at Secretary-General Trygve Lie's private dinner at which General Wu surprised other guests by being quite amiable.

Instead of the torrent of denunciation which he usually launches against the west, Wu drank a couple of cocktails and told some amusing stories about his military career.

While it couldn't be said that Wu got around to any slap-you-on-the-back intimacy, he let drop some hints that the democratic system had some pleasing aspects. For instance, he expressed surprise that the United Nations had done him the courtesy of translating his two-hour tirade against the west and distributing it to the press in English.

Perhaps if the Chinese delegates were exposed to western hospitality a little more—with no Russians looking over their shoulder—relations might improve. But as things now stand, the Russians are around almost every minute.

Switchmen, Really Government Employes, May Not Get Paid for Time Absent From Jobs

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Dec. 15—This week is being written the blackest chapter in the history of organized labor in America.

By concerted action, railroad switchmen in several cities reported "sick" and thus insulted the intelligence of the country in general and the United States Army in particular.

With war materials being rushed across the country to our armed forces in Korea, transportation systems have been impaired and millions of travelers inconvenienced.

The nation's railroads are today being operated by the U. S. Army under a presidential order of seizure. Thus the switchmen are striking against the government of the United States.

The railroad unions have been called upon by the government to discipline their men and get them back to work. Some of the leaders facetiously have declared they couldn't take the men by the neck and force them to go back. Probably not—but the men can be made to understand what damage is being done to the country and perhaps to the unions.

For if the union leaders have no authority over their members, then the government may have to step in and seize the union treasuries and take over the management of their affairs, just as the government has taken over the railroads.

No employe of the government can strike against the government. The laws passed by Congress make it unlawful to pay out money to anyone who is a member of any organization which strikes against the government. Thus the striking switchmen, who are government employes at the moment, may never get paid for the time they are absent from their jobs. Likewise it remains a legal question whether the labor unions themselves cannot be accused of contempt and their leaders punished if convicted for failing to act in good faith in ordering the men back to work.

Railroad executives are claiming that it isn't an unauthorized strike at all and that the work stoppage is the result of concerted action. The same thing happened last year in the coal industry, when the United Mine Workers was ordered by the court to get the men back and the union claimed it couldn't do it. The Department of Justice argued that there was collusion and that the union was responsible for the strike. Judge Keech ruled there was no evidence of bad faith and the case is still under appeal in higher courts. Judge Goldsborough, in a previous case with somewhat similar circumstances, held the union and its leaders responsible and fined them heavily.

It is curious that not a single labor leader of importance has denounced the striking switchmen. This in itself is a strange commentary on the class feeling that apparently has developed in America. Union leaders evidently feel that they cannot criticize their brethren. But, in failing to do so, they do injury to the labor movement as a whole and particularly to the right to strike.

The dispute between the railroads and the unions has been dragging along for weeks in the office of President Truman's assistant, John R. Steelman. Numerous attempts to solve the controversy have moved beyond boards and other negotiating tribunals. The latest episode emphasizes that, when labor unions and management do not agree, seizure by the government doesn't always offer a solution. Reliance on patriotism even in time of a national emergency does not seem effective either. The strikers apparently do not hesitate to put their own material interests above the welfare of their country and above the needs of the soldiers and sailors in the armed services who need the freight that isn't moving promptly to them.

Is compulsory arbitration the answer? Congress has been considering such legislation. But the real answer lies in a thorough investigation of the whole matter by some committee of Congress to determine why wildcat or unauthorized strikes occur and who starts them. They certainly do not start spontaneously in three cities at the same time, nor do the strikers all ignore the orders of their leaders and their government without some instruction from somewhere.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

New York, Dec. 18—President Truman's threatening letter to a professional critic who had been unable to praise his daughter's singing is not an isolated offense. It is one of several outbreaks which prove that the President is an unstable man of brutal nature who has no personal respect for law of the "freedoms" which his party has exploited at the polls and flouted almost everywhere else. In 1948, he wrote a vicious personal attack on Bernard Baruch, including a side-long swipe at Baruch's brother, and permitted, or caused, it to leak out. Knowledge of it became current and Mr. Baruch privately admitted to confidents in the newspaper business that he had received the letter and that it was shockingly undignified, coming from a president.

My knowledge came a roundabout way from the White House. Baruch refused to disclose the text to these friends, but when he refused to tell me what the letter said I countered by telling him with slight reservations. He confirmed my version of the scurrility which the President had heaped on him for refusing to perform a political service in the presidential campaign. In closing, Baruch added that he never had been fooled by President Truman and bantered me because I had overrated him for a short time. "He is a rude, uncouth, ignorant man," Mr. Baruch said.

The next day, Mr. Baruch, who works in mysterious ways his wonders to perform, regretted his candor. He did not repudiate his words nor did he charge that his confidence had been violated. He did say, however, that he had not authorized anyone "to speak for" him and this had the effect of a crawl. I have been given to understand that Mr. Baruch did this because he was very badly worried lest the nation lose the benefit of his advice to Mr. Truman. He thought Truman needed wise counsel more than any other president in our time if not in all our history. Efforts to re-establish relations have failed, as Baruch should have foreseen that they would, so he might as well have stood his ground.

The President also wrote a letter to his friend and counsellor, Arthur Krock, the New York Times correspondent, which was so bad that Mr. Krock personally carried it back, and advised the President to destroy it. Arthur held that such a letter, written by a president, should not be permitted to exist. The abuse in this letter was not directed at Krock but at other persons. When he writes such letters and how he gets them past his secretaries are matters of speculation in Washington. Krock is one of the few persons in Truman's official and social orbit with the instincts of a gentleman. Boors and white-collar riff-raff predominate, maintaining the standard of the long Roosevelt regime.

One may wish to say that this flurry was much ado about nothing. Unfortunately, that is not so. The judgment which prompted the letter to Paul Hume, the writer who correctly belittled Margaret Truman's voice, is the same judgment which controls the lives of millions of Americans and the destiny of our nation and western civilization. The letter bespoke a brutal, vicious, lawless nature.

These characteristics are plainly seen in the threat to commit a felony, to maim Hume and to deny his constitutional freedom of reasonable expression. But even more frightening is the fact that the President committed an act of stupidity as bad as his failure to insist on access to Berlin. His intention was to redress an imaginary wrong against his

AID TO SERVICE MEN

A survey by the National Industrial Conference Board discloses that most businesses are adopting policies toward employes in military service which are similar to those in effect during World War II. In addition to protecting the right to return to the job, about two-thirds of the firms covered by the survey are paying some kind of special bonus to employes at the time of going into service. Many are maintaining benefits such as pension standing, group insurance and hospitalization for employes in service.

In the recent war a large number of firms kept their employes on the pay roll during service, paying them the difference between their military pay and the income of their civilian jobs. This was a costly procedure which could be indulged in only by firms with substantial operating income. Military pay scales have been revised upward considerably since 1941, but still are far below civilian scales. Thus military service still places a severe financial burden, in the cases of men with dependents, either on the civilian employer or on the serviceman and his family.

It should not be so. It is unjust for the government to require a man to go into service and then fail to pay him enough to support his family. It is always pointed out that the serviceman is housed, fed and clothed by the government, and that this increases his real pay. That is true enough for the man with no family responsibilities, and military pay has traditionally been based on the premise that the serviceman will not have such responsibilities until he attains a rank with adequate pay attached. But when a family man is drafted he doesn't start with that kind of rank. The pay schedules should be better adjusted to this problem.

About the only ones you can pin anything on these days are babies.

LABELING PEOPLE

A different political term is turning up in America. Arthur Krock, Washington correspondent of the New York Times, devotes a column to Senator Harry F. Byrd of Virginia, calling him "a moderate." For years the general designation for him has been "conservative." This for some reason is a name that almost all politicians nowadays disclaim. They prefer to call themselves "liberals," though if everyone were liberal who so described himself, it would take in almost the entire adult population of the United States. Why "liberal" should be so popular a designation, and "conservative" so unpopular, would be interesting to discover.

No one admits, either, to being a "radical." This may be on account of the ill repute attached to the term in Great Britain. There for many years "radical" has been an abusive epithet much like "Communist" here. The Labor Party leaders would willingly admit to being Socialists, but never to being radicals.

The fundamental idea underlying many of these likes and dislikes seems to be that it is not the thing itself which matters, but the ideas suggested by the label.

There are supposed to be two sides to every story, but usually there's only one answer.

CHRISTMAS SEALS

The idea of using Christmas greetings and messages as a means of helping the victims of tuberculosis was first worked out in Denmark in 1904, as the result of an idea thought up by a postal clerk. Its success in gaining funds for the fight against the disease resulted in its adoption in this country in 1907.

The National Tuberculosis Association, consisting of three thousand affiliated units, has conducted such a successful program that the dread plague has receded from the first cause of death to the sixth. There has been a cut of eighty-five per cent in the death rate, a saving of about five million lives in that period. Tuberculosis still causes the death of more persons annually than do all other infectious diseases put together, so there is no reason to relax.

Every greeting or package to which is affixed this red seal with its double-barred cross helps to bring down the mortality rate and to bring back to health some unforunate victim.

'These Days'

WHO SAYS TO WHOM

I never thought that I would write a column about Harry Truman's letter to Paul Hume, which under our postal laws should not have passed through the mails. But then the thought came to me: Suppose Mr. Hume had written such a letter to Mr. Truman!

That speculation is interesting. Mr. Hume is 34; Mr. Truman 66. Suppose Mr. Hume had threatened to beat up Mr. Truman and to kick him in a vulnerable part of his body! For mark Mr. Truman's words:

"I never met you, but if I do you'll need a new nose and plenty of beefsteak and perhaps a supporter below. . . ."

The kicking is inherent in the threat.

Under such circumstances, the White House secretariat would have passed the letter to the secret service. They would have come down on Mr. Hume as a threatening assassin. They would have examined his relationships from birth. They would have arrested him and subjected him to examination by a psychiatrist. He probably would have been imprisoned as a nut.

But this speculation leads further. Mr. Truman threatens this musical journalist with physical punishment for saying that his daughter's singing is flat. I only heard the lady once on the radio and recalled Galli-Curci, Alma Gluck and others to her disadvantage. I never listened again, perhaps to my disadvantage.

Now, suppose Mr. Hume were to say to the President, "Fine! You want to do all those things to me. Let's go around the corner and do them!"

The secret service would arrest Mr. Hume as threatening the safety of the President, who does not mind threatening Mr. Hume's safety. Is it lese majesty or noblesse oblige?

Some politicians think that the President's vulgarities are cute. They say that the great "unwashed" will cheer his chivalrous defense of his daughter's flatness. Unfortunately for such politicians, there are no great unwashed in this country nor is it chivalrous to threaten a musical critic who in the course of his duty can only, with honesty, write one man's opinion. No publisher would have ordered Mr. Hume to color his report to suit the tastes of anyone.

Chivalry does not require the expressions of the barnyard. If Mr. Truman felt that this critic had done his daughter a grave injustice by reference to her flatness, if any, he should also have remembered that he is President of the United States and that Presidents do not throw their weight around in private matters. At a time when we have probably lost 10,000 American lives in Korea, Miss Truman's singing is strictly a private matter of minor importance.

Now, of course, music critics will avoid commenting on her singing, which will hurt her career, as singers live by notices, favorable and unfavorable. The critic who writes that her voice makes Jenny Lind sound like the last rose of summer will be accused of being afraid that the senor at the White House might kick him where the Marquess of Queensberry says you should not. If a critic wants to pan her, his colleagues will say that he is currying a letter to send to a dealer.

As for my friend, Westbrook Pegler, he has been called worse names than guttersnipe by more reputable men. Pegler gets into this because Mr. Truman wrote that Mr. Hume is a worse guttersnipe than Pegler. That, of course, is a compliment because Pegler is hated not for his style or repetitiousness, as some say, but because he has exposed corruption in Kansas City and St. Louis and other places. Pegler has an unerring way of getting under the skin of those who would keep public crimes covered up.

Pegler has a kind of soft, gentle voice that is hard to hear in a crowded room. He puts what he has to say in type and there it stands for the crooks to worry about.

Lots of people dislike or even hate Pegler, but no one, in his senses, would call him a guttersnipe. He is a moral crusader who risks his neck for what he regards as truth.

What it comes down to is this: Often bad manners are a reflection of faulty morals. When the newspapers refused to print two paragraphs of Mr. Truman's letter because they were unfit to print, I could not help wondering whether the vulgarity was just manners or the reflection of morals.

CAUSES AND TREATMENT OF ASTHMA

Anyone who suffers attacks of asthma, and those who have seen patients undergoing an attack, know how near to collapse many patients appear to be. Yet, as few if any patients die during an attack, many of us do not consider asthma a serious disease.

Much of the worry to patients and physicians disappeared when it was found that most cases of asthma appeared to be caused by one of two conditions, namely allergy—being sensitive to various substances—and nose and throat defects, patient and physician did not look further for the cause and used injections of adrenalin (epinephrine) during, and to prevent, attacks.

However, some months ago we referred to other conditions that were factors, or possible factors, in causing asthmatic attacks, and stated that where the asthma occurred before the age of forty it was due to something outside the body, (extrinsic) usually allergy, whereas if it occurred after the age of forty it was due to something inside the body, something within the patient, in his makeup or personality (intrinsic.)

In Postgraduate Medicine, is a report from research workers of the Allergy Clinic and Laboratory, Massachusetts General Hospital, Boston, Drs. Francis M. Rackemann, Walter S. Burridge, and John W. Irwin.

Intrinsic asthma develops only in patients who are predisposed, who have inherited the asthmatic state. In such people somatic (body) factors such as infections of bronchial tubes and lungs or focal infections, the menopause, or merely chronic fatigue with loss of weight, are the cause. In others, psychic (emotional) factors seem to explain the asthmatic attacks. Mixed causes are almost the rule.

With the above two types and causes of asthma, what is the treatment?

These physicians of the Massachusetts General Hospital state that the treatment of asthma has two parts—relief of the acute attack and basic or underlying cause.

Many patients are frightened by their asthma. Confidence must be restored. Each must learn how to control his asthma and not let asthma control him."

The treatment during an attack is 10 to 15 minims (drops) of adrenalin (epinephrine) injected under the skin. The underlying or basic treatment consists of a complete physical examination to look for other factors and other diseases. Encouragement and general care and management of the patient as a whole are all important.

Asthma, Causes and Treatment

The causes of asthma were unknown until recently. Now that it is known that allergy, nose and throat defects, emotional disturbances can cause the attacks, most asthmatics can be helped. The Russian Kilroy Was Here

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington—When Gen. George Marshall was appointed secretary of defense, criticism was raised that he would instinctively break down civilian safeguards. Traditionally, civilians have commanded the army, navy and air force, so it was argued that putting a military man in charge of all three services was dangerous.

One phase of this criticism now appears justified. Though he has been in office three months, General Marshall has not yet called a formal meeting of the secretaries of the army, navy and air force.

These three civilians—all able men—are supposed to be the real bosses at the army, navy and air force. Under Louey Johnson they met almost every week—sometimes oftener. But under Marshall they have not met at all. Instead he, a military man, leans almost entirely on the joint chiefs of staff.

In fact, the joint chiefs of staff today have become about the most important governing factor in Washington.

With broad-minded Gen. Omar Bradley as chairman of the joint chiefs, this is not dangerous. Furthermore, the other joint chiefs—Gen. Joe Collins, Adm. Forrest Sherman, and Gen. Hoyt Vandenberg for air—are also civilian-minded officers. However, the precedent is dangerous. For it creates a system similar to that which dominated Germany.

Musical Criticism

Most people have forgotten that, regardless of Harry Truman's letter to music-critic Paul Hume, the right to criticize musical and dramatic performances has been established by the American courts in the case of New York Times versus the Shubert Theatres.

It happened that the Shuberts objected to New York Times drama reviews, refused to give Times critics the customary passes, following which the critics purchased their own tickets. However, these were not honored at the entrance and the critics were barred.

The New York Times then went to court, and its attorney, Alfred Cook, brother-in-law of Washington Post Publisher Eugene Meyer, won the important verdict that newspapers have the right to criticize and the right of access to musical and dramatic productions in order to criticize. No power can bar them.

Ironically, it was Eugene Meyer's music critic who got the wrath of President Truman on his head when he exercised that right.

Interesting Contrast—Wonder what would have happened to a Moscow newspaperman if he had criticized the child of Russia's top man? The rapid promotions of Lieut. Gen. Vassili Stalin, son of Joseph Stalin, might be compared to the rapid musical development of Margaret Truman, in that less-spotlighted youngsters might not have come along so fast. But at least in this country we can criticize—even at the risk of a bloody nose, "plenty of beefsteak" and a "supporter."

Voteless Hawaii

Nebraska's Senator Ken Wherry was queried by a friend as to why he voted against statehood for Hawaii.

"I'm afraid we might get some of these New Dealers in the Senate," Wherry replied, referring to the fact that Hawaii, as a state, could send two senators to Washington.

"You'd get Joe Farrington as a senator," Wherry was reminded, the reference being to the stanch Republican delegate who now represents Hawaii in Congress. "Do you consider Joe a New Dealer?"

"How did he vote?" asked the G.O.P. Senate leader.

The friend of Hawaiian statehood, though amazed at Wherry's ignorance, didn't dare tell him that the delegate of Hawaii and of other territories cannot vote at all, and that this is the main reason they want statehood. So he replied: "Oh, Joe voted about the way you did."

Washington Keyhole

Irony of the G.O.P. attack on Dean Acheson is that he had wanted to retire around Jan. 1. Now, in view of the bitter battle against him, both his and the President's dander is up....When Acheson does get out, keep an eye on Tom Finletter, now secretary for air, as the new secretary of state. Finletter did a bang-up job for the State Department at the San Francisco conference, has also handled various big international-economic problems....Quoth Wyoming's Sen. Joe O'Mahoney to Herbert Bayard Swope when asked if he'd take the Senate Democratic leadership: "I don't relish the idea of being the majority leader of a minority party."....Attorney-General-Elect Pat Brown, only Democrat elected in California, took time to interview most Washington officials who deal with his state's intricate problems—reclamation, tidelands oil, highways, etc. Brown also conferred with most of the California congressmen.

Chinese Relax

The behavior of Chinese Communist delegates at Lake Success is so boorish that it makes the Russians seem friendly by comparison.

Occasionally, however, one of the Chinese will relax and let his mask down. This happened at Secretary-General Trygve Lie's private dinner at which General Wu surprised other guests by being quite amiable.

Instead of the torrent of denunciation which he usually launches against the west, Wu drank a couple of cocktails and told some amusing stories about his military career.

While it couldn't be said that Wu got around to any slap-you-on-the-back intimacy, he let drop some hints that the democratic system had some pleasing aspects. For instance, he expressed surprise that the United Nations had done him the courtesy of translating his two-hour tirade against the west and distributing it to the press in English.

Perhaps if the Chinese delegates were exposed to western hospitality a little more—with no Russians looking over their shoulder—relations might improve. But as things now stand, the Russians are around almost every minute.

Switchmen, Really Government Employes, May Not Get Paid for Time Absent From Jobs

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Dec. 15—This week is being written the blackest chapter in the history of organized labor in America.

By concerted action, railroad switchmen in several cities reported "sick" and thus insulted the intelligence of the country in general and the United States Army in particular.

With war materials being rushed across the country to our armed forces in Korea, transportation systems have been impaired and millions of travelers inconvenienced.

The nation's railroads are today being operated by the U. S. Army under a presidential order of seizure. Thus the switchmen are striking against the government of the United States.

The railroad unions have been called upon by the government to discipline their men and get them back to work. Some of the leaders facetiously have declared they couldn't take the men by the neck and force them to go back. Probably not—but the men can be made to understand what damage is being done to the country and perhaps to the unions.

For if the union leaders have no authority over their members, then the government may have to step in and seize the union treasuries and take over the management of their affairs, just as the government has taken over the railroads.

No employe of the government can strike against the government. The laws passed by Congress make it unlawful to pay out money to anyone who is a member of any organization which strikes against the government. Thus the striking switchmen, who are government employes at the moment, may never get paid for the time they are absent from their jobs. Likewise it remains a legal question whether the labor unions themselves cannot be accused of contempt and their leaders punished if convicted for failing to act in good faith in ordering the men back to work.

Railroad executives are claiming that it isn't an unauthorized strike at all and that the work stoppage is the result of concerted action. The same thing happened last year in the coal industry, when the United Mine Workers was ordered by the court to get the men back and the union claimed it couldn't do it. The Department of Justice argued that there was collusion and that the union was responsible for the strike. Judge Keech ruled there was no evidence of bad faith and the case is still under appeal in higher courts. Judge Goldsborough, in a previous case with somewhat similar circumstances, held the union and its leaders responsible and fined them heavily.

It is curious that not a single labor leader of importance has denounced the striking switchmen. This in itself is a strange commentary on the class feeling that apparently has developed in America. Union leaders evidently feel that they cannot criticize their brethren. But, in failing to do so, they do injury to the labor movement as a whole and particularly to the right to strike.

The dispute between the railroads and the unions has been dragging along for weeks in the office of President Truman's assistant, John R. Steelman. Numerous attempts to solve the controversy have moved beyond boards and other negotiating tribunals. The latest episode emphasizes that, when labor unions and management do not agree, seizure by the government doesn't always offer a solution. Reliance on patriotism even in time of a national emergency does not seem effective either. The strikers apparently do not hesitate to put their own material interests above the welfare of their country and above the needs of the soldiers and sailors in the armed services who need the freight that isn't moving promptly to them.

Is compulsory arbitration the answer? Congress has been considering such legislation. But the real answer lies in a thorough investigation of the whole matter by some committee of Congress to determine why wildcat or unauthorized strikes occur and who starts them. They certainly do not start spontaneously in three cities at the same time, nor do the strikers all ignore the orders of their leaders and their government without some instruction from somewhere.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

New York, Dec. 18—President Truman's threatening letter to a professional critic who had been unable to praise his daughter's singing is not an isolated offense. It is one of several outbreaks which prove that the President is an unstable man of brutal nature who has no personal respect for law of the "freedoms" which his party has exploited at the polls and flouted almost everywhere else. In 1948, he wrote a vicious personal attack on Bernard Baruch, including a side-long swipe at Baruch's brother, and permitted, or caused, it to leak out. Knowledge of it became current and Mr. Baruch privately admitted to confidents in the newspaper business that he had received the letter and that it was shockingly undignified, coming from a president.

My knowledge came a roundabout way from the White House. Baruch refused to disclose the text to these friends, but when he refused to tell me what the letter said I countered by telling him with slight reservations. He confirmed my version of the scurrility which the President had heaped on him for refusing to perform a political service in the presidential campaign. In closing, Baruch added that he never had been fooled by President Truman and bantered me because I had overrated him for a short time. "He is a rude, uncouth, ignorant man," Mr. Baruch said.

The next day, Mr. Baruch, who works in mysterious ways his wonders to perform, regretted his candor. He did not repudiate his words nor did he charge that his confidence had been violated. He did say, however, that he had not authorized anyone "to speak for" him and this had the effect of a crawl. I have been given to understand that Mr. Baruch did this because he was very badly worried lest the nation lose the benefit of his advice to Mr. Truman. He thought Truman needed wise counsel more than any other president in our time if not in all our history. Efforts to re-establish relations have failed, as Baruch should have foreseen that they would, so he might as well have stood his ground.

The President also wrote a letter to his friend and counsellor, Arthur Krock, the New York Times correspondent, which was so bad that Mr. Krock personally carried it back, and advised the President to destroy it. Arthur held that such a letter, written by a president, should not be permitted to exist. The abuse in this letter was not directed at Krock but at other persons. When he writes such letters and how he gets them past his secretaries are matters of speculation in Washington. Krock is one of the few persons in Truman's official and social orbit with the instincts of a gentleman. Boors and white-collar riff-raff predominate, maintaining the standard of the long Roosevelt regime.

One may wish to say that this flurry was much ado about nothing. Unfortunately, that is not so. The judgment which prompted the letter to Paul Hume, the writer who correctly belittled Margaret Truman's voice, is the same judgment which controls the lives of millions of Americans and the destiny of our nation and western civilization. The letter bespoke a brutal, vicious, lawless nature.

These characteristics are plainly seen in the threat to commit a felony, to maim Hume and to deny his constitutional freedom of reasonable expression. But even more frightening is the fact that the President committed an act of stupidity as bad as his failure to insist on access to Berlin. His intention was to redress an imaginary wrong against his

Dr. Evans Gets Reserve Captaincy

Dr. Alvin Evans, veterinarian, of 436 Albany avenue, has been commissioned a captain in the United States Air Force Reserve, it was reported today.

Dr. Evans, who has been in this city about two years, said he had been notified that it might be six months before he will be called to active duty.

Dr. Evans took over the office and practice of the late Dr. Philip Poley, who for many years was one of the state's leading veterinarians and whose experiments and research brought publication of several of his findings in British and American medical journals.

Eastern States in Area Due for Colder Weather

Chicago, Dec. 15 (AP)—There was more snow and colder weather for the midwest and parts of the eastern states today.

The midwest was in for colder weather tonight, with sub-zero temperatures predicted for the north central region. Lows of –20 were forecast for parts of Minnesota, and 5 below in Illinois.

The cold Canadian air spread southward into the northern plains and the upper Mississippi valley today. Cold weather continued in the Great Lakes region and in the New England states.

Snow fell in many parts of the cold belt, with falls in the upper Ohio valley, the Great Lakes region and the upper Mississippi valley. There was an extensive area of fog and low clouds over the lower Mississippi valley and most of the southeastern states. Elsewhere there was fair weather except for some rain along the Pacific coast.

TRY A CHRISTMAS ICE CREAM RING

HOLIDAY EXCITEMENT: A Christmas Ice Cream Ring.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

Here's really exciting Christmas dinner news—the most colorful and gayest dessert we've ever seen. It's a ring of rich cake with green pistachio frosting, with glossy brown chocolate dripped over the rim, filled with balls of ice cream and all decorated with red maraschino cherries.

Christmas Ice Cream Ring
(Serves 8-10)

Two quarts vanilla ice cream (bulk), 3 cups all-purpose flour, sifted, 1½ teaspoons baking powder, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, ½ teaspoon nutmeg, 1 cup butter, softened, 2 cups brown sugar, 4 eggs, ½ cup evaporated milk, ½ cup coffee, 1½ teaspoons vanilla, 1 cup raisins, 1 cup chopped citron, 1 cup nutmeats, 1 recipe pistachio frosting, 1 cup dipping chocolate, melted, maraschino cherries.

Place ice cream in freezing compartment of refrigerator with controls set at freezing until ready to use.

To Make Cake: Sift dry ingredients together and set aside. Cream butter; beat sugar in gradually. Add eggs and continue beating until mixture is well blended. Combine evaporated milk, coffee and vanilla. Add liquid and dry ingredients alternately (1/3 at a time) to the butter-egg mixture, beating well after each addition. Add raisins, citron and nutmeats. Pour batter into a low 3-quart ring mold, well buttered. Bake in a low oven (300 deg. F.) for 1 hour and 20 minutes or until a food pick, when inserted, comes out clean. Unmold and cool. Frost the ring with Pistachio Frosting and decorate with melted dipping chocolate. Just before serving fill center of cake ring with scoops of vanilla ice cream and maraschino cherries. Serve at once.

Pistachio Frosting

One and three-quarters cups sugar, ½ cup water, 2 tablespoons light corn syrup, dash salt, 2 egg whites, 1 teaspoon vanilla, ½ teaspoon pistachio flavoring, few drops green food coloring.

Cook sugar, water, corn syrup and salt over low heat, stirring until sugar dissolves. Cover 2 minutes and continue cooking. Uncover, raise heat slightly and boil mixture until it spins to a 5 to 6-inch thread or is 242 deg. on a candy thermometer. Beat egg whites until stiff; gradually add syrup to beaten egg whites and continue beating. Add vanilla, pistachio flavoring and desired amount of green food coloring. Continue beating until frosting is of spreading consistency. Frost Christmas Ice Cream Ring.

TOMORROW'S MENU

BREAKFAST: Grapefruit juice, oatmeal with brown sugar and cream, warm coffee cake, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Codfish cakes, chili sauce, buttered soft rolls, apple and cabbage salad, peanut brittle, tea, milk.

CHRISTMAS DINNER: Avocado and grapefruit cup, roast turkey, oyster stuffing, giblet gravy, cranberry jelly, baked sweet potatoes, cream onions, green beans with almonds, celery, ripe and green olives, raw carrot sticks, Christmas Ice Cream Cake, coffee, milk, mints.

Stockport Loses Hall

Stockport, N. Y., Dec. 15 (AP)—Fire last night leveled a former school house that had been a community meeting hall for the last two years. the cause of the blaze was not determined. No one was believed to have been in the building. Firemen of three Columbia county communities battled the fire as it raced through the 40-by-80 foot, frame structure.

Dr. Evans Gets Reserve Captaincy

Dr. Alvin Evans, veterinarian, of 456 Albany avenue, has been commissioned a captain in the United States Air Force Reserve, it was reported today.

Dr. Evans, who has been in this city about two years, said he had been notified that it might be six months before he will be called to active duty.

Dr. Evans took over the office and practice of the late Dr. Philip Poley, who for many years was one of the state's leading veterinarians and whose experiments and research brought publication of several of his findings in British and American medical journals.

Eastern States in Area Due for Colder Weather

Chicago, Dec. 15 (AP)—There was more snow and colder weather for the midwest and parts of the eastern states today.

The midwest was in for colder weather tonight, with sub-zero temperatures predicted for the north central region. Lows of -20 were forecast for parts of Minnesota, and 5 below in Illinois.

The cold Canadian air spread southward into the northern plains and the upper Mississippi valley today. Cold weather continued in the Great Lakes region and in the New England states.

Snow fell in many parts of the cold belt, with falls in the upper Ohio valley, the Great Lakes region and the upper Mississippi valley. There was an extensive area of fog and low clouds over the lower Mississippi valley and most of the southeastern states. Elsewhere there was fair weather except for some rain along the Pacific coast.

51 Men Arrested

New York, Dec. 15 (AP)—Fifty-one men were arrested by police last night in raids on two "floating" crap games. Seven assistant district attorneys were called out to question the men through the early morning hours. The raids were on a cellar and on a vacant office on the west side of Manhattan.

The site of Cincinnati, Ohio, was once a center of the mound builder civilization.

Father—Did you have the car out last night?

Son—Yes, Dad; I took some of the boys for a run around.

Father — Well I found two of their lipsticks.

Experience is a valuable asset in life and something we all would like to have. The trouble is, most of us don't like to live through it.

Wife—It says here that primitive men never swore.

Husband—Huh! With no flat tires, wrong numbers, radio crooners, income taxes, ceiling prices, rationing, and black markets in their day, what reason would they have had for using profanity?

It was time for the factory worker's son to go to bed.

Junior—Tell me a story, Daddy.

Factory Worker—Well, my son, once upon a time and a half.....

In Norma, Ill., it is against the law for human beings to make faces at dogs.

WOODSTOCK NEWS

By RICHARD E. THIBAUT, JR.

Presser Exhibit Given Review in Art Digest

Woodstock, Dec. 15—A review of the current exhibition of caseins and gouaches by Josef Presser at the RoKo Gallery in New York appears in the Dec. 1 issue of the Art Digest, which reports that his paintings "in the abstract vein have a rugged and forceful quality much of which derives from his effective surfaces and from his able use of white to set off the remainder of his palette, as in the large Cicatrice Harbor. Presser is the current winner of a $400 Woodstock Foundation prize."

Also noted in the Art Digest is the curent show at the Ganzo Gallery with the following comment: "As meteoric a group of newcomers as any new gallery could hope for has put the Ganso Gallery 'in a truly Yule spirit.' Among the high-spirited high jinks are a Sant and a parade of Carl Walter's ceramic animals. Artists represented in the gay show include Ethel and Jenne Magafan, Howard Mandel, Herman Cherry (showing mobiles), and others."

Lofts Launch Initial New York Play Dec. 24

Woodstock, Dec. 15—The many Woodstockers who attended performances last summer at the Mayerick Theatre presented by the Loft Players, will be interested to know that tickets for the forthcoming production of the group, which is now known as the Sheridan Square Arena Theatre, went on sale Monday in New York. "Dark of the Moon," their initial play will open Dec. 24.

Performances will be given every night of the Christmas week with a Saturday matinee. Thereafter, the regular schedule will be Tuesday through Sunday nights with a Saturday matinee. "Dark of the Moon" is directed by Jose Quintero, who directed many of the plays here last summer, and features Mary Ann Weller, James Ray and Jason Wingreen.

Oscar Brand, well-known folk balladeer who is heard regularly over Station WNYC, has been named music consultant for the production and Charles Curtis has been signed to compose the choreography. Curtis is a member of the Doris Humphreys-Jose Limon Repertory Group and has appeared with the Choreographers' Workshop.

Signed for Role

Woodstock, Dec. 15 — It was announced in New York Thursday that Margaret Webster has been signed by Albert H. Rosen for the starring role in "Strange Sanctuary," the Charlotte Hastings play formerly known as "Bonaventure." Miss Webster is appearing at the moment in a revival of "The Three Sisters," which she presented at the Playhouse last summer. In Cambridge, Mass., "Strange Sanctuary" goes into rehearsal Jan. 5 and will open in New York the week of Feb. 12 after a tryout in Boston.

Pepers Win Three

Woodstock, Dec. 15 — Bowling in the Saugerties "A" League Wednesday night, Peper's Garage won all three games from Mayone's Market with scores for Pepers 811-769-812, and Mayone's Market 731-724-770. TWO BIG "NO'S"—No to German rearmament and the atomic bomb, says this poster which greets visitors at the entrance to a Paris exhibition honoring Frenchmen who were held in Nazi concentration camps during World War II. Strong feeling against German rearmament has caused outbreaks of rioting and demonstrations by Communists in Paris.

Village Notes

Woodstock, Dec. 15—A daughter, Katherine Goold Shirey was born to Capt. and Mrs. William Shirey at the West Point Station Hospital Monday. Mrs. Shirey is the daughter of Mrs. Orestes Cleveland of Woodstock. A few hours before the baby was born Mrs. Shirey had received word from her husband who is in Korea that he is safe and well.

Food Prices Discussed

Woodstock, Dec. 15 — At a luncheon meeting of the Woodstock Business Association Thursday, considerable discussion on food prices in the village took place. The official map designed by David Fairbanks was displayed at the meeting and later placed in the Woodstock Post Office where it is now on view. This map of Woodstock has been approved by the town board. It was announced that there will be a general meeting Jan. 11, at the Town Hall.

Charges Faulty In Rosenberg Case

Washington, Dec. 15 (AP)—By a 13 to 0 vote the Senate Armed Services Committee decided yesterday that Communist charges against Mrs. Anna M. Rosenberg were "completely without foundation."

This cleared the way for Senate confirmation, probably next week, of the New York woman's appointment as assistant secretary of defense.

Senator Russell, (D-Ga), acting chairman of the committee, said "exhaustive investigations" had produced no proof that Mrs. Rosenberg ever attended Communist meetings.

These probes, Russell said, included one by the FBI into charges of Ralph De Sola, admitted former Communist, that he had seen Mrs. Rosenberg at meetings of a Communist club in New York 15 years ago.

Mrs. Rosenberg denied this. She said another Anna Rosenberg had been cited by the House UnAmerican Activities Committee as belonging to the club. Other witnesses on whom De Sola relied to back him up contradicted him instead.

'Flushes' His Files

Russell said Benjamin Freedman, retired New York businessman who said he referred the senators to De Sola, had informed the committee by telephone yesterday that he was "completely disgusted" with the case and had torn up his files and "flushed them down the toilet."

Senator Morse (R-Ore) said he believed the charge was an effort by "some anti-semitic forces in America * * * to smear Anna Rosenberg." Other senators have proposed perjury charges against some of the witnesses.

Mrs. Rosenberg, 49, and a native of Budapest, Hungary, thanked the committee for working "day and night to see that justice was done." She explained there were more than 40 other Anna Rosenbergs in New York city.

Investigators for the House UnAmerican Activities Committee said several Anna Rosenbergs are listed in their files but none of them is the woman defense official.

Mrs. Rosenberg has been serving in the $15,000 a year post for a month under a temporary appointment.

Births

The city registrar recently recorded the following births:

Dec. 8—Janis Ann to Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Larsen, Saugerties.

Dec. 10—Janice Arlyne to Mr. and Mrs. Ray Thomas Fedder, Ruby; Linda Sue to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph McCardle, Third avenue; Paul Francis to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Valli, West Park, and John Frederick to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kouhout, Kripplebush.

According to the most recent census, there are 6,335 hospitals in the United States with 1,423,520 beds and 87,596 bassinets.

WOODSTOCK NEWS

By RICHARD E. THIBAUT, JR.

Presser Exhibit Given Review in Art Digest

Woodstock, Dec. 15—A review of the current exhibition of caseins and gouaches by Josef Presser at the RoKo Gallery in New York appears in the Dec. 1 issue of the Art Digest, which reports that his paintings "in the abstract vein have a rugged and forceful quality much of which derives from his effective surfaces and from his able use of white to set off the remainder of his palette, as in the large Cicatrice Harbor. Presser is the current winner of a $400 Woodstock Foundation prize."

Also noted in the Art Digest is the curent show at the Ganzo Gallery with the following comment: "As meteoric a group of newcomers as any new gallery could hope for has put the Ganso Gallery 'in a truly Yule spirit.' Among the high-spirited high jinks are a Sant and a parade of Carl Walter's ceramic animals. Artists represented in the gay show include Ethel and Jenne Magafan, Howard Mandel, Herman Cherry (showing mobiles), and others."

Lofts Launch Initial New York Play Dec. 24

Woodstock, Dec. 15—The many Woodstockers who attended performances last summer at the Mayerick Theatre presented by the Loft Players, will be interested to know that tickets for the forthcoming production of the group, which is now known as the Sheridan Square Arena Theatre, went on sale Monday in New York. "Dark of the Moon," their initial play will open Dec. 24.

Performances will be given every night of the Christmas week with a Saturday matinee. Thereafter, the regular schedule will be Tuesday through Sunday nights with a Saturday matinee. "Dark of the Moon" is directed by Jose Quintero, who directed many of the plays here last summer, and features Mary Ann Weller, James Ray and Jason Wingreen.

Oscar Brand, well-known folk balladeer who is heard regularly over Station WNYC, has been named music consultant for the production and Charles Curtis has been signed to compose the choreography. Curtis is a member of the Doris Humphreys-Jose Limon Repertory Group and has appeared with the Choreographers' Workshop.

Signed for Role

Woodstock, Dec. 15 — It was announced in New York Thursday that Margaret Webster has been signed by Albert H. Rosen for the starring role in "Strange Sanctuary," the Charlotte Hastings play formerly known as "Bonaventure." Miss Webster is appearing at the moment in a revival of "The Three Sisters," which she presented at the Playhouse last summer. In Cambridge, Mass., "Strange Sanctuary" goes into rehearsal Jan. 5 and will open in New York the week of Feb. 12 after a tryout in Boston.

TWO BIG "NO'S"—No to German rearmament and the atomic bomb, says this poster which greets visitors at the entrance to a Paris exhibition honoring Frenchmen who were held in Nazi concentration camps during World War II. Strong feeling against German rearmament has caused outbreaks of rioting and demonstrations by Communists in Paris.

Village Notes

Woodstock, Dec. 15—A daughter, Katherine Goold Shirey was born to Capt. and Mrs. William Shirey at the West Point Station Hospital Monday. Mrs. Shirey is the daughter of Mrs. Orestes Cleveland of Woodstock. A few hours before the baby was born Mrs. Shirey had received word from her husband who is in Korea that he is safe and well.

Food Prices Discussed

Woodstock, Dec. 15 — At a luncheon meeting of the Woodstock Business Association Thursday, considerable discussion on food prices in the village took place. The official map designed by David Fairbanks was displayed at the meeting and later placed in the Woodstock Post Office where it is now on view. This map of Woodstock has been approved by the town board. It was announced that there will be a general meeting Jan. 11, at the Town Hall.

Charges Faulty In Rosenberg Case

Washington, Dec. 15 (AP)—By a 13 to 0 vote the Senate Armed Services Committee decided yesterday that Communist charges against Mrs. Anna M. Rosenberg were "completely without foundation."

This cleared the way for Senate confirmation, probably next week, of the New York woman's appointment as assistant secretary of defense.

Senator Russell, (D-Ga), acting chairman of the committee, said "exhaustive investigations" had produced no proof that Mrs. Rosenberg ever attended Communist meetings.

These probes, Russell said, included one by the FBI into charges of Ralph De Sola, admitted former Communist, that he had seen Mrs. Rosenberg at meetings of a Communist club in New York 15 years ago.

Mrs. Rosenberg denied this. She said another Anna Rosenberg had been cited by the House UnAmerican Activities Committee as belonging to the club. Other witnesses on whom De Sola relied to back him up contradicted him instead.

'Flushes' His Files

Russell said Benjamin Freedman, retired New York businessman who said he referred the senators to De Sola, had informed the committee by telephone yesterday that he was "completely disgusted" with the case and had torn up his files and "flushed them down the toilet."

Senator Morse (R-Ore) said he believed the charge was an effort by "some anti-semitic forces in America * * * to smear Anna Rosenberg." Other senators have proposed perjury charges against some of the witnesses.

Mrs. Rosenberg, 49, and a native of Budapest, Hungary, thanked the committee for working "day and night to see that justice was done." She explained there were more than 40 other Anna Rosenbergs in New York city.

Investigators for the House UnAmerican Activities Committee said several Anna Rosenbergs are listed in their files but none of them is the woman defense official.

Mrs. Rosenberg has been serving in the $15,000 a year post for a month under a temporary appointment.

Births

The city registrar recently recorded the following births:

Dec. 8—Janis Ann to Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Larsen, Saugerties.

Dec. 10—Janice Arlyne to Mr. and Mrs. Ray Thomas Fedder, Ruby; Linda Sue to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph McCardle, Third avenue; Paul Francis to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Valli, West Park, and John Frederick to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kouhout, Kripplebush.

According to the most recent census, there are 6,335 hospitals in the United States with 1,423,520 beds and 87,596 bassinets.

Bagshaw Receives Full Military Honors at Funeral

Full military honors on Tuesday were accorded Lt. James R. Bagshaw, 3d, USN, 29, who was killed last Saturday at the Patuxent Naval Air Test Station, Patuxent River, Maryland, when control failure during a routine test flight caused the helicopter to crash.

The services were conducted in Fort Meyer Chapel, Arlington, Va., by Comdr. H. H. Tower, USN, chaplain at Patuxent, assisted by the Rev. J. Dean Dykstra, minister of the Fair Street Reformed Church of this city, who married Lieutenant and Mrs. Bagshaw, the former Virginia L. Hoffman, seven years ago.

Lt. Bagshaw, son of Capt. and Mrs. James R. Bagshaw, Jr., of 2310 Providence avenue, Chester, Pa., entered the navy while a student at Syracuse University and served through World War II as a torpedo bomber pilot aboard the Saratoga and Lexington in the Pacific and with the British Indian Ocean Fleet. He also attended the University of Pennsylvania. Until recently he had been stationed at Lakehurst Naval Air Station as a helicopter pilot.

Serve as Bearers

Navy, coast guard and marine officers served as honorary bearers at the burial in Arlington National Cemetery. They included Comdr. F. B. Dally, Comdr. Francis Foley, Comdr. John Erickson, Major Louis Delalio who is commander of Rotary Wing test group at Patuxent, Lt. Comdr. A. Ford, Lieutentants M. Reed, J. B. Russell, W. G. Montgomery, H. J. Treon, A. C. Binder, Charles Meshier, N. L. Geer, Lieutenants (j. g.) R. G. Garrison, P. L. Davis and James Dowdy. Many of the officers who served as honorary bearers had previously served with Lieutenant Bagshaw at stations and aboard ship. In addition to the marine guard of honor stationed at Arlington National Cemetery, a detachment of 24 enlisted men from Lakehurst Naval Air Station, Lakehurst, N. J., acted as honor guard.

Surviving besides Lt. Bagshaw's parents are his wife, the former Virginia Hoffman; a daughter, Barbara Ann; three sons, James R. 4th and twins, William and Michael; a sister, Mrs. Newell West and a brother, Samuel E., both of Chester.

Yanks in Korea Target for Rockets Not Made by Reds

U. S. 8th Army Headquarters, Korea, Dec. 15 (AP)—Chinese Communists have fired rockets marked with English letters and figures at American troops in northwest Korea.

The Red rockets, similar to those used in the deadly American 3.5 bazooka, were fired last month north of Pyongyang.

An army spokesman said an intelligence report indicated about 200 such rockets were found by the U. S. Second Division in the Won and Kujang areas when the Chinese temporarily were driven back.

It was not determined where the missiles were manufactured.

Not Made for U. S. Army

But, the spokesman said, "they definitely were not made for the American army."

Allied troops had reported Chinese rocket attacks before the United Nations withdrawal from the defense line north of Pyongyang along the Chongchon river. The rockets then were assumed to be Russian-made "katushas."

The spokesman gave this information on the Red rockets:

They were found in Russian-manufactured trucks destroyed in allied air attacks.

They were packed in individual wooden boxes. Detonators were included. The containers were marked with the numeral "3" on the side and a symbol for inches. Each also had the word "rocket" followed by the letter "M" and numbers.

There also were markings believed to be Chinese or Korean.

Each rocket was marked on the side with "R-K-T" and "6/50," presumably the month and year of manufacture.

Boxes Similar to America's

The boxes appeared similar to those made in the United States for packing rockets.

The rockets are about four feet, three inches long. They are army green in color and were described as being well-finished and slightly better than the usual Chinese and Russian materiel captured.

There was a plug for the detonator in the nose and collapsible fins at the tail. The fins, folded back when the rocket is fired, open in flight.

One hundred million leaflets prepared by psychological warfare personnel were dropped in Korea in the first 125 days of operations.

Storm Not Serious

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 15 (AP)—A snowstorm swept over most of New York state today but was not believed serious enough to cripple transportation or communications. The storm came out of the southeast and moved northwest across the state. The Weather Bureau predicted it would be over by tomorrow morning, except perhaps for flurries. Metropolitan New York city escaped the white stuff. The temperature there hovered around 39 and it was raining. Except in the lower Hudson valley, temperatures throughout the state were below freezing.

Four Children Die

Claremont, N. H., Dec. 15 (AP)—Four small children perished today when fire swept their home. The children, were left alone in the house for a short time at midmorning while their mother, Mrs. Jean Dumont went to a nearby grocery store. The children were: Theodore, 5, Henry, 4, Richard, 2, and Patricia, eight months.

Homosexuals Are Allowed to Prey On Government

Washington, Dec. 15 (AP)—A Senate investigating committee today described sexual perverts as easy marks for foreign spies and said many federal agencies have been lax about routing such perverts out of government jobs.

The group reported that in general it found "the same shortcomings and delinquencies" in the handling of the problem among congressional employes as it did with respect to workers in the executive branch of the government.

In a report to the Senate, an expenditures subcommittee singled out the State Department for particular criticism. That agency, the group declared, "mishandled" 91 homosexual cases by allowing many of the employes to resign "for personal reasons" and failing to bar them from other federal jobs.

"The lack of emotional stability which is found in most sex perverts, and the weakness of their moral fiber, makes them susceptible to the blandishments of foreign espionage agents," the subcommittee said.

Threats Force Secrets

It declared specifically that Nazi and Communist agents have attempted to obtain information from federal employes "by threatening to expose their abnormal sex activities."

The group added that perverts also are "easy prey to the blackmailer." The committee quoted a report from the FBI that Russian agents have orders to seek out any private-life weaknesses of U. S. government and industry officials to lay them open to blackmail.

The investigation of government employment of sexual perverts was authorized by the Senate last June. The action followed a preliminary inquiry by a Senate appropriations subcommittee which estimated there were about 3,750 homosexuals on the U. S. payroll in Washington.

The subsequent full investigation was touched off in part, too, by the charges of Senator McCarthy (R.-Wis.) that sexual perverts he described as dangerous security risks had been employed by the State Department and other agencies.

The unanimous report of the expenditures subcommittee was signed by Senators Hoey (D.-N.C.), the chairman, O'Conor (D.-Md.), Eastland (D.-Miss.), McClellan (D.-Ark.), Mundt (R.-S.D.), Margaret Chase Smith (R.-Me.) and Schoeppel (R.-Kan.).

Miner Reported Alive

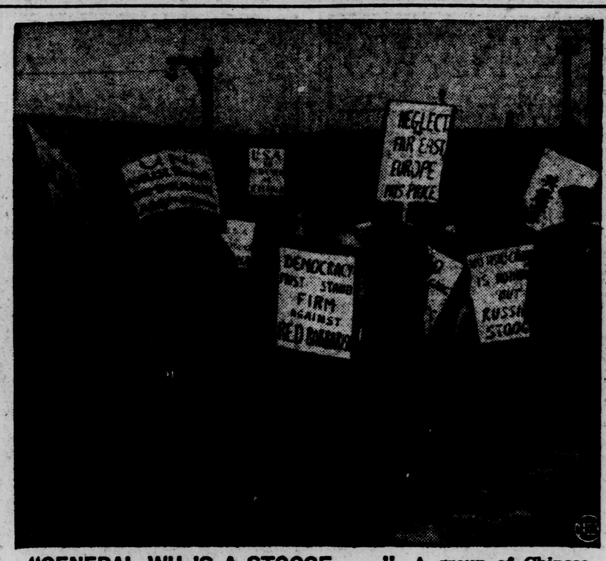
Selleck, Wash., Dec. 15 (AP)—Rescue workers reported today that a trapped coal miner for whom they had been digging for a day and two nights was alive under a rock slide. John Wolti, 54, was trapped in the slide Wednesday afternoon. He had been presumed dead, but rescue workers said Joe Bertelli, one of the rescue crew, had heard Wolti's voice from the slide area. A telephone girl here, at this time about 25 miles southeast of Seattle, said the rescue crewmen quoted Wolti as having asked from his mine tunnel prison: "When are you going to get me out of here?" There were no details immediately available on how he miraculously escaped death in the slide of tons of rock.

Truck Reported Stolen

Local police were notified at 9 p. m. today that a pick-up truck of A. D. Rose, Inc., 72 Franklin street, had been stolen between last night and today from a garage on Furnace street. Detectives Clarence Brophy and William Krum weer assigned to investigate and a teletype message was sent with details of the theft.

'Bambino'

The bamboo is believed to be the most rapid growing of the higher plants.



"GENERAL WU IS A STOOGE . . ."—A group of Chinese-Americans picket the entrance of the United Nations General Assembly hall at Flushing, N. Y., demanding that the UN reject the admission of Communist China to the world body. Representing 60 Chinese-American organizations, the pickets carry signs declaring "The UN has no room for aggressors," and "Gen. Wu Hsiu-chuan (Peking's delegate to the UN) is a stooge of Moscow."

Financial and Commercial

New York, Dec. 15 (AP)—The stock market tried to struggle back to stable price ground today after an opening decline.

The effort was only partially successful. Losses running to more than $1 a share were reduced in many cases and a hand-picked group of stocks edged into the plus column. The bulk of the market, however, remained slightly lower.

Trading slowed after initial selling pressure let up.

Most popular stocks were textiles, aircrafts, and some rails.

Yesterday afternoon a burst of selling knocked down railroad issues and quickly spread to other groups. In short order losses piled up to an extreme of around $4 a share before the selling died down. Concern over a wildcat rail strike was credited as a major factor.

The strike is still on. In addition traders were a bit jittery over what President Truman may say in a radio address to the nation scheduled for tonight.

Higher prices were paid for Wyandotte Worsted, American Woolen, United Merchants, Atlantic Coast Line, Nickel Plate, Baltimore & Ohio, Douglas Aircraft, Lockheed and Dow Chemical.

Among the losers were Youngstown Sheet, General Motors, Chrysler, U. S. Rubber, Montgomery Ward, J. I. Case, Emerson Radio, Zenith, American Telephone, Kennecott Copper, Santa Fe, Sinclair Oil, Standard Oil (NJ), Gulf Oil, and Johns-Manville.

Corporate bonds showed only minor variations. U. S. governments held steady in over-the-counter dealings.

Auto Price Line Solid in Industry

Detroit, Dec. 15 (AP)—A new and higher price line in the auto industry for 1951-model cars is now solid from end to end.

Chrysler made it so last night, announcing price increases for all its cars and trucks.

The Chrysler action, following hard upon Ford and General Motors price boosts, came as the government made a new move in the inflationary spiral.

Heads of the auto industry and union leaders were summoned to Washington for a meeting next Wednesday.

At the capitol it was assumed this would be an attempt to work out a wage-price stabilization formula for the industry.

Directly affecting a million or more wage earners as well as the nation's work in many fields, the auto industry is vital to America's economy.

Gives Explanation

In boosting its '51-model prices Chrysler gave an explanation almost identical to those of Ford and GM—increased costs of materials and labor.

Chrysler added that its price increases also would cover new engineering features and re-tooling costs for "advanced-design" of its new cars.

This week Chrysler signed a new five-year cost-of-living labor contract which it said would mean an additional outlay of $20,000,000 yearly, including a four cents an hour annual wage boost for about 100,000 workers.

Briggs Signs Contract

The Briggs Manufacturing Co., Chrysler's car body supplier, signed a similar contract last night covering 34,000 workers.

Chrysler made no estimate of the percentage of its price boost. Increases on its passenger cars will run from $80 to $195, on its Dodge trucks from $80 to $295.

The company makes Chrysler, De Soto, Dodge and Plymouth passenger cars and Dodge trucks.

Chrysler's '51 models come out in January. The bulk of the other companies' '51 models are already on the streets or in show windows.

Rail Yardsmen

vention by President Truman might be the only hope for a quick end to the strikes.

No Attempt To Return

Chicago, Dec. 15 (AP)—Striking railroad workers in Chicago and other key cities made no attempt to return to work today, apparently ignoring three federal court orders and their union president.

The strike, which in two days has disrupted vital shipments of freight and mail and slowed some industrial output, hit on the home front. The Post Office Department last night clamped a partial embargo on parcel post mailing.

The order, coming at the peak of the Christmas mailing rush, includes all parcel post and is effective immediately in hundreds of post offices throughout the country. Airmail and air parcel post is not affected.

The Post Office Department classified as restricted all second class (except daily newspapers), third, class, fourth class and all first class mail weighing more than eight ounces. The order came after the strike had "effectively crippled the mail distribution system."

Meanwhile top officials of the union, the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, said in Washington today they believed personal intervention by President Truman might be the only hope for quick settlement of the strike.

Preparing Reply

The union's attorneys are preparing a brief in reply to the "back to work" orders obtained by the government in three cities. The brief declared the union is trying "by every means at its command" to control the strikes and remedy their causes.

Edward B. Henslee, general counsel, who is preparing the union's answer, denied the union is striking as an "entity." He told newsmen "the court must take notice of the fact that individuals spontaneously, without any semblance of authority, have ceased working."

Both Henslee and a union spokesman said possible settlement was contingent on action by President Truman or someone designated by him.

The strike, which started on a small scale in Chicago Wednesday morning and snow-balled into a full-grown stoppage, yesterday spread to Washington, St. Louis and Alexandria, Va.

Scouts Will Take Magazines, Rags In Paper Drive

Magazines and rags will be accepted by Boy Scouts along with the newspapers in their scrap drive in five wards Saturday morning.

The scouts request that magazines and papers be tied in bundles weighing approximately 40 to 50 pounds each. Rags can be tied together or placed in boxes. All material should be on front porches by 8 a. m. Saturday in Wards 1, 2, 10, 11 and 12. Dates will be announced for collections in other wards.

Money realized from the sale of the scrap will go to the troop treasuries. According to the local Boy Scout office, processors urgently need at this time an estimated three-quarters of a million tons of the scrap items.

Walter May to Move

Walter May, who has conducted a gas and electrical appliance business at 626 Broadway for several years, will on January 2, move his business to the former Wiltwyck Inn building at 48 Main street. Mr. May is distributor of Kelvinator products.

96 Kiwanians Hear Talk by Williams Home From Korea

Members of the Kingston Kiwanis Club had the unusual opportunity Thursday noon of firing questions at a soldier just returned from the fighting in Korea.

The club's guest at its regular meeting at the Governor Clinton Hotel was Corporal Ralph Williams, a member of a heavy tank company of the 32nd Infantry Regiment, Seventh Division. He took part in the Inchon landing, the campaign of the Han river and the battle of Seoul. He later transferred to the 17th Infantry Division which fought its way almost to the Manchurian border.

Home on an emergency furlough, Cpl. Williams expects to return to Korea. He is the son of Mrs. Alice Williams of 101 Bruyn avenue and Berton L. Williams, who died November 22. Cpl. Williams returned home when he received word of his father's death, arriving on the west coast on November 27 and arriving in Kingston on November 30.

Cpl. Williams was introduced to the Kiwanis Club by William Sherill Keyser. His talk was a brief account of his experiences in Korea, followed by a lively question and answer period. The intense interest in the Korean situation was reflected in the unusually large attendance of 96 Kiwanians at the meeting.

Local Death Record

Wallington Burrell of Route 9W, Town of Ulster, died Thursday in Kingston. The funeral will be held from the parlors of A. Carr & Son, 1 Pearl street, Saturday at 2:30 p. m. Burial will be in the Mt. William A. Schweinler who resided for 42 years at 23 Oak street; died Wednesday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. William J. Norton in Waterford. The funeral will be held from the parlors of A. Carr and Son, 1 Pearl street, Saturday at 9 a. m., thence to St. Peter's Church where at 9:30 a. m. a high Mass of requiem will be offered for the repose of his soul. Burial will be in St. Peter's Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral parlor any time. He is survived by five daughters, Mrs. Norton, Waterford; Mrs. Chester A. Dolson, Mrs. A. R. Atkins, Kingston; Mrs. Cecil Ferris, Mrs. William Johnston, Baltimore, Md., six grandchildren, a brother, Rudolph Schweinler, Union City, N. J., and a sister, Mrs. George Guerdan, Cliffside Park, N. J.

The funeral of Mrs. Henry S. Brayton of 151 First avenue was held Thursday from the late residence at 9:30 a. m., and at St. Mary's Church at 10 a. m., where a solemn high Mass of requiem was offered by the Right Rev. Monsignor Martin J. Drury, P.R., V.F., the Rev. John A. Flaherty acting as deacon and the Rev. Edward I. Farrelly, as sub-deacon, with the Rev. William B. Duggan in the sanctuary. The children's choir sang the responses to the Mass. Many relatives and friends assisted at the requiem. During the time the body reposed in the home, scores of family acquaintances called to offer their sympathy to the bereaved survivors. Monsignor Drury and Father Farrelly visited the late residence and said the prayers for the dead. Wednesday night a delegation of St. Mary's Rosary Society assembled in the home and assisted Father Flaherty in the recitation of the Rosary. There was a profusion of flowers and spiritual bouquets, silent tokens of the esteem in which the deceased was held. Bearers were Joseph Perry, Austin McDonald, Frank Brayton, William O'Leary, Albert Brayton and James Tuttle. Burial was in the family plot in St. Mary's Cemetery. Father Flaherty, assisted by Father Duggan, gave the final absolution and blessing at the grave.

Light Snow Hampers Traffic in City

A light snow today hampered city traffic at hills and intersections shortly after it started this morning, but police received only one report of a slight auto collision.

Sanding crews of the public works department started out soon after the light snow began to pack on the streets at intersections and on hills and traffic was slowed up along the detour route around the Broadway crossing project area during the first half hour or more of slippery conditions.

The one accident reported to the police was on Fair street extension. It was a minor mishap and no information was taken.

Cottons Are Sheer and Subtle

By GAILE DUGAS
NEA Staff Writer

New York—(NEA)—Sheer cottons, significant for summer as well as for resort wear, frequently appear in both plaids and ombres. The plaids are often in authentic Scotch tartans, and the ombres are delicately shaded, from apricot to flame, for example, or from beige to cocoa.

Designer Dorothy Cox uses Hope Skillman's sheer cotton in Robertson hunting plaid (left) for a dress which can go to informal parties in a warm climate this winter and see further wear next summer. A wide V neck and slender straps are set off by a single jeweled clip of the wearer's choice. The slim skirt has a ruffle falling into a fluid side-drape. This drape is deceptive; it also doubles as a stole, creating cover-up whenever it's needed for bare shoulders.

Delicately-colored ombre sheer cotton, shaded from pale yellow to green, is fashioned by designer Peggy Thayer into a handsome dress. It's cut (right) with a surplice bodice and an oblique line skirt-drape. The narrow belt is in black suede with pearl buckle.

Bagshaw Receives Full Military Honors at Funeral

Full military honors on Tuesday were accorded Lt. James R. Bagshaw, 3d, USN, 29, who was killed last Saturday at the Patuxent Naval Air Test Station, Patuxent River, Maryland, when control failure during a routine test flight caused the helicopter to crash.

The services were conducted in Fort Meyer Chapel, Arlington, Va., by Comdr. H. H. Tower, USN, chaplain at Patuxent, assisted by the Rev. J. Dean Dykstra, minister of the Fair Street Reformed Church of this city, who married Lieutenant and Mrs. Bagshaw, the former Virginia L. Hoffman, seven years ago.

Lt. Bagshaw, son of Capt. and Mrs. James R. Bagshaw, Jr., of 2310 Providence avenue, Chester, Pa., entered the navy while a student at Syracuse University and served through World War II as a torpedo bomber pilot aboard the Saratoga and Lexington in the Pacific and with the British Indian Ocean Fleet. He also attended the University of Pennsylvania. Until recently he had been stationed at Lakehurst Naval Air Station as a helicopter pilot.

Serve as Bearers

Navy, coast guard and marine officers served as honorary bearers at the burial in Arlington National Cemetery. They included Comdr. F. B. Dally, Comdr. Francis Foley, Comdr. John Erickson, Major Louis Delalio who is commander of Rotary Wing test group at Patuxent, Lt. Comdr. A. Ford, Lieutentants M. Reed, J. B. Russell, W. G. Montgomery, H. J. Treon, A. C. Binder, Charles Meshier, N. L. Geer, Lieutenants (j.g.) R. G. Garrison, P. L. Davis and James Dowdy. Many of the officers who served as honorary bearers had previously served with Lieutenant Bagshaw at stations and aboard ship. In addition to the marine guard of honor stationed at Arlington National Cemetery, a detachment of 24 enlisted men from Lakehurst Naval Air Station, Lakehurst, N. J., acted as honor guard.

Surviving besides Lt. Bagshaw's parents are his wife, the former Virginia Hoffman; a daughter, Barbara Ann; three sons, James R. 4th and twins, William and Michael; a sister, Mrs. Newell West and a brother, Samuel E., both of Chester.

Yanks in Korea Target for Rockets Not Made by Reds

U. S. 8th Army Headquarters, Korea, Dec. 15 (AP)—Chinese Communists have fired rockets marked with English letters and figures at American troops in northwest Korea.

The Red rockets, similar to those used in the deadly American 3.5 bazooka, were fired last month north of Pyongyang.

An army spokesman said an intelligence report indicated about 200 such rockets were found by the U. S. Second Division in the Won and Kujang areas when the Chinese temporarily were driven back.

It was not determined where the missiles were manufactured.

Not Made for U. S. Army

But, the spokesman said, "they definitely were not made for the American army."

Allied troops had reported Chinese rocket attacks before the United Nations withdrawal from the defense line north of Pyongyang along the Chongchon river. The rockets then were assumed to be Russian-made "katushas."

The spokesman gave this information on the Red rockets:

They were found in Russian-manufactured trucks destroyed in allied air attacks.

They were packed in individual wooden boxes. Detonators were included. The containers were marked with the numeral "3" on the side and a symbol for inches. Each also had the word "rocket" followed by the letter "M" and numbers.

There also were markings believed to be Chinese or Korean.

Each rocket was marked on the side with "R-K-T" and "6/50," presumably the month and year of manufacture.

Boxes Similar to America's

The boxes appeared similar to those made in the United States for packing rockets.

The rockets are about four feet, three inches long. They are army green in color and were described as being well-finished and slightly better than the usual Chinese and Russian materiel captured.

There was a plug for the detonator in the nose and collapsible fins at the tail. The fins, folded back when the rocket is fired, open in flight.

One hundred million leaflets prepared by psychological warfare personnel were dropped in Korea in the first 125 days of operations.

Storm Not Serious

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 15 (AP)—A snowstorm swept over most of New York state today but was not believed serious enough to cripple transportation or communications. The storm came out of the southeast and moved northwest across the state. The Weather Bureau predicted it would be over by tomorrow morning, except perhaps for flurries. Metropolitan New York city escaped the white stuff. The temperature there hovered around 39 and it was raining. Except in the lower Hudson valley, temperatures throughout the state were below freezing.

Four Children Die

Claremont, N. H., Dec. 15 (AP)—Four small children perished today when fire swept their home. The children, were left alone in the house for a short time at midmorning while their mother, Mrs. Jean Dumont went to a nearby grocery store. The children were: Theodore, 5, Henry, 4, Richard, 2, and Patricia, eight months.

LASTING LEGHORN—Michael Lehnerer of Waukesha, Wis., holds a Leghorn hen which he says is 17 years old and still producing eggs. Usual life-span for hens is about five years, so this old bird has outlived her species more than a 200-year-old man would be outlasting his fellows.

Homosexuals Are Allowed to Prey On Government

Washington, Dec. 15 (AP)—A Senate investigating committee today described sexual perverts as easy marks for foreign spies and said many federal agencies have been lax about routing such perverts out of government jobs.

The group reported that in general it found "the same shortcomings and delinquencies" in the handling of the problem among congressional employes as it did with respect to workers in the executive branch of the government.

In a report to the Senate, an expenditures subcommittee singled out the State Department for particular criticism. That agency, the group declared, "mishandled" 91 homosexual cases by allowing many of the employes to resign "for personal reasons" and failing to bar them from other federal jobs.

"The lack of emotional stability which is found in most sex perverts, and the weakness of their moral fiber, makes them susceptible to the blandishments of foreign espionage agents," the subcommittee said.

Threats Force Secrets

It declared specifically that Nazi and Communist agents have attempted to obtain information from federal employes "by threatening to expose their abnormal sex activities."

The group added that perverts also are "easy prey to the blackmailer." The committee quoted a report from the FBI that Russian agents have orders to seek out any private-life weaknesses of U. S. government and industry officials to lay them open to blackmail.

The investigation of government employment of sexual perverts was authorized by the Senate last June. The action followed a preliminary inquiry by a Senate appropriations subcommittee which estimated there were about 3,750 homosexuals on the U. S. payroll in Washington.

The subsequent full investigation was touched off in part, too, by the charges of Senator McCarthy (R.-Wis.) that sexual perverts he described as dangerous security risks had been employed by the State Department and other agencies.

The unanimous report of the expenditures subcommittee was signed by Senators Hoey (D.-N.C.), the chairman, O'Conor (D.-Md.), Eastland (D.-Miss.), McClellan (D.-Ark.), Mundt (R.-S.D.), Margaret Chase Smith (R.-Me.) and Schoeppel (R.-Kan.).

Miner Reported Alive

Selleck, Wash., Dec. 15 (AP)—Rescue workers reported today that a trapped coal miner for whom they had been digging for a day and two nights was alive under a rock slide. John Wolti, 54, was trapped in the slide Wednesday afternoon. He had been presumed dead, but rescue workers said Joe Bertelli, one of the rescue crew, had heard Wolti's voice from the slide area. A telephone girl here, at this time about 25 miles southeast of Seattle, said the rescue crewmen quoted Wolti as having asked from his mine tunnel prison: "When are you going to get me out of here?" There were no details immediately available on how he miraculously escaped death in the slide of tons of rock.

Truck Reported Stolen

Local police were notified at 9 p. m. today that a pick-up truck of A. D. Rose, Inc., 72 Franklin street, had been stolen between last night and today from a garage on Furnace street. Detectives Clarence Brophy and William Krum weer assigned to investigate and a teletype message was sent with details of the theft.

"GENERAL WU IS A STOOGE . . ."—A group of Chinese-Americans picket the entrance of the United Nations General Assembly hall at Flushing, N. Y., demanding that the UN reject the admission of Communist China to the world body. Representing 60 Chinese-American organizations, the pickets carry signs declaring "The UN has no room for aggressors," and "Gen. Wu Hsiu-chuan (Peking's delegate to the UN) is a stooge of Moscow."

Financial and Commercial

New York, Dec. 15 (AP)—The stock market tried to struggle back to stable price ground today after an opening decline.

The effort was only partially successful. Losses running to more than $1 a share were reduced in many cases and a handpicked group of stocks edged into the plus column. The bulk of the market, however, remained slightly lower.

Trading slowed after initial selling pressure let up.

Most popular stocks were textiles, aircrafts, and some rails.

Yesterday afternoon a burst of selling knocked down railroad issues and quickly spread to other groups. In short order losses piled up to an extreme of around $4 a share before the selling died down. Concern over a wildcat rail strike was credited as a major factor.

The strike is still on. In addition traders were a bit jittery over what President Truman may say in a radio address to the nation scheduled for tonight.

Higher prices were paid for Wyandotte Worsted, American Woolen, United Merchants, Atlantic Coast Line, Nickel Plate, Baltimore & Ohio, Douglas Aircraft, Lockheed and Dow Chemical.

Among the losers were Youngstown Sheet, General Motors, Chrysler, U. S. Rubber, Montgomery Ward, J. I. Case, Emerson Radio, Zenith, American Telephone, Kennecott Copper, Santa Fe, Sinclair Oil, Standard Oil (NJ), Gulf Oil, and Johns-Manville.

Corporate bonds showed only minor variations. U. S. governments held steady in over-the-counter dealings.

SAWKILL

Sawkill, Dec. 15—Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Howard and son, Robert, and Miss Joan McHugh of Brooklyn were week-end guests of the Goldpaugh sisters.

The first outdoor Christmas decorations this year are at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Roeber. They have a brightly lighted tree on the sun deck of their home and other lights in front.

The Rev. James Dunnigan will hold services Sunday at St. Wendelinus Church in Ruby at 8:30 a. m. and at St. Ann's Church in Sawkill at 10 a. m. The sermon will be "I Am the Voice of One Crying in the Wilderness—Make Straight the Way of the Lord."

The final textile painting lesson was held at the schoolhouse on Tuesday. Present at the meeting were Mrs. Margo Kay, Mrs. Paul Burton, Mrs. Samuel Hull, Mrs. Harry Hulsair, Mrs. Sarah Charlton, Mrs. Francis Charlton, Miss Marie Siemsen, Mrs. Lizzie Hover and Mrs. Adams. Many articles were completed including towels, kerchiefs, aprons, sport shirts, luncheon cloths, dresser scarves and baby bibs. The next scheduled Home Bureau meeting wil be held at the schoolhouse Tuesday, Jan. 2, at 8 p. m. This meeting will be annual election of officers. The nominating committee members are Mrs. Sarah Charlton, Mrs. Margo Kay and Mrs. John Nagele.

Mrs. Theresa Roeber has recently been employed as manager of the New York Delicatessen on North Front street.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Mossl and their son, Ernst Mossl, Jr., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ludwig Ritzhaupt Saturday. Ernst Mossl, Jr., is on leave from the Merchant Marine, stationed in Louisiana. On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Schreivogel and John Ruhman were guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Myron Reynolds and son, Robert, Woodstock, were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Joy Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lohmaier spent the week-end in St. Albans visiting her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. A. Menninger.

Mrs. W. McGuckin and Harold McGuckin of New York spent the week-end in their Sawkill home.

Herbert Roeber, lineman with the Central Hudson Corporation is working in Newburgh where damage from the recent storm was extensive.

Auto Price Line Solid in Industry

Detroit, Dec. 15 (AP)—A new and higher price line in the auto industry for 1951-model cars is now solid from end to end.

Chrysler made it so last night, announcing price increases for all its cars and trucks.

The Chrysler action, following hard upon Ford and General Motors price boosts, came as the government made a new move in the inflationary spiral.

Heads of the auto industry and union leaders were summoned to Washington for a meeting next Wednesday.

At the capitol it was assumed this would be an attempt to work out a wage-price stabilization formula for the industry.

Directly affecting a million or more wage earners as well as the nation's work in many fields, the auto industry is vital to America's economy.

Gives Explanation

In boosting its '51-model prices Chrysler gave an explanation almost identical to those of Ford and GM—increased costs of materials and labor.

Chrysler added that its price increases also would cover new engineering features and re-tooling costs for "advanced-design" of its new cars.

This week Chrysler signed a new five-year cost-of-living labor contract which it said would mean an additional outlay of $20,000,000 yearly, including a four cents an hour annual wage boost for about 100,000 workers.

Briggs Signs Contract

The Briggs Manufacturing Co., Chrysler's car body supplier, signed a similar contract last night covering 34,000 workers.

Chrysler made no estimate of the percentage of its price boost. Increases on its passenger cars will run from $80 to $195, on its Dodge trucks from $80 to $295.

The company makes Chrysler, De Soto, Dodge and Plymouth passenger cars and Dodge trucks.

Chrysler's '51 models come out in January. The bulk of the other companies' '51 models are already on the streets or in show windows.

Rail Yardsmen

vention by President Truman might be the only hope for a quick end to the strikes.

No Attempt To Return

Chicago, Dec. 15 (AP)—Striking railroad workers in Chicago and other key cities made no attempt to return to work today, apparently ignoring three federal court orders and their union president.

The strike, which in two days has disrupted vital shipments of freight and mail and slowed some industrial output, hit on the home front. The Post Office Department last night clamped a partial embargo on parcel post mailing.

The order, coming at the peak of the Christmas mailing rush, includes all parcel post and is effective immediately in hundreds of post offices throughout the country. Airmail and air parcel post is not affected.

The Post Office Department classified as restricted all second class (except daily newspapers), third, class, fourth class and all first class mail weighing more than eight ounces. The order came after the strike had "effectively crippled the mail distribution system."

Meanwhile top officials of the union, the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, said in Washington today they believed personal intervention by President Truman might be the only hope for quick settlement of the strike.

Preparing Reply

The union's attorneys are preparing a brief in reply to the "back to work" orders obtained by the government in three cities. The brief declared the union is trying "by every means at its command" to control the strikes and remedy their causes.

Edward B. Henslee, general counsel, who is preparing the union's answer, denied the union is striking as an "entity." He told newsmen "the court must take notice of the fact that individuals spontaneously, without any semblance of authority, have ceased working."

Both Henslee and a union spokesman said possible settlement was contingent on action by President Truman or someone designated by him.

The strike, which started on a small scale in Chicago Wednesday morning and snow-balled into a full-grown stoppage, yesterday spread to Washington, St. Louis and Alexandria, Va.

Scouts Will Take Magazines, Rags In Paper Drive

Magazines and rags will be accepted by Boy Scouts along with the newspapers in their scrap drive in five wards Saturday morning.

The scouts request that magazines and papers be tied in bundles weighing approximately 40 to 50 pounds each. Rags can be tied together or placed in boxes. All material should be on front porches by 8 a. m. Saturday in Wards 1, 2, 10, 11 and 12. Dates will be announced for collections in other wards.

Money realized from the sale of the scrap will go to the troop treasuries. According to the local Boy Scout office, processors urgently need at this time an estimated three-quarters of a million tons of the scrap items.

Walter May to Move

Walter May, who has conducted a gas and electrical appliance business at 626 Broadway for several years, will on January 2, move his business to the former Wiltwyck Inn building at 48 Main street. Mr. May is distributor of Kelvinator products.

SHOKAN

Shokan, Dec. 14—Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Ruckert of Flushing spent Sunday and Monday at their place in the village center.

Clarence Mason, who resided at the Emerich Lukacs place for several years, is now in the Adirondacks where he is looking after the property of a member of the Burns Detective Agency.

The Christmas movie show for pupils of the Onteora Central School District Dec. 21 will this year include Punch and Judy hand puppets with Christmas motifs and a stage marionette show of special numbers.

Mr. and Mrs. Barnard Casablanca and son, Vincent, summer residents, motored from Washington Heights and spent Sunday in the village. The Casablancas plan to sell the 2½-acre Ashokan baseball field which they have owned for the past several years.

A report of the tax collector of the Onteora school district reveals a levy of $155,724.70 of which amount there has been paid in by taxpayers all but $11,843.51.

Echo of Centennial Year: Dec. 11, 1876. Isaac Winchell had a neighborhood bee to move his hoop shop up to his house near Little Tonche mountain for a wood house. There were five yoke of oxen in use on this all day job (the accepted wage scale for a man and old "Buck and Bright" was $1.50 per day for drawing hoop poles, stone, etc). Isaac Winchell was a grandfather of Harry Winchell of Kingston.

Mrs. Earl Elmendorf is around again following a fall at her home in which she suffered a sprained ankle.

Edwin Swenson, Jr., of "Twin Maples," a pupil of the Shokan school, is perhaps the youngest collector of antique firearms in the county. Edwin, who moved here from Locust Valley, L. I., two years ago, has a double barreled muzzle-loading shotgun and hopes to add a single barreled one.

McCarthy Promises

Washington, Dec. 15 (AP)—Stymied in his desire to tell his colleagues about Columnist Drew Pearson yesterday, Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.) promised to try for the Senate floor again today. McCarthy was standing by with a 40-odd page speech late yesterday when the Senate, in an unusual parliamentary situation which didn't involve him, voted by roll call to recess overnight. The Wisconsin senator declined to give reporters any details of what he planned to say about Pearson, with whom he traded slaps or kicks Tuesday night. The incident occurred at a private party, and the two had varying versions of what happened.

Release Held Justifiable

New York, Dec. 15 (AP)—Two psychiatrists testifying for the state of New York in a $100,000 action brought against it by the father of a woman who was allegedly strangled and stabbed to death by her demented husband, said yesterday that in their opinion the husband's release from the Central Islip State Mental Hospital, a month before the killing, was justifiable. Plaintiff in the action, Aldo Stattini, of 235 Wolf's Lane, Pelham, has alleged negligence in the release of his son-in-law, Joseph Schioppa, from the mental institution.

BABSON on BUSINESS

Babson Park, Mass., Dec. 15—Perhaps when everyone is so excited as is true today, it might be well to look at past history. There certainly have been other times when the American people were even more disturbed. Probably most readers have weathered four stock market panics.

The first scare was in 1914 when the New York Stock Exchange was closed for some months, and investors were throwing over securities without rhyme or reason. Yet, after the Stock Market opened again the Industrial Averages rose 113 per cent, while many stocks rose much more. Stocks continued high for about two years.

The second scare came in 1921, brought about by an unprecedented sudden decline in wholesale commodity prices. This sent many concerns into bankruptcy. Yet, it was only a question of readjustment, after which employment increased and the Industrial Average climbed nearly 500 per cent, while certain stocks did much better.

The third scare came in 1929 due to the extreme overexpansion in the Stock Market, followed by the closing of thousands of banks—a situation which had never before happened. Yet, faith was reestablished, and the Industrial Averages increased about 370 per cent; while then again, other stocks did even better.

The fourth break came in 1937 and it was caused by the Roosevelt administration attempting to put a planned economy on United States business. It was the first time this had ever been attempted; a severe market break followed, accompanied by unemployment, declining commodity prices, and general fear. This lasted until the war broke out in Europe when England and the Allies gave our corporations large war orders. Of course, during 1940, 1941 and 1942 the market fluctuated downward with the state of war, reaching the low point in 1942. When the war outlook changed for the better in 1942, the market began to pick up and the Industrial Averages went up about 130 per cent.

The last scare came when the war was over, due to fear of unemployment. Everybody had gone to work during the war days; they liked their pay envelope, and did not want to leave their jobs. This fear of general unemployment caused merchants suddenly to cancel orders for merchandise which resulted in factories laying off more help. Contrary to all expectations, this unemployment was of short duration, and the stock market again began to climb. From 1942 to 1946 the industrial averages rose about 130 per cent.

Where We Stand Today

The country today is at a peak of a prosperity area. To be exact, we are riding 37 per cent above the normal compared with 38 per cent below the normal in 1933. Our normal is based upon the average of the full cycle. How long the present prosperity will last, no one knows. During the next few years our fate depends upon whether the President and his advisors say "Yes" when they should say "Yes"; and say "No" when they should say "No." I sincerely hope they get on their knees and ask the guidance of God when making these tremendous decisions.

We need have no fear of the things which have brought on previous depressions. These have been remedied. Also, the stock exchange margins have been greatly increased, which should be a steadying factor, as well as the growth of investment trusts. The two factors which could cause a collapse are the acts of the political bosses of the Kremlin, and the acts of the labor bosses of the United States. The next depression will be brought on by one of these two groups. It will come about some day, and wise are those who now have a reasonable amount in liquid funds to prepare for same. The point of this week's column, however, is to show that we came out of all our previous troubles okay, and we will come out of our present troubles okay if we will keep out of debt and follow God's teachings.

Farmers to Vote For Aid Directors

Ulster county farmers will vote on December 21 for committmen who will administer locally the government's various farm aid programs.

Community meetings will be held at that date for farmers to elect three members of a community committee and a delegate to the county convention, where a county committee will be chosen.

The committeemen elected will administer the agricultural conservation program, acreage allotment, marketing quota and other production programs in 1951.

Each farmer participating in the program has been notified of the elections by mail.

John S. Geary, chairman of the Ulster County Production and Marketing Administration Committee, today urged all eligible farmers to exercise their vote. "The coming year can be expected to call for decisions and actions which will demand the most able leadership available. This places the responsibility of electing able committeemen on the shoulders of the farmers in each of the 10 communities in Ulster county," he said.

"With mounting defense activities, problems having to do with obtaining fertilizers, seed, construction materials and transportation can be expected to increase," he warned.

Farmers to Vote For Aid Directors

Ulster county farmers will vote on December 21 for committmen who will administer locally the government's various farm aid programs.

Community meetings will be held at that date for farmers to elect three members of a community committee and a delegate to the county convention, where a county committee will be chosen.

The committeemen elected will administer the agricultural conservation program, acreage allotment, marketing quota and other production programs in 1951.

Each farmer participating in the program has been notified of the elections by mail.

John S. Geary, chairman of the Ulster County Production and Marketing Administration Committee, today urged all eligible farmers to exercise their vote. "The coming year can be expected to call for decisions and actions which will demand the most able leadership available. This places the responsibility of electing able committeemen on the shoulders of the farmers in each of the 10 communities in Ulster county," he said.

"With mounting defense activities, problems having to do with obtaining fertilizers, seed, construction materials and transportation can be expected to increase," he warned.

TELEVISION PROBLEM

A reader discusses television: "We need not strain our memories to remember the early days of television when programs were not very good and our friends bored us with what there was. The moment we got our own set my husband made it a house rule that as soon as visitors came the set would be turned off, unless they had been invited especially to look at something. Consequently the other evening when people we know slightly came in, I turned it off. There was one man in the group, who asked to see something—nothing in particular. The others went on talking and paid no attention. I told him all the good program were over for the evening and did nothing. Was I rude, I wonder, in an instance where someone definitely asked to see television?"

I can't imagine anything ruder. You could certainly have turned it on for him and kept the sound low enough so as not to greatly disturb the others.

Young Guest

Dear Mrs. Post: While on our vacation, we took a young friend of my daughter's with us. The girls are 14 and 15. En route, the friend saw a dog she couldn't resist and bought it to take home. I did not approve but as she had her own money there was nothing I felt I could do. The dog not only ruined our car but now her mother is telling everyone that I was to blame for allowing the child to bring the dog home. I'd like your opinion.

Answer: Since the child was in your care, I do think you should have asked her if she were sure her mother would approve, and if she seemed in doubt you should have insisted that she telephone her mother for permission.

Older Wedding Party

Dear Mrs. Post: I'm in my forties, and so is the groom-to-be. The best man will be past forty and my father who is approaching seventy, is giving me away. Would it be out of place to have the fourteen-year-old daughter of my fiance as my maid of honor?

Answer: Although not conventional, I see no objection to it. In fact, I think it a lovely gesture for you to make to your new daughter.

Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. Such questions as pictures of the bride, the wedding, cake and many others are included in leaflet E-2, "Formal Wedding Procedure." New Midtown Terminal Opens in New York City

New York, Dec. 15 (AP)—The commuters' dream became a reality at midnight last night with the official opening of the elaborate $24,000,000 Midtown Bus Terminal.

A minute later the first bus started for Newark, N. J., and points south and at 12:14 a. m. the first incoming bus let off its passengers at one of the lower ramps of the four-story building.

During the day officials of New York and New Jersey attended gala dedication ceremonies while thousands of sightseers swarmed through the block-long structure.

First to buy a ticket was Cmero Caton of Queens who said he made a specialty of being "Mr. First" at civic affairs.

During the dedication, Governor Alfred E. Driscoll of New Jersey said the terminal was a good example of what could be accomplished through interstate cooperation.

He said New York and New Jersey make up "one important metropolitan area."

Joseph M. Byrne, vice chairman of the Port of New York Authority which built the terminal, said both New York and New Jersey stand to benefit immeasurably from the building.

He said it will relieve midtown Manhattan of the "costly and dangerous movement of huge intercity buses" and provide commuters from New Jersey with "comfortable, convenient and time-saving accommodations."

Hoover to Make Address

New York, Dec. 15 (AP)—Former President Herbert Hoover will make a special radio address on "Our National Policies in This Crisis" next Wednesday night over the facilities of the Mutual Broadcasting System. Mr. Hoover will talk from 8 to 8:30 p. m. (EST). Mr. Hoover's office said earlier this week that it had received some 1,000 letters asking the former chief executive's views on the current international situation.

Calls for Prayers

New York, Dec. 15 (AP)—Prayers by Protestants on Sunday, Dec. 31, for "a peace which is the fruit of righteousness" were called for yesterday. The Rt. Rev. Henry Knox Sherrill, ranking Episcopal bishop and president of the newly-formed National Council of Churches of Christ in the U. S. A., issued the call. The council embraces 31,000 members of 25 Protestant and eastern orthodox church groups.

State Republican Chairman Calls for Defense Cooperation

New York, N. Y., Dec. 14—Republican organizations throughout the state were urged today by William L. Pfeiffer, chairman of the New York Republican State Committee, to extend wholehearted cooperation to Civilian Defense authorities.

Pfeiffer announced he had sent letters to county chairmen, vice-chairmen and presidents of Republican clubs urging full cooperation "in this hour of decision."

He suggested that in many instances, county and local Republican headquarters might be suitable for first aid stations, air raid shelters, storage of medical supplies and other Civilian Defense requirements.

Also, Pfeiffer urged that the organizations assist in recruiting manpower for air raid warden corps, auxiliary police and firemen and other needs.

"We have more than 18,000 committeemen and committeewomen alone who have demonstrated their public-spiritedness in their communities. In addition, club members and active party workers number more than 150,000 throughout the state.

"These people and the rank and file Republican voters will respond to any appeal for assistance on the Civilian Defense front," Pfeiffer said.

Look To G.O.P. Leadership

In his letter to chairmen and club presidents, Pfeiffer declared the people are looking to the Republican party for leadership today.

"They know that Governor Dewey and other foresighted Republicans saw years ago the dangers of bungling in Korea," he said.

Pointing out that Governor Dewey took the initiative in setting up the homefront Civilian Defense under General Lucius D. Clay, he reminded that "local cooperation and support is vital to the success of the plan."

"I know," he added, "that a vast number of party leaders throughout the state are active in various capacities in their Civilian Defense units. I urge all Republicans to do likewise."

Pfeiffer also sent a letter to General Clay advising the State Civilian Defense chief of the action.

Christian Science was founded by Mary Baker Eddy in 1879.

TELEVISION PROBLEM

A reader discusses television: "We need not strain our memories to remember the early days of television when programs were not very good and our friends bored us with what there was. The moment we got our own set my husband made it a house rule that as soon as visitors came the set would be turned off, unless they had been invited especially to look at something. Consequently the other evening when people we know slightly came in, I turned it off. There was one man in the group, who asked to see something—nothing in particular. The others went on talking and paid no attention. I told him all the good program were over for the evening and did nothing. Was I rude, I wonder, in an instance where someone definitely asked to see television?"

I can't imagine anything ruder. You could certainly have turned it on for him and kept the sound low enough so as not to greatly disturb the others.

Young Guest

Dear Mrs. Post: While on our vacation, we took a young friend of my daughter's with us. The girls are 14 and 15. En route, the friend saw a dog she couldn't resist and bought it to take home. I did not approve but as she had her own money there was nothing I felt I could do. The dog not only ruined our car but now her mother is telling everyone that I was to blame for allowing the child to bring the dog home. I'd like your opinion.

Answer: Since the child was in your care, I do think you should have asked her if she were sure her mother would approve, and if she seemed in doubt you should have insisted that she telephone her mother for permission.

Older Wedding Party

Dear Mrs. Post: I'm in my forties, and so is the groom-to-be. The best man will be past forty and my father who is approaching seventy, is giving me away. Would it be out of place to have the fourteen-year-old daughter of my fiance as my maid of honor?

Answer: Although not conventional, I see no objection to it. In fact, I think it a lovely gesture for you to make to your new daughter.

New Midtown Terminal Opens in New York City

New York, Dec. 15 (AP)—The commuters' dream became a reality at midnight last night with the official opening of the elaborate $24,000,000 Midtown Bus Terminal.

A minute later the first bus started for Newark, N. J., and points south and at 12:14 a. m. the first incoming bus let off its passengers at one of the lower ramps of the four-story building.

During the day officials of New York and New Jersey attended gala dedication ceremonies while thousands of sightseers swarmed through the block-long structure.

First to buy a ticket was Cmero Caton of Queens who said he made a specialty of being "Mr. First" at civic affairs.

During the dedication, Governor Alfred E. Driscoll of New Jersey said the terminal was a good example of what could be accomplished through interstate cooperation.

He said New York and New Jersey make up "one important metropolitan area."

Joseph M. Byrne, vice chairman of the Port of New York Authority which built the terminal, said both New York and New Jersey stand to benefit immeasurably from the building.

He said it will relieve midtown Manhattan of the "costly and dangerous movement of huge intercity buses" and provide commuters from New Jersey with "comfortable, convenient and time-saving accommodations."

Hoover to Make Address

New York, Dec. 15 (AP)—Former President Herbert Hoover will make a special radio address on "Our National Policies in This Crisis" next Wednesday night over the facilities of the Mutual Broadcasting System. Mr. Hoover will talk from 8 to 8:30 p. m. (EST). Mr. Hoover's office said earlier this week that it had received some 1,000 letters asking the former chief executive's views on the current international situation.

Calls for Prayers

New York, Dec. 15 (AP)—Prayers by Protestants on Sunday, Dec. 31, for "a peace which is the fruit of righteousness" were called for yesterday. The Rt. Rev. Henry Knox Sherrill, ranking Episcopal bishop and president of the newly-formed National Council of Churches of Christ in the U. S. A., issued the call. The council embraces 31,000 members of 25 Protestant and eastern orthodox church groups.

State Republican Chairman Calls for Defense Cooperation

New York, N. Y., Dec. 14—Republican organizations throughout the state were urged today by William L. Pfeiffer, chairman of the New York Republican State Committee, to extend wholehearted cooperation to Civilian Defense authorities.

Pfeiffer announced he had sent letters to county chairmen, vice-chairmen and presidents of Republican clubs urging full cooperation "in this hour of decision."

He suggested that in many instances, county and local Republican headquarters might be suitable for first aid stations, air raid shelters, storage of medical supplies and other Civilian Defense requirements.

Also, Pfeiffer urged that the organizations assist in recruiting manpower for air raid warden corps, auxiliary police and firemen and other needs.

"We have more than 18,000 committeemen and committeewomen alone who have demonstrated their public-spiritedness in their communities. In addition, club members and active party workers number more than 150,000 throughout the state.

"These people and the rank and file Republican voters will respond to any appeal for assistance on the Civilian Defense front," Pfeiffer said.

Look To G.O.P. Leadership

In his letter to chairmen and club presidents, Pfeiffer declared the people are looking to the Republican party for leadership today.

"They know that Governor Dewey and other foresighted Republicans saw years ago the dangers of bungling in Korea," he said.

Pointing out that Governor Dewey took the initiative in setting up the homefront Civilian Defense under General Lucius D. Clay, he reminded that "local cooperation and support is vital to the success of the plan."

"I know," he added, "that a vast number of party leaders throughout the state are active in various capacities in their Civilian Defense units. I urge all Republicans to do likewise."

Pfeiffer also sent a letter to General Clay advising the State Civilian Defense chief of the action.

A number of local people attended the card party Monday night at the Plattekill Grange Hall sponsored by the Plattekill Fire Dept.

One Lost, Another Gained

Block Island, R. I., Dec. 15 (AP)—This island of 706 population lost its lone doctor yesterday—but it is getting a new one today, thanks to a news story. Dr. Henry Hatton of Baldwin, Long Island, who has practiced 40 years there and at Richmond Hill, said he will fly to the island today to establish a practice there. Dr. Lorenzo Orlando, who came here two years ago from Hackensack, N. J., to succeed the late Dr. Charles Perry, took a boat from the island yesterday. He will establish a practice on the mainland.

So You Have the Jitters?

Editor, The Freeman,

Read this message clear to the end—don't skip one word.

"It is a gloomy moment in history. Not for many years—not in a lifetime of most men who read this—has there been so much grave apprehension; never has the future seemed so incalculable as at this time. In our own country there is universal commercial prostration and panic, and thousands of our poorest fellow-citizens are turned out against the approaching winter without employment, and without the prospect of it.

"In France the political caldron seethes and bubbles with uncertainty; Russia hangs, as usual, like a cloud, dark and silent, upon the horizon of Europe; while all the energies, resources and influences of the British Empire are sorely tried, and are yet to be tried more sorely, in coping with the vast and deadly disturbed relations in China.

"It is a solemn moment, and no man can feel an indifference—which, happily, no man pretends to feel—in the issue of events.

"Of our own troubles (in the U.S.A.) no man can see the end. They are, fortunately, as yet mainly commercial; and if we are only to lose money, and by painful poverty to be taught wisdom—the wisdom of honor, of faith, of sympathy and of charity—no man need seriously despair. And yet the very haste to be rich, which is the occasion of this widespread calamity, has also tended to destroy the moral forces with which we are to resist and subdue the calamity."

That quotation is 93 years old. It appeared in Harpers Weekly October 10, 1857.

Amazed? Why? The leaves turn green every spring. The small streams rush to the sea. History makes carbon copies of itself. There's nothing new about jitters. People have had them, will have them again. People have recovered from them, will recover again . . . Knowing that your fear is not original is one of the best ways to get rid of it.

FOR RESULTS — ADVERTISE IN THE FREEMAN

daughter. But the result was that, whereas only a few thousand persons who had attended her concerts had known that she was not a good singer, her father broadcast the bad news all over the world. Now everybody knows it, thanks to Harry S. Truman. She can never live that down.

This young woman's career has been a minor scandal for a long time. One night the Associated Press wire began a review which politely hinted that Miss Truman's voice was not up to the professional standard. Then the story broke and an excited service message said: "Bust this, bust this, bust this. Sub coming."

The substitute item was a discreet compromise.

On Nov. 11, following Margaret's performance in Springfield, Mass., Harley Rudkin, of the Springfield News, wrote that her voice was not up to the standard of the concert stage and "would probably be more at home within the smaller confines of the family parlor."

Mr Rudkin said Margaret could not stay on pitch, which was one of Hume's observations, and that "the basic requirements for big-time singing do not seem to be among Miss Truman's equipment." He moved to the back of the hall, seeking better perspective. From there he went to the balcony and he wound up his research verifying something he already knew, namely "that the acoustics of the auditorium are excellent."

The letter insulting the marines at a time of tragic sacrifice by that magnificent corps of patriots is another written in this series, and on the very day that the Hume letter became public, Congressman Herbert, of New Orleans, received a missive which would have aroused public disgust except that the Hume letter topped it.

Truman simply is not a gentleman. His threat to unman Hume—and that was the plain intent of his language—reflected the nature of a mucker who never can rise above his ordained station. This is not abusive comment but sober appraisal of the man who publicly insulted Mrs. Strom Thurmond in the 1948 inaugural parade and threatened to maim a citizen who had withheld from his daughter praise which she did not deserve.

Flier Escapes Death

Coudersport, Pa., Dec. 15 (AP)—An air force sergeant narrowly escaped death near here yesterday when his plane crashed while attempting a takeoff from a farm field. State Police Cpl. Earl Moore said Sgt. John J. Eschmann, 20, of St. Albans, N. Y., suffered a fractured right leg and lacerations of the face and right hand in the crash. He was admitted to Potter County Memorial Hospital where his condition was reported good.

The BANKER'S STORY

WHEN WOMEN COULDN'T HAVE A BANK ACCOUNT!

Banking privileges came slowly to women.... Not until April 7, 1848, could a New York State woman have a bank account in her own name. Yet the word "Money" itself derives from "Moneta"—the Greek Goddess of Finance.

Today women are listed equally with men as our depositors. In fact, probably more deposits are made by women than men. In this day and age, we believe everyone is entitled to and should save. It is a privilege that should become a habit . . . a habit that you will be glad you formed in the years to come. Save a little each week out of your pay.

"It is a solemn moment, and no man can feel an indifference—which, happily, no man pretends to feel—in the issue of events.

"Of our own troubles (in the U.S.A.) no man can see the end. They are, fortunately, as yet mainly commercial; and if we are only to lose money, and by painful poverty to be taught wisdom—the wisdom of honor, of faith, of sympathy and of charity—no man need seriously despair. And yet the very haste to be rich, which is the occasion of this widespread calamity, has also tended to destroy the moral forces with which we are to resist and subdue the calamity."

That quotation is 93 years old. It appeared in Harpers Weekly October 10, 1857.

Amazed? Why? The leaves turn green every spring. The small streams rush to the sea. History makes carbon copies of itself. There's nothing new about jitters. People have had them, will have them again. People have recovered from them, will recover again . . . Knowing that your fear is not original is one of the best ways to get rid of it.

daughter. But the result was that, whereas only a few thousand persons who had attended her concerts had known that she was not a good singer, her father broadcast the bad news all over the world. Now everybody knows it, thanks to Harry S. Truman. She can never live that down.

This young woman's career has been a minor scandal for a long time. One night the Associated Press wire began a review which politely hinted that Miss Truman's voice was not up to the professional standard. Then the story broke and an excited service message said: "Bust this, bust this, bust this. Sub coming."

The substitute item was a discreet compromise.

On Nov. 11, following Margaret's performance in Springfield, Mass., Harley Rudkin, of the Springfield News, wrote that her voice was not up to the standard of the concert stage and "would probably be more at home within the smaller confines of the family parlor."

Mr Rudkin said Margaret could not stay on pitch, which was one of Hume's observations, and that "the basic requirements for big-time singing do not seem to be among Miss Truman's equipment." He moved to the back of the hall, seeking better perspective. From there he went to the balcony and he wound up his research verifying something he already knew, namely "that the acoustics of the auditorium are excellent."

The letter insulting the marines at a time of tragic sacrifice by that magnificent corps of patriots is another written in this series, and on the very day that the Hume letter became public, Congressman Herbert, of New Orleans, received a missive which would have aroused public disgust except that the Hume letter topped it.

Truman simply is not a gentleman. His threat to unman Hume—and that was the plain intent of his language—reflected the nature of a mucker who never can rise above his ordained station. This is not abusive comment but sober appraisal of the man who publicly insulted Mrs. Strom Thurmond in the 1948 inaugural parade and threatened to maim a citizen who had withheld from his daughter praise which she did not deserve.

The BANKER'S STORY

WHEN WOMEN COULDN'T HAVE A BANK ACCOUNT!

Banking privileges came slowly to women.... Not until April 7, 1848, could a New York State woman have a bank account in her own name. Yet the word "Money" itself derives from "Moneta"—the Greek Goddess of Finance.

Today women are listed equally with men as our depositors. In fact, probably more deposits are made by women than men. In this day and age, we believe everyone is entitled to and should save. It is a privilege that should become a habit . . . a habit that you will be glad you formed in the years to come. Save a little each week out of your pay.

Hearing Set Jan. 4 On Thruway Span Tarrytown-Nyack

New City, N. Y., Dec. 15 (AP)—A War Department hearing on the State Thruway Commission's application for permission to bridge the Hudson river between Tarrytown and South Nyack has been set for Jan. 4.

Albert H. Fay, chairman of the Tappan Zee Civic Association told his executive committee yesterday that the hearing would be held in the afternoon in New York city (at the Maritime Associates Office, 80 Broad St.)

The association has protested the proposed location of the three-and-a-quarter mile crossing of the Tappan Zee, one of the widest areas of the river.

Fay said the map filed with the War Department by the Thruway Commission was vague as to the location of the approaches. The map showed, however, that the approaches would cut through the residential section of South Nyack, he said.

Would Lose Assessment

Opponents of the bridge location have asserted that the village would lose $2,000,000 worth of assessed valuation if the six-lane highway approach to the bridge passes through South Nyack's center.

The bridge plans are for a 1,000-foot span over the main channel of the Hudson and causeways linking the span to the shores.

Fay said that the map shows the causeway on the Rockland county side making a sweeping curve of about 45 degrees so that it would strike the heart of South Nyack instead of heading into a rural area in a straight line.

The executive committee called a mass meeting of protest at Nyack High School tomorrow night.

The committee said opponents of the bridge across the river in Tarrytown have called a similar meeting for Sunday at Washington Irving High School.

Crash Is Averted On L. I. Railroad; Riders in Panic

Valley Stream, N. Y., Dec. 15 (AP)—Scores of passengers in a train of the wreck-plagued Long Island Railroad were thrown into a panic yesterday when an oncoming train stopped just 75 feet short of a collision.

Remembering the Thanksgiving eve crash that took 78 lives, they stampeded toward the rear with cries of "let's get out of here." Nobody was reported injured.

A railroad announcement later that the oncoming train was travelling at less than 15 miles an hour did not lessen the excitement of the moment.

The passengers were in an eight-car Rockaway Park to Brooklyn train standing at the Valley Stream station.

Through the front door window of the subway-type first car, they saw the other train approaching on the same track, bound from New York to Long Beach.

As the first car passengers raced for the rear, the conductor of the standing train waved a red flag from the window and the motorman sounded a series of sharp whistle blasts which warned the oncoming train.

The blasts also created excitement among rear car passengers who could not see the oncoming train.

The railroad attributed the two trains getting onto the same track to a switching error and said the towerman was being "held out of service" pending an investigation.

The first Welland Canal between Lake Ontario and Lake Erie was opened in 1829.

Alecca Settlement Is Made in Court

An action brought by Mary Alecca, 167 North street, against The Hutton Company, North street brick manufacturers, which was commenced in Supreme Court Thursday was settled shortly before noon today and the jury excused until Monday at 10 o'clock. Mrs. Alecca brought an action to recover $100,000 for the death of her husband, Charles Alecca, captain of a barge owned by the brick company. Mr. Alecca was drowned in New York city on February 27, 1948.

Cashin & Ewig with Thomas A. McDonald of New York, appeared for plaintiff and Arthur A. Ames of Poughkeepsie and Edward A. Sgandell of New York appeared for the defendant.

Opening Is Delayed

Court was delayed in opening due to difficulty of jurors reaching court by reason of snow and slippery roads and it was not until near noon that the settlement was announced by Justice Roscoe V. Elsworth, presiding justice.

Counsel for Mrs. Mary Alecca, 167 North street, yesterday claimed that the Hutton Company, local brick manufacturers, whom she is suing for $100,000 had not provided safe means of boarding and leaving a company brick barge when her husband, Charles Alecca, barge captain, drowned near a Brooklyn dock Feb. 27, 1948.

Defense counsel in the case, which opened before Supreme Court Justice Roscoe V. Elsworth yesterday afternoon, contended that the plaintiff's counsel is speculating as to what happened on the night in question. They contended the barge was properly equipped and that no request had been made for extra equipment.

Mrs. Alecca Called

Among first witnesses called were Mrs. Alecca, who testified that she had last seen her husband in New York about a week before he was believed to have fallen into Newtown creek in the Greenpoint section of Brooklyn, and John F. Lewis, of Brooklyn, captain of a barge docked near that of the Hutton company.

Attorney Arthur B. Ewig, of Cashin & Ewig, who opened the plaintiff's case, said that Alecca had made his last trip from Kingston early in December and the barge was first tied up at a dock in the Hudson river at New York. It was moved shortly before the mishap to the Brooklyn dock.

Thomas A. McDonald, of New York, appears with Cashin & Ewig for the plaintiff and Edward A. Shandell, of New York, appears with Arthur E. Ames, of Poughkeepsie, for the brick company.

Plaintiff's counsel claims the Newtown creek, where the barge was docked, had a bottom of mud and silt, that at low tide a loaded barge was not afloat and that barges tended to pull away from docks during such conditions.

Witness Lewis testified that he had permitted Alecca to take a plank from the deck of the barge next to the William Hutton, and that soon after it was feared that Alecca was missing, the plank was found in the water not far from the barge.

Quarters Inspected

Lewis said he and others inspected quarters on the Hutton barge and there Lewis had seen Alecca's work clothes and noted that his other clothes were missing late in the morning of the mishap.

It was indicated that actual circumstances at the time of the drowning are not known, but it is believed that Alecca had attempted to board the barge at about 3 a. m. on Feb. 27, 1948. He was missing for some time and a coat was found near the barge before authorities came upon the body.

Mother of Seven

Mrs. Alecca testified that she is the mother of seven children, four of which are under 21 years old. She testified as to her husband's earnings and income from some of the children.

Among exhibits entered for the plaintiff was a report of the Chief Medical Examiner of the Borough of Brooklyn, which said in his opinion that death was due to submerging, and which was read to the jury by Attorney Ewig. There was no external evidence of injury, it said.

eastern occupation zone come under this vague heading).

'Pistol at Our Heads'

The Communist death law when it was given its first parliamentary reading last Wednesday was described by a spokesman of the West German government as "putting a pistol at our head after asking us to talk about peace." East German Prime Minister Otto Grotewohl only a few weeks before had asked West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer to open negotiations on unification of Germany.

Hundreds of thousands of Germans in Allied sectors of Berlin now will hardly dare to go into Soviet-occupied territory any more until they had some assurance they would be exempted from the law.

Stage Team Leases Port Ewen Night Club

Mrs. Mary Saccoman, 66 Roosevelt avenue, said today that she had leased the former Coq D'Or property, more recently Giulsiano's south oof Port Ewen, to two "show people" from New York for use as a night club.

The two, known as McKay and Newton, plan to open about Jan. 1 or shortly thereafter, and renovations are currently in progress. Details of the transaction were completed about a month ago, Mrs. Saccoman said.

The place is to be known as The Covered Wagon Wheel, will be operated western style and will include square dancing. The new proprietors of the place are musicians, Mrs. Saccoman said.

Once Too Often

Somerville, N. J., Dec. 15 (AP)—An egg store near here ran out of hen fruit, once too often. Some customers were turned away five times in two weeks. Yesterday, the customers—government agents of the alcohol tax unit—raided the place and found a 500-gallon illicit still and thousands of gallons of mash. Five New Yorkers were charged with illegally operating a still.

Farm Bureau Tries

Edwin Hawes, Jr., Wharton, Tex., Farm Bureau member and longtime Democrat.

"Farmers should not and must not cast off their friends."

The resolution was tabled after Charles B. Shuman of Sullivan, Ill., president of the Illinois Federation, objected that it was "unnecessary because through the year it has been left to our officers and directors to express such thanks."

J. B. Butler of Chatsworth, Calif., a Republican, made the motion to table, which carried by an overwhelming voice vote. Before this, Hugh Agnew of South Carolina had suggested deletion of the names of Presidents Roosevelt and Truman from the resolution.

"We must remember our federation has a Republican president," said Hawes. Kline is a Republican. Hawes added: "It's a matter of common knowledge that he was supposed to be secretary of agriculture in Tom Dewey's cabinet."

Alecca Settlement Is Made in Court

An action brought by Mary Alecca, 167 North street, against The Hutton Company, North street brick manufacturers, which was commenced in Supreme Court Thursday was settled shortly before noon today and the jury excused until Monday at 10 o'clock. Mrs. Alecca brought an action to recover $100,000 for the death of her husband, Charles Alecca, captain of a barge owned by the brick company. Mr. Alecca was drowned in New York city on February 27, 1948.

Cashin & Ewig with Thomas A. McDonald of New York, appeared for plaintiff and Arthur A. Ames of Poughkeepsie and Edward A. Sgandell of New York appeared for the defendant.

Opening Is Delayed

Court was delayed in opening due to difficulty of jurors reaching court by reason of snow and slippery roads and it was not until near noon that the settlement was announced by Justice Roscoe V. Elsworth, presiding justice.

Counsel for Mrs. Mary Alecca, 167 North street, yesterday claimed that the Hutton Company, local brick manufacturers, whom she is suing for $100,000 had not provided safe means of boarding and leaving a company brick barge when her husband, Charles Alecca, barge captain, drowned near a Brooklyn dock Feb. 27, 1948.

Defense counsel in the case, which opened before Supreme Court Justice Roscoe V. Elsworth yesterday afternoon, contended that the plaintiff's counsel is speculating as to what happened on the night in question. They contended the barge was properly equipped and that no request had been made for extra equipment.

Mrs. Alecca Called

Among first witnesses called were Mrs. Alecca, who testified that she had last seen her husband in New York about a week before he was believed to have fallen into Newtown creek in the Greenpoint section of Brooklyn, and John F. Lewis, of Brooklyn, captain of a barge docked near that of the Hutton company.

Attorney Arthur B. Ewig, of Cashin & Ewig, who opened the plaintiff's case, said that Alecca had made his last trip from Kingston early in December and the barge was first tied up at a dock in the Hudson river at New York. It was moved shortly before the mishap to the Brooklyn dock.

Thomas A. McDonald, of New York, appears with Cashin & Ewig for the plaintiff and Edward A. Shandell, of New York, appears with Arthur E. Ames, of Poughkeepsie, for the brick company.

Plaintiff's counsel claims the Newtown creek, where the barge was docked, had a bottom of mud and silt, that at low tide a loaded barge was not afloat and that barges tended to pull away from docks during such conditions.

Witness Lewis testified that he had permitted Alecca to take a plank from the deck of the barge next to the William Hutton, and that soon after it was feared that Alecca was missing, the plank was found in the water not far from the barge.

Quarters Inspected

Lewis said he and others inspected quarters on the Hutton barge and there Lewis had seen Alecca's work clothes and noted that his other clothes were missing late in the morning of the mishap.

It was indicated that actual circumstances at the time of the drowning are not known, but it is believed that Alecca had attempted to board the barge at about 3 a. m. on Feb. 27, 1948. He was missing for some time and a coat was found near the barge before authorities came upon the body.

Mother of Seven

Mrs. Alecca testified that she is the mother of seven children, four of which are under 21 years old. She testified as to her husband's earnings and income from some of the children.

Among exhibits entered for the plaintiff was a report of the Chief Medical Examiner of the Borough of Brooklyn, which said in his opinion that death was due to submerging, and which was read to the jury by Attorney Ewig. There was no external evidence of injury, it said.

Beheading Faces

eastern occupation zone come under this vague heading).

All Germans who "make contemptuous the movement for the preservation or peace, or stir hate against participants in the fight for peace, or persecute them" (opponents of Communist "peace fighters").

'Pistol at Our Heads'

The Communist death law when it was given its first parliamentary reading last Wednesday was described by a spokesman of the West German government as "putting a pistol at our head after asking us to talk about peace." East German Prime Minister Otto Grotewohl only a few weeks before had asked West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer to open negotiations on unification of Germany.

Hundreds of thousands of Germans in Allied sectors of Berlin now will hardly dare to go into Soviet-occupied territory any more until they had some assurance they would be exempted from the law.

MOVIE MAC—Looking as much like General MacArthur as the general himself, Robert Barrat, veteran actor, strikes a typical pose while portraying the general in a Hollywood movie. Barrat studies newsreels of MacArthur to get realism into his part.

Stage Team Leases Port Ewen Night Club

Mrs. Mary Saccoman, 66 Roosevelt avenue, said today that she had leased the former Coq D'Or property, more recently Giuisiano's south oof Port Ewen, to two "show people" from New York for use as a night club.

The two, known as McKay and Newton, plan to open about Jan. 1 or shortly thereafter, and renovations are currently in progress. Details of the transaction were completed about a month ago, Mrs. Saccoman said.

The place is to be known as The Covered Wagon Wheel, will be operated western style and will include square dancing. The new proprietors of the place are musicians, Mrs. Saccoman said.

Once Too Often

Somerville, N. J., Dec. 15 (AP)—An egg store near here ran out of hen fruit once too often. Some customers were turned away five times in two weeks. Yesterday, the customers—government agents of the alcohol tax unit—raided the place and found a 500-gallon illicit still and thousands of gallons of mash. Five New Yorkers were charged with illegally operating a still.

On the basis of 1935-39 being 100, Canada's cost-of-living index was only 79.1 in 1913.

Farm Bureau Tries

Edwin Hawes, Jr., Wharton, Tex., Farm Bureau member and long-time Democrat.

"Farmers should not and must not cast off their friends."

The resolution was tabled after Charles B. Shuman of Sullivan, Ill., president of the Illinois Federation, objected that it was "unnecessary because through the year it has been left to our officers and directors to express such thanks."

J. B. Butler of Chatsworth, Calif., a Republican, made the motion to table, which carried by an overwhelming voice vote. Before this, Hugh Agnew of South Carolina had suggested deletion of the names of Presidents Roosevelt and Truman from the resolution.

"We must remember our federation has a Republican president," said Hawes. Kline is a Republican. Hawes added: "It's a matter of common knowledge that he was supposed to be secretary of agriculture in Tom Dewey's cabinet."

Will Talk Wages, So Bus Strike Threat Off

New York, Dec. 15 (AP)—The latest in a series of strike threats against nine privately-owned bus companies in the city has been lifted.

A strike had been scheduled for last midnight by the CIO Transport Workers Union, but it was called off when the companies agreed to bargain on wages.

A strike would have effected 3,000,000 daily riders at the height of the Christmas shopping rush.

Union President Michael J. Quill telegraphed late yesterday to Theodore W. Kheel, impartial chairman of the transit industry, that the 8,200 busmen involved would not strike last night.

The union's position was set forth in a statement by Matthew Guinan, president of Local 100, who said:

"We are accepting the assurances of Mr. Kheel that the companies will now sit down to bargaining in good faith. On that assurance the strike deadline has been completely removed from the picture and the union is ready now to negotiate until the contract expires at midnight Dec. 31."

The private bus companies have contended they cannot raise wages unless the city allows them to boost fares.

Re-settling of agricultural DPs, due to transport and housing difficulties, is expected to present the greatest problem.

Asks Salary Increases

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 15 (AP)—An A.F.L. union wants Governor Dewey to take immediate steps to raise salaries of state employes before Congress enacts wage controls. Dewey should call a special session of the Legislature, if necessary, a union official said yesterday. The request was contained in a telegram to the governor from John Di Lallo, executive secretary, State Council of Civil Service Employes No. 30, American Federation of State, County and Municipal employes. The union claims to represent 10,000 of the 65,000 state workers, plus 15,000 other governmental, employes in New York.

Ask That Education Be Given Before Entry Into Service

New York, Dec. 15 (AP)—Two major New York state educational groups favor calling up youths for military training, but both want measures providing for some college training before their induction.

In New York city the Board of Regents, governing body of the state educational system, yesterday urged a federal manpower authority with state provision for a three-year high school course so students could get one year of college before going in the army.

Credits for a regular four-year high school course could be accrued by using the summer vacation periods for continued study, the board said.

At Hamilton, N. Y., a special committee of the 95-member State Association of Colleges and Universities agreed on basic military training for all 18-year-olds, with further service coming after completion of high school or college.

The college presidents disagreed with James B. Conant, president of Harvard, who has urged induction of all 18-year-olds without exception.

Call Plan 'Shortsighted'

The committee termed Conant's plan "shortsighted, because it would interrupt that very flow of broadly and specially trained manpower whose contributions are quite as important to the military as to the recruitment of our strength on other fronts."

Consultants to the committee were Dr. Edmund E. Day, chancellor emeritus of Cornell University; Provost Donald W. Gilbert of the University of Rochester, and President Everett N. Case of Colgate University.

The educators' meeting upstate discussed the impact of enrollment drops to meet expected requirements of the armed services.

A Syracuse University official said he feared a reduction of 3,000 students at that school next fall. Syracuse enrollment currently totals about 10,700.

Will Enroll in January

Because of the wartime emergency, several colleges—including Ithaca and Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute—announced they will enroll a mid-term class in January.

The college group was headed by John G. Adams, president of Hofstra College. Other members of the committee, all college presidents, were:

Want Training Periods

The Board of Regents ordered the State Education Department to formulate a plan designed to release college students for brief periods of basic military training.

This plan, the board said, would aallow such students to intersperse their education with military training and enable the colleges and universities to survive the loss of men to the armed forces.

The board added that the state's 120 colleges, universities and technical schools, as well as the statewide system of elementary and high schools—both public and private—are "ready to provide all possible assistance in this crucial period."

Air Lift

With the First Marine Air Wing in Korea (AP)—Capt. Frank Presley and Lt. Don Hough were assigned the task of fixing a shrapnel hole in the roof of the headquarters building. They clambered to the roof of the three-story building through the ragged hole. Then, when the job was done, it was discovered that there wasn't a ladder in the area tall enough to reach their perch. They were targets for enemy snipers. Lt. Col. J. Frank Cleo, squadron commander, ordered a marine helicopter to "air lift" the pair from the patched roof.

Smokes Before Food

London (AP)—Britain's little people would rather trim the food bill than deny themselves those cigarettes if a salary cut struck. Mass Observation, a commercial outfit that polls the British public on timly topics, got that result in a poll of middle class folk on this gloomy line: "Given a one-tenth reduction in income, where would you make your cuts?" Ignoring a dismal country parson who replied "across my throat," the figures showed that 32 per cent of those queried would take the first hitch in the food bill. But only 22 per cent would cut down on smokes.

Oberlin Institute, now Oberlin College, opened in 1833 with 44 students as the first completely co-educational college in the United States.

Gets Edison Medal

New York, Dec. 15 (AP)—Otto B. Blackwell, of Plandome, N. Y., retired assistant vice-president of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, has been awarded the 1950 Edison Medal for his "pioneer contributions to the art of telephone transmission." The award was announced last night by H. H. Henline, secretary of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers. The medal will be presented Jan. 24 during the five-day annual winter meeting of the institute.

Boxcars Would Be Needed

Boxcars stretching from New York to within 50 miles of Chicago would be needed to carry the weight displaced by the 400 ships of the U.N. naval force in Korean waters.

NOTICE OF SALE

STATE OF NEW YORK, SUPREME COURT, ULSTER COUNTY—KINGSTON REALTY COMPANY, INC., Plaintiff, against CAMP PINELAND, INC., HERBERT GINSBERG, ISIDORE STURMAN, GEORGE NODELMAN, LOUIS OFFENBERG, CYRIL H. ADAMS, GIMBEL BROTHERS, INC., BEN KRAMER, VIOLA B. BABCOCK, doing business under the assumed name and style of BABCOCK FARMS DAIRY, WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION BOARD of the State of New York, THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK, "JOHN DOE" and "RICHARD ROE," the names of the last two defendants being fictitious, true names being unknown to plaintiff, parties intended being tenants in possession of portions of said premises under foreclosure, Defendants.

In pursuance of a judgment of foreclosure and sale, duly made and entered in the above entitled action and bearing date the 11th day of August, 1950, I, the undersigned Referee in said judgment named, will sell at public auction at the Front Door of the Ulster County Court House, in the City of Kingston, New York, on the 23rd day of January, 1951, at 12 o'clock noon on that day, the premises directed by said judgment to be sold and therein described as follows:

PARCEL NO. 1

ALL THAT TRACT OR PARCEL OF LAND, situate in the Town of Hurley, County of Ulster and State of New York, lying in the bounds of Lot Number Four in the subdivision of Great Lot Number Five in the first allotment of the Hurley Patentee Woods, and being the northwesterly half of all that certain lot of land conveyed by William A. Teal and Catherine, his wife, to George Francis Von Beck, by deed dated November 20, 1846, and recorded in the Ulster County Clerk's Office in Book of Deeds No. 71, on page 664, the whole of said lot being described in said deed as follows:

BEGINNING at the southeasterly corner of Alex. Middah's lot at a pine tree and stump, and thence south fifty seven degrees and fifteen minutes west along the bounds of said Middah and J. D. Ackert fifteen chains and twenty-five links to a stake and stones on the bounds of Cornelius Van Leuven, thence along the bounds of said Van Leuven south thirty-two degrees and forty-five minutes east thirty-one chains and forty-five links to a stake and stones; thence north twenty-four degrees east fifteen chains and ninety-three links along the bounds of said William A. Teal and Edward O'Neil to a stake and stones, thence north twenty-nine degrees and thirty minutes west about thirty-one chains along the bounds of said Von Beck, Van Aken and others to the place of beginning. Containing about forty-nine acres. The intention of this instrument is to convey one-half of the above described property, containing about 25 acres more or less, and being the north-westerly half of the above described premises.

AND being the same premises described in a deed from Jennie M. Holmes to John Frohner, dated October 18, 1909 and recorded in Ulster County Clerk's Office on May 18th, 1910, in Book of Deeds No. 424 at page 563.

PARCEL NO. 2

ALL THAT TRACT OR PARCEL OF LAND situate in the Town of Hurley, County of Ulster and State of New York, consisting of two lots and designated on a map made by John L. Whigham of the subdivision of Lot No. 5 in great lot No. 5 of the first allotment of the Hurley Patentee Woods by lots Nos. 6 and 7 and bounded as follows:

BEGINNING at the bounds of Lot No. 6 in great lot No. 5 of the first allotment at a stake and heap of stones in the corner of subdivision lot No. 5 and runs thence as the magnetic needle pointed in the year 1797 along the bounds of lot No. 6 in great lot No. 5 north 31 degrees and ten minutes west thirteen chains and fifty links to subdivision lot No. 8 at a stake and stones, thence along said subdivision lot No. 8 south 48 degrees west about 17 chains to a heap of stones at the bounds of lot No. 4 in great lot No. 5 aforesaid, and thence along the same north as the magnetic needle pointed in the year 1797 south thirty-three degrees and five minutes east thirteen chains and fifty links to subdivision lot No. 5 as designated on the said Whigham map and thence along the same north forty-eight degrees east about sixteen chains and fifty links to the place of beginning and containing about twenty-two and one-half acres of land more or less.

The foregoing being the same property as conveyed to the late Edward Conroy by deed of William J. Turck and wife, dated 24th January, 1880, and recorded book 221 at page 111, January 29th, 1880.

Ask That Education Be Given Before Entry Into Service

New York, Dec. 15 (AP)—Two major New York state educational groups favor calling up youths for military training, but both want measures providing for some college training before their induction.

In New York city the Board of Regents, governing body of the state educational system, yesterday urged a federal manpower authority with state provision for a three-year high school course so students could get one year of college before going in the army.

Credits for a regular four-year high school course could be accrued by using the summer vacation periods for continued study, the board said.

At Hamilton, N. Y., a special committee of the 95-member State Association of Colleges and Universities agreed on basic military training for all 18-year-olds, with further service coming after completion of high school or college.

The college presidents disagreed with James B. Conant, president of Harvard, who has urged induction of all 18-year-olds without exception.

Call Plan 'Shortsighted'

The committee termed Conant's plan "shortsighted, because it would interrupt that very flow of broadly and specially trained manpower whose contributions are quite as important to the military as to the recruitment of our strength on other fronts."

Consultants to the committee were Dr. Edmund E. Day, chancellor emeritus of Cornell University; Provost Donald W. Gilbert of the University of Rochester, and President Everett N. Case of Colgate University.

The educators' meeting upstate discussed the impact of enrollment drops to meet expected requirements of the armed services.

A Syracuse University official said he feared a reduction of 3,000 students at that school next fall. Syracuse enrollment currently totals about 10,700.

Will Enroll in January

Because of the wartime emergency, several colleges—including Ithaca and Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute—announced they will enroll a mid-term class in January.

The college group was headed by John G. Adams, president of Hofstra College. Other members of the committee, all college presidents, were:

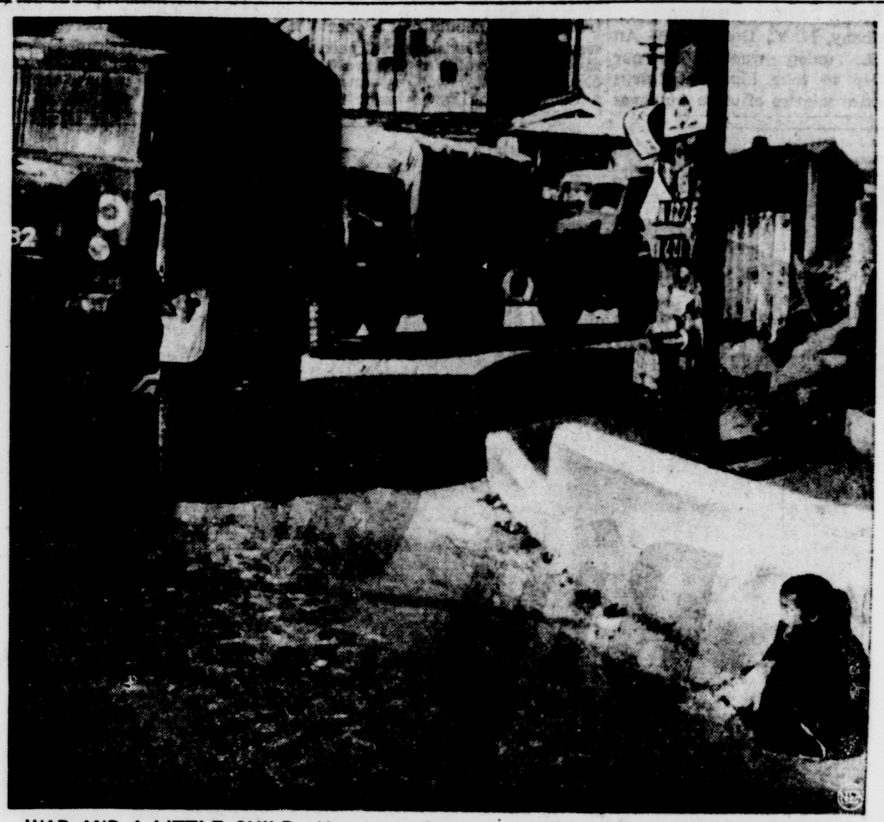
Want Training Periods

The Board of Regents ordered the State Education Department to formulate a plan designed to release college students for brief periods of basic military training.

This plan, the board said, would aallow such students to intersperse their education with military training and enable the colleges and universities to survive the loss of men to the armed forces.

The board added that the state's 120 colleges, universities and technical schools, as well as the statewide system of elementary and high schools—both public and private—are "ready to provide all possible assistance in this crucial period."



WAR AND A LITTLE CHILD—Almost unnoticed by retreating UN troops in heavy trucks rumbling south, a little, half-frozen Korean child huddles in a bridge gutter to escape the bitter cold. (NEA-Acme Telephoto by Staff Photographer Ed Hoffman.)

Air Lift

With the First Marine Air Wing in Korea (AP)—Capt. Frank Presley and Lt. Don Hough were assigned the task of fixing a shrapnel hole in the roof of the headquarters building. They clambered to the roof of the three-story building through the ragged hole. Then, when the job was done, it was discovered that there wasn't a ladder in the area tall enough to reach their perch. They were targets for enemy snipers. Lt. Col. J. Frank Cleo, squadron commander, ordered a marine helicopter to "air lift" the pair from the patched roof.

Smokes Before Food

London (AP)—Britain's little people would rather trim the food bill than deny themselves those cigarettes if a salary cut struck. Mass Observation, a commercial outfit that polls the British public on timly topics, got that result in a poll of middle class folk on this gloomy line: "Given a one-tenth reduction in income, where would you make your cuts?" Ignoring a dismal country parson who replied "across my throat," the figures showed that 32 per cent of those queried would take the first hitch in the food bill. But only 22 per cent would cut down on smokes.

Oberlin Institute, now Oberlin College, opened in 1833 with 44 students as the first completely co-educational college in the United States.

Gets Edison Medal

New York, Dec. 15 (AP)—Otto B. Blackwell, of Plandome, N. Y., retired assistant vice-president of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, has been awarded the 1950 Edison Medal for his "pioneer contributions to the art of telephone transmission." The award was announced last night by H. H. Henline, secretary of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers. The medal will be presented Jan. 24 during the five-day annual winter meeting of the institute.

NOTICE OF SALE

STATE OF NEW YORK, SUPREME COURT, ULSTER COUNTY—KINGSTON REALTY COMPANY, INC., Plaintiff, against CAMP PINELAND, INC., HERBERT GINSBERG, ISIDORE STURMAN, GEORGE NODELMAN, LOUIS OFFENBERG, CYRIL H. ADAMS, GIMBEL BROTHERS, INC., BEN KRAMER, VIOLA B. BABCOCK, doing business under the assumed name and style of BABCOCK FARMS DAIRY, WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION BOARD of the State of New York, THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK, "JOHN DOE" and "RICHARD ROE," the names of the last two defendants being fictitious, true names being unknown to plaintiff, parties intended being tenants in possession of portions of said premises under foreclosure, Defendants.

In pursuance of a judgment of foreclosure and sale, duly made and entered in the above entitled action and bearing date the 11th day of August, 1950, I, the undersigned Referee in said judgment named, will sell at public auction at the Front Door of the Ulster County Court House, in the City of Kingston, New York, on the 23rd day of January, 1951, at 12 o'clock noon on that day, the premises directed by said judgment to be sold and therein described as follows:

PARCEL NO. 1

ALL THAT TRACT OR PARCEL OF LAND, situate in the Town of Hurley, County of Ulster and State of New York, lying in the bounds of Lot Number Four in the subdivision of Great Lot Number Five in the first allotment of the Hurley Patentee Woods, and being the northwesterly half of all that certain lot of land conveyed by William A. Teal and Catherine, his wife, to George Francis Von Beck, by deed dated November 20, 1846, and recorded in the Ulster County Clerk's Office in Book of Deeds No. 71, on page 664, the whole of said lot being described in said deed as follows:

BEGINNING at the southeasterly corner of Alex. Middah's lot at a pine tree and stump, and thence south fifty seven degrees and fifteen minutes west along the bounds of said Middah and J. D. Ackert fifteen chains and twenty-five links to a stake and stones on the bounds of Cornelius Van Leuven, thence along the bounds of said Van Leuven south thirty-two degrees and forty-five minutes east twenty-one chains and forty-five links to a stake and stones; thence north twenty-four degrees east fifteen chains and ninety-three links along the bounds of said William A. Teal and Edward O'Neil to a stake and stones, thence north twenty-nine degrees and thirty minutes west about thirty-one chains along the bounds of said Von Beck, Van Aken and others to the place of beginning. Containing about forty-nine acres. The intention of this instrument is to convey one-half of the above described property, containing about 25 acres more or less, and being the north-westerly half of the above described premises.

AND being the same premises described in a deed from Jennie M. Holmes to John Frohner, dated October 18, 1909 and recorded in Ulster County Clerk's Office on May 18th, 1910, in Book of Deeds No. 424 at page 563.

PARCEL NO. 2

ALL THAT TRACT OR PARCEL OF LAND situate in the Town of Hurley, County of Ulster and State of New York, consisting of two lots and designated on a map made by John L. Whigham of the subdivision of Lot No. 5 in great lot No. 5 of the first allotment of the Hurley Patentee Woods by lots Nos. 6 and 7 and bounded as follows:

BEGINNING at the bounds of Lot No. 6 in great lot No. 5 of the first allotment at a stake and heap of stones in the corner of subdivision lot No. 5 and runs thence as the magnetic needle pointed in the year 1797 along the bounds of lot No. 6 in great lot No. 5 north 31 degrees and ten minutes west thirteen chains and fifty links to subdivision lot No. 8 at a stake and stones, thence along said subdivision lot No. 8 south 48 degrees west about 17 chains to a heap of stones at the bounds of lot No. 4 in great lot No. 5 aforesaid, and thence along the same north as the magnetic needle pointed in the year 1797 south thirty-three degrees and five minutes east thirteen chains and fifty links to subdivision lot No. 5 as designated on the said Whigham map and thence along the same north forty-eight degrees east about sixteen chains and fifty links to the place of beginning and containing about twenty-two and one-half acres of land more or less.

The foregoing being the same property as conveyed to the late Edward Conroy by deed of William J. Turck and wife, dated 24th January, 1880, and recorded book 221 at page 111, January 29th, 1880.

Says Years Needed

Los Angeles, Dec. 15 (AP)—It will take us two to three years to match Russia's military strength, says Paul G. Hoffman, former ECA administrator. In a speech yesterday, Hoffman said Russia has 70 divisions, compared to our five now, but that "Stalin is afraid to send the bulk of his armies out of Europe because he fears a revolution at home."

Will Seek Divorec

Hollywood, Dec. 15 (AP) — Married at 18, divorced before she's 19. That, from the star herself, is the prospect before Elizabeth Taylor. The British-born beauty, who won't be 19 until next Feb. 27, said yesterday she will file a divorce suit against hotel heir Nick Hilton early in the New Year.

Rash Bid Is Crux Of Canadian Quiz

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

"You seem to have a sympathetic ear and a broad shoulder," begins an Ottawa reader, "so I am writing to you about my little tragedy. My partner was set 1400 points the other day, and I'm still trying to decide whether he is a dangerous lunatic whether I am a bigger fool than he is, or whether it was just tough luck all around.

"I held the North cards and decided that my partner must be void in spades and must have something like seven solid hearts for his bid. If so, five hearts could not be badly hurt, and might even be made. I didn't think I had a defense against four spades, but was willing to defend against five. As you can see, my impressions could hardly have been more mistaken.

"My partner played this hand just as optimistically as he had bid it. He ruffed the second round of spades, led a diamond to the ace, led the nine of hearts (which East covered with the jack), finessed the queen of hearts, and then led out the ace of trumps! He had been hoping to drop the doubleton king-jack of hearts.

"The rest of the play was a nightmare. I think my partner could have lost more tricks if he had tried hard enough, but it would have been difficult. Careful play would have held the loss to 800 points, which would have been bad enough.

"Do I get sympathy, or just a good horse laugh?"

That depends. My Canadian friend left out the most important part of the story. Was his partner a complete stranger, or had they played together before?

South's vulnerable bid of three hearts against two bidding opponents and with a passing partner was as rash a bid as I have seen in many a year. No reasonable person makes a bid like that. Hence, South must be an unreasonable person—the sort of player who makes really weird bids from time to time.

If North knew much about his partner, he must have known that South was rash and undependable. In that case, North gets precious little sympathy. If North and South were playing together for the first time, North gets a little sympathy. I also admire his courage. There are precious few strangers that he should trust like that! I'd have passed four spades and taken my chances on beating it.

As a matter of fact, four spades would have been set. North leads the nine of hearts, East (dummy) covers with the jack, and South wins with the queen. South then returns a club. If West draws trumps, he must lose two clubs. If West tries to ruff a club in dummy, North gets another chance to lead hearts, making West ruff. West then loses control of the trump suit.

Incidentally, that South player is quite a lad! I didn't realize that people still made such bids after all these years.

ARNOLD HARRIS, JR.

Arnold Harris, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Harris of 65 Van Buren street, is a member of the U. S. Army stationed at Fort Bliss, Tex. He is a former art club leader of the Kingston Boys Club.

Donnelly Promoted

A recent boost to a captain's grade was received by Thomas E. Donnelly, formerly of Kingston, while serving an overseas tour of duty with the U. S. Air Force in the Philippines.

The captain, who is a pilot, has been with the U. S. Air Force since 1938. He was stationed in Hawaii and India from 1939 through 1944, and participated in the Berlin Airlift in 1949. He is a holder of a Distinguished Flying Cross, Air Medal with one oak leaf cluster, and the Presidential Unit Citation.

Capt. Donnelly arrived in the Philippines in October this year and is now assigned as base flight operations officer for the 6200th Air Base Group, Philippines Command (Air Force) and 13th Air Force on Clark Air Force Base in Central Luzon.

He is the son of Mrs. Michael E. Donnelly, Hoboken, N. J., and the husband of Mrs. Wenonah Donnelly of Rosamond, Calif.

William J. Davis, lieutenant junior grade, in the navy is spending a holiday leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Davis of Stone Ridge. He has completed a course in electronics at the naval base on Treasure Island, San Francisco, Calif., and will report next to Bremerton, Washington, for service abroad an aircraft carrier.

Eugene A. DuMond of 111 Emerson street, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford DuMond, enlisted in the navy on December 13 and has gone to Newport, R. I., for training.

Juice for Servicemen

Columbus, O., Dec. 15 (AP)—The Ohio Women's Christian Temperance union has a truckload of assorted fruit juices for servicemen overseas who don't like beer. The W.C.T.U. collected the juice, $3,000 worth, after various breweries reported they were donating beer to servicemen in Korea. Mrs. Esther H. Madsen, Ohio W.C.T.U. president, said she felt sure many young men in uniform prefer fruit juice to beer. Mrs. Madsen is asking the armed forces to pay costs of shipping the juice overseas. But she said the W.C.T.U. would pay if necessary.

Early Applications Needed for Baskets

Captain Charles Brant of the Volunteers of America requests that all persons needing Christmas baskets get their applications in by letter before Monday, Dec. 18. These applications should include not only name and address, but the number of persons in the family as well as the names and ages of all children, he said. This is necessary because all names must be checked with the Welfare Department for their worthiness and to prevent duplication. With Christmas coming on Monday this year, it must be done early.

If the children are entitled to attend the Christmas party in the recreation center, they will have time to receive their cards of admittance before the party. As these go through mail, applications must be received early. It is the desire of the Volunteers to get the baskets out on Saturday, Dec. 23. To do this, the fowl and groceries to go into them must be purchased early in the week. So all applications must be in by Monday.

Service Is Resumed

New York, Dec. 15 (AP)—Service was back to normal on the Hudson tubes early today following a short-lived but crippling "sick-call" strike yesterday. Officials of the Hudson and Manhattan Railroad, operators of the lines, said the wild-cat walkout was settled last night at a meeting in Jersey City when the strikers agreed they "felt well enough to return to work." The strike, which started just before the evening rush hour, apparently came without warning.

Caroline Riel's Troth Announced

CAROLINE A. RIEL

Mr. and Mrs. Elwood W. Riel, 8 Gedney Way, Newburgh, announce the engagement of their daughter, Caroline Almira, to Carroll E. Word, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Word, Lexington, Ky.

Miss Riel is the granddaughter of the late Rev. George M. Cranston, former pastor of the Clinton Avenue Methodist Church. She is a graduate of Newburgh Free Academy, and is a senior at the University of Kentucky, Lexington. She is a member of Phi Beta, national honorary fraternity of music, speech, and drama, and is a piano major in the public school curriculum.

Mr. Word was graduated from the Miami-Edison High School, Miami. He served in the U. S. Navy for three years, attending Missouri State College, and Rice Institute. Following his discharge from the navy he continued his studies at the University of Kentucky, where he was graduated in June, 1950. He is now working for his doctor's degree in theology at the University of Southern California.

The wedding will be held in the summer, and the couple will make their home in Los Angeles.

Miss Joan Carey Is Given Shower

A surprise bridal shower was held Monday in honor of Miss Joan Carey, 63 Newkirk avenue, at the home of Mrs. Donald Dugan, 304 Clinton avenue. Mrs. Dugan and Mrs. Thomas Fisher were the hostesses. Decorations, centered about the traditional shower umbrella, were in yellow and green, while gifts were placed in a large, decorated basket.

Miss Carey will become the bride of William Mauterstock, Meadowside, Saugerties, Sunday at 2 p. m. in St. Mary's Church.

Attending the shower were the Mmes. Clarence Carey, Eli Baxter of Beacon, Richard Carey, Ronald O'Neil, Christopher Dugan, Joseph Dugan, Henry Fisher, Sr., Henry Fisher, Jr., Olive Hepner, Lottie Swift, Mary Metheia, Gus Hof, Frank Piecznyske, and the Misses Shirley Carey, Caroline and Frances Piecznyske, Kathleen Klarick and Rita Carey of Beacon.

Marine League Plans Ball for January 20

At a regular meeting, Thursday night, plans were made for the fifth annual ball of Ulster Detachment, Marine Corps League, to be held Saturday, Jan. 20, in the Kingston Elks Club on Fair street. Seated from left are John Ray Mayone, past commandant of the detachment, who is general chairman of the ball; Albert J. Melville, present commandant and Paul Bonesteel, adjutant paymaster. Standing from left are Harold E. Macholdt, past commandant; Eugene Barkow, past commandant and Joseph Naccarato, junior vice commandant. (Freeman Photo)

Ex-Marines Anxious To Aid Korea Men By Successful Ball

It is the intention of Ulster Detachment, Marine Corps League, to make this year's fifth annual ball the most profitable in the history of the organization with the end in view of being able to do more for wounded U. S. Marines returning from Korea.

"We'd like to raise more money," said Commandant Albert J. Melville, "in order to send away a larger percentage of the proceeds to marines in hospitals." Rehabilitation work is one of the main purposes of the Marine Corps League, he emphasized in addressing last night's meeting in the V.F.W. home on Delaware avenue.

John Ray Mayone, general chairman of this year's ball, which is to be held Saturday, Jan. 20, in the Kingston Elks Club on Fair street, instead of at the New York State Armory, said that Don Pierson would play for the social event, starting at 9 p. m., and that a New York floor show would be furnished by the Jimmy Daley theatrical agency at 10 o'clock.

Mayone said the shift was made to the Elks hall on invitation of Exalted Ruler James G. Connelly, a past commander of Kingston Post, 150, American Legion, who endorses the welfare program of the Marine League. Connelly issued the invitation through Commandant Melville, also an Elk.

Refreshment facilities at the club will be at the disposal of the marines for the evening, ready to serve patrons of the ball.

Serving on the committee of arrangements under Chairman Mayone are Edward J. Esposito, Harold E. Macholdt, Frank Cronk, James E. Cave, Augustus Brinnier, Jr., Eugene Barkow, Paul Bonesteel, Sheldon F. O'Rourke, Joseph Naccarato, John Lang, Thomas J. Finnerty, G. Albert Nussbaum, Albert J. Rose, Robert S. Badian, Stephen Cramer, Wendell Scherer.

Garden Club Gives Book

The Ulster Garden Club of Kingston has just presented the newly published book, "All About House Plants," by Montague Free of Hyde Park to the public libraries of Saugerties, Woodstock, Stone Ridge, New Paltz and Kingston. Mr. Free gave a lecture before the Ulster Garden Club here early in November.

New Paltz Chorus Plans to Present 'Song of Christmas'

The New Paltz College-Community Mixed Chorus will sing the "Song of Christmas" in the ever-popular Fred Waring style at their annual winter concert, December 18, in the college auditorium. The program will also feature the Men's Glee Club of the college. Both groups are under the direction of Robert J. Strotheide of the college music faculty.

During the "Song of Christmas" the well-loved story of the Nativity will be read by Frederick Steup, college sophomore, assisted by Ralph Kiff, Lois Mallory, and Richard Burhans. More than 20 Christmas carols and songs will be interwoven with the story, presented in four-hand piano accompaniment, chimes, and vocal solos. Soloists will include Clothilde Kartsen and Rose Masoian, sopranos; Muriel Barrie, contralto; Richard Baker, tenor; Charles Karsten, baritone; and Robert Litt and Robert Crosby. Mrs. Ralph Buchanan and Jeanette Braithwaite will be the accompanists.

Other selections to be given by the chorus will include the "Hallelujah Chorus" from Handel's "Messiah," "O Rejoice Ye Christians Loudly," a Bach chorale; "Still as the Night" by Carl Bohm; the spiritual "Oh Yes! Oh Yes;" and "The Gay Ranchero" by Hoppin.

Five varied numbers to be offered by the Men's Glee Club will include West's "A Warrior Bold" the folk song "Cockles and Mussels"; "Sailors Song" by Grieg; "My Homeland" by Oley Speaks; and the familiar sea chantey, "What Shall We do With the Drunken Sailor."

The public is invited to attend this first seasonal appearance of the College-Community Mixed Chorus. The program will begin promptly at 8:15 p. m.

No marriages are permitted between the members of a true clan, such marriages being regarded as incest.

Caroline Riel's Troth Announced

CAROLINE A. RIEL

Mr. and Mrs. Elwood W. Riel, 8 Gedney Way, Newburgh, announce the engagement of their daughter, Caroline Almira, to Carroll E. Word, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Word, Lexington, Ky.

Miss Riel is the granddaughter of the late Rev. George M. Cranston, former pastor of the Clinton Avenue Methodist Church. She is a graduate of Newburgh Free Academy, and is a senior at the University of Kentucky, Lexington. She is a member of Phi Beta, national honorary fraternity of music, speech, and drama, and is a piano major in the public school curriculum.

Mr. Word was graduated from the Miami-Edison High School, Miami. He served in the U. S. Navy for three years, attending Missouri State College, and Rice Institute. Following his discharge from the navy he continued his studies at the University of Kentucky, where he was graduated in June, 1950. He is now working for his doctor's degree in theology at the University of Southern California.

The wedding will be held in the summer, and the couple will make their home in Los Angeles.

Miss Joan Carey Is Given Shower

A surprise bridal shower was held Monday in honor of Miss Joan Carey, 63 Newkirk avenue, at the home of Mrs. Donald Dugan, 304 Clinton avenue. Mrs. Dugan and Mrs. Thomas Fisher were the hostesses. Decorations, centered about the traditional shower umbrella, were in yellow and green, while gifts were placed in a large, decorated basket.

Miss Carey will become the bride of William Mauterstock, Meadowside, Saugerties, Sunday at 2 p. m. in St. Mary's Church.

Attending the shower were the Mmes. Clarence Carey, Eli Baxter of Beacon, Richard Carey, Ronald O'Neil, Christopher Dugan, Joseph Dugan, Henry Fisher, Sr., Henry Fisher, Jr., Olive Hepner, Lottie Swift, Mary Metheia, Gus Hof, Frank Piecznyske, and the Misses Shirley Carey, Caroline and Frances Piecznyske, Kathleen Klarick and Rita Carey of Beacon.

Club Notices

Service Club

The Christmas supper meeting of the Service Club of the Rondout Presbyterian Wurts Street Baptist Church will be held Thursday in Fellowship Hall at 6 p. m. Miss Grace Terwilliger will lead the devotional service, and members will assist in decorating the sanctuary and preparing Christmas baskets. Mrs. Charles Terwilliger will be in charge of the supper assisted by Mrs. Raymond Van Valkenburgh, Mrs. Oscar Goodsell, Mrs. Richard Heffernan, and Miss Isabel Madden.

Ahavath Israel

The Sisterhood of Ahavath Israel will sponsor a dance and entertainment Saturday from 9 p. m. to 1 a. m. in the Sky Room of the B'nai B'rith Lodge, Wall street. The public is invited.

B'nai B'rith

B'nai B'rith Chapter has announced that no more surgical dressings will be made for cancer patients until after the holidays when notice will be given. However, the group will still collect linens and men's shirts. Those with donations should call 2427.

Marine League Plans Ball for January 20

At a regular meeting, Thursday night, plans were made for the fifth annual ball of Ulster Detachment, Marine Corps League, to be held Saturday, Jan. 20, in the Kingston Elks Club on Fair street. Seated from left are John Ray Mayone, past commandant of the detachment, who is general chairman of the ball; Albert J. Melville, present commandant and Paul Bonesteel, adjutant paymaster. Standing from left are Harold E. Macholdt, past commandant; Eugene Barkow, past commandant and Joseph Naccarato, junior vice commandant. (Freeman Photo)

Ex-Marines Anxious To Aid Korea Men By Successful Ball

It is the intention of Ulster Detachment, Marine Corps League, to make this year's fifth annual ball the most profitable in the history of the organization with the end in view of being able to do more for wounded U. S. Marines returning from Korea.

"We'd like to raise more money," said Commandant Albert J. Melville, "in order to send away a larger percentage of the proceeds to marines in hospitals." Rehabilitation work is one of the main purposes of the Marine Corps League, he emphasized in addressing last night's meeting in the V.F.W. home on Delaware avenue.

John Ray Mayone, general chairman of this year's ball, which is to be held Saturday, Jan. 20, in the Kingston Elks Club on Fair street, instead of at the New York State Armory, said that Don Pierson would play for the social event, starting at 9 p. m., and that a New York floor show would be furnished by the Jimmy Daley theatrical agency at 10 o'clock.

Breakfast Before the Storm

'Dear Ruth' Proves High School Seniors Are Able Thespians

Kingston High School seniors proved themselves adept at handling the intricacies of audience and stage as well as books last night, as curtains rang up on their annual production, "Dear Ruth" from the Wilkins family's first quiet moments at breakfast through the maelstrom of Ruth's dual romance and engagement the cast captivated and held their audience's interest.

As the familiar story of Miriam's letter writing, and Ruth's romance with the handsome and impetuous Lt. William Seawright unfolded, seniors demonstrated they could not only learn their lines, but could also act them.

Meanwhile Neil Poley as Albert Kummer, Ruth's middle aged and faintly supercilious fiance, nearly "stole the show." But the disgruntled Albert was not the cast's only bright light. From Dora, the Wilkins' maid, played by Irene Miller, to Harold Klobbermeyer, another of Miriam's letter writing friends, the cast proved exceptionally able.

Little Sister

Eleanor Lawrence, cast in the role of little sister Miriam Wilkins, seemed capable of engendering fear, awe, and exasperation in any older sister's breast, while Barbara Forey as the much-wronged Ruth proved a highly talented leading lady. Josephine DeMicco as the mother was equally charming whether vague or scheming, while Judge Wilkins, the father, played by Roger Yerry did amazingly well with the adult role of the partially impartial, and tolerant Judge.

Plaudits go also to William Schroeder as the impetuous, romantic and poetry writing Lieutenant Seawright, who quite understandingly sweeps Ruth out of the arms of that staid banker, Albert. Paul Koster as Sgt. Chuck Vincent, a member of the lieutenant's bomber crew, and Marilyn Werbalowsky as Martha, the lieutenant's younger sister, add a competent touch to the play's light-hearted aura of romance.

Band Tribute

Long before the curtain opens on that memorable Saturday morning toward the end of the war in the Wilkins' living room, the Kingston High School Orchestra, under the direction of Harry Berchin, lulled the auditorium audience into an appreciative mood. Band selections included the "Star Spangled Banner," "Mozart Fantasie," Christmas selections, the "Gold and Silver Waltz," the "Prayer from Hansel and Gretel," "Wagner Opera Excerpts," "La Traviata" selections, and "Entrance of the Sirdar" from "Caucasian Sketches."

Miss Madeline Tarrant was production director, and Theron L. Culver was business manager.

Britain Is Snowbound

London, Dec. 15 (AP)—Deep snow and the coldest December weather in 13 years crippled rail lines and blocked highway travel in much of the British Isles today. In Somerset, gales whipped up drifts 15 to 20 feet deep. The Automobile Association warned that most roads in England and Wales "are snowbound and extremely dangerous."

Flatbush Church Plans Special Movie Sunday

"The Child of Bethlehem," a motion picture presentation of the Christmas story, will be presented Sunday, Dec. 17, at 7:30 p. m., at the Flatbush Reformed Church. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Services at the church for Sunday, as announced by the Rev. Herbert Killinder, pastor, follow: Church school, 9:45 a. m., church worship service, 10:45 a. m.

40 Days to Celebrate

London, Dec. 15 (AP)—Parliament adjourned today for a 40-day Christmas recess. Deputy Prime Minister Herbert Morrison set Jan. 23 as the date for the lawmakers to return to work, but promised to recall them immediately if an emergency arises.

'Dear Ruth' Proves High School Seniors Are Able Thespians

Kingston High School seniors proved themselves adept at handling the intricacies of audience and stage as well as books last night, as curtains rang up on their annual production, "Dear Ruth" from the Wilkins family's first quiet moments at breakfast through the maelstrom of Ruth's dual romance and engagement the cast captivated and held their audience's interest.

As the familiar story of Miriam's letter writing, and Ruth's romance with the handsome and impetuous Lt. William Seawright unfolded, seniors demonstrated they could not only learn their lines, but could also act them.

Meanwhile Neil Poley as Albert Kummer, Ruth's middle aged and faintly supercilious fiance, nearly "stole the show." But the disgruntled Albert was not the cast's only bright light. From Dora, the Wilkins' maid, played by Irene Miller, to Harold Klobbermeyer, another of Miriam's letter writing friends, the cast proved exceptionally able.

Little Sister

Eleanor Lawrence, cast in the role of little sister Miriam Wilkins, seemed capable of engendering fear, awe, and exasperation in any older sister's breast, while Barbara Forey as the much-wronged Ruth proved a highly talented leading lady. Josephine DeMicco as the mother was equally charming whether vague or scheming, while Judge Wilkins, the father, played by Roger Yerry did amazingly well with the adult role of the partially impartial, and tolerant Judge.

Plaudits go also to William Schroeder as the impetuous, romantic and poetry writing Lieutenant Seawright, who quite understandingly sweeps Ruth out of the arms of that staid banker, Albert. Paul Koster as Sgt. Chuck Vincent, a member of the lieutenant's bomber crew, and Marilyn Werbalowsky as Martha, the lieutenant's younger sister, add a competent touch to the play's light-hearted aura of romance.

Band Tribute

Long before the curtain opens on that memorable Saturday morning toward the end of the war in the Wilkins' living room, the Kingston High School Orchestra, under the direction of Harry Berchin, lulled the auditorium audience into an appreciative mood. Band selections included the "Star Spangled Banner," "Mozart Fantasie," Christmas selections, the "Gold and Silver Waltz," the "Prayer from Hansel and Gretel," "Wagner Opera Excerpts," "La Traviata" selections, and "Entrance of the Sirdar" from "Caucasian Sketches."

Miss Madeline Tarrant was production director, and Theron L. Culver was business manager.

Britain Is Snowbound

London, Dec. 15 (AP)—Deep snow and the coldest December weather in 13 years crippled rail lines and blocked highway travel in much of the British Isles today. In Somerset, gales whipped up drifts 15 to 25 feet deep. The Automobile Association warned that most roads in England and Wales "are snowbound and extremely dangerous."

Flatbush Church Plans Special Movie Sunday

"The Child of Bethlehem," a motion picture presentation of the Christmas story, will be presented Sunday, Dec. 17, at 7:30 p. m., at the Flatbush Reformed Church. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Services at the church for Sunday, as announced by the Rev. Herbert Killinder, pastor, follow: Church school, 9:45 a. m., church worship service, 10:45 a. m.

40 Days to Celebrate

London, Dec. 15 (AP)—Parliament adjourned today for a 40-day Christmas recess. Deputy Prime Minister Herbert Morrison set Jan. 23 as the date for the lawmakers to return to work, but promised to recall them immediately if an emergency arises.

Jones Named Tourney Manager For KBA's 15th Championships

Working Committees Appointed by Bruhn

Ad Jones, past president and life member of the Kingston Bowling Association, has been named Tournament Manager for the 1951 city championships, President Louis G. Bruhn, K.B.A. president, announced today.

The designation of a Tournament Manager is being used for the first time by the K.B.A. in accordance with American Bowling Congress suggestions, the president added.

Jones will be assisted by various committees named by the executive committee of the K.B.A. and is expected to make a serious bid to better the all-time entry total of 108 teams set last year.

The 15th annual city championships, embracing leagues from Kingston, Rosendale and New Paltz, will be held from February 10 to February 18, inclusize, at the Ruzzo Bowlatorium and Ferraro Bowlodrome.

The tournament will be run in three divisions, without handicap, while the Hattstrom System will be used for the all-events.

Chairmen for the various tournament committees will be:

Entries—Charles J. Tiano, Mannie Colao, Jake Blinder.

Averages—Bill Kuehn, Joe Magnino.

Prize List—Louis G. Bruhn, William Kuehn, Eltinge S. Auchmoody.

Score Keepers—Tony LaRocca, Joe Messinger.

Scores and Posting—Mitzie Arlensky, Bud Evans.

Running Scores—George Robinson.

Floor Committee — Louis G. Bruhn and all members of K.B.A. executive committee.

Entries for the tournament close at midnight, January 31, with averages official as of January 13. Entry blanks will be available through league secretaries early next week.

Plan Free Tennis Clinics

Plans for a series of weekly indoor tennis clinics and play periods for adults at the New York State Armory were announced today by Joe Scott and the Recreation Department.

According to tentative plans, the public will be invited to free instruction periods and tennis nights on Wednesdays and Sundays, starting in early January.

Ed Lacey, veteran county star and former doubles champion, and Irving "Laddie" Wheatcroft, English-born tennis star, will be the instructors. Wheatcroft, a newcomer to local tennis circles, won the 1950 county doubles crown with Joe Scott.

Tennis will be played on Wednesdays from 6 to 11 p. m. and on Sundays from 10:30 a. m. to 5 p. m. Persons desiring additional information are asked to call 6047.

American Leaguers Shatter or Tie 67 Records During 1950 Season

Chicago, Dec. 15 (AP)—American League players shattered or tied 67 major and American League records during the 1950 baseball campaign.

Assaults on the record books became official today.

Boston's 20-4 win over St. Louis June 7, followed by a 29-4 victory over the Browns the next day helped the most to boost to 22 the assortment of major league marks cracked.

Sixteen players slammed 20 or more homers, a total tying a major league record.

Afield, New York's Phil Rizzuto added two league marks—288 chances at shortstop without a bobble, and another of 58 straight errorless games at that position. Detroit's Hoot Evers hoisted another with only one error in 341 chances in the outfield.

Gerry Priddy, another Detroit ace, assisted in 150 double plays—a new major league high for second sackers.

Co-RBI Leaders

For the second successive season, co-champions in runs-batted-in were crowned. Vern Stephens and rookie Walt Dropo, both of Boston, each drove in 144. Neither could break the stalemate and bang across a run in the final game against New York.

Stephens and another teammate. Ted Williams, tied in 1949, and again against the Yankees in the season's finale, neither could come through to snap a 159 tie.

Williams repeated as slugging champion with a .647 clip through 89 games on 334 times at bat and 216 total bases. New York's Johnny Mize was second with .595.

Third baseman Eddie Yost of Washington drew the most bases on balls, 141; Chicago's Gus Zernial struck out the most times, 110; and Bill Hitchcock of Philadelphia drove into 30 double plays, three more than Cleveland's Al Rosen.

Chandler Tempest Simmering Off

New York, Dec. 15 (AP)—The Chandler situation continued to simmer in baseball circles today as a four-man committee looked for a successor to A. B. Chandler as commissioner of baseball.

The committee, composed of two representatives each from the American and National Leagues, was named yesterday. No announcement is expected from them until the New York Baseball Writers dinner in February when the majors winter meeting is scheduled. In the meantime they will interview possible successors before making a recommendation.

Lou Perini, president of the Boston Braves, and Phil Wrigley, owner of the Chicago Cubs, are the National League representatives. Del Webb, vice president of the New York Yankees, and Ellis Ryan, president of the Cleveland Indians, represent the American League.

Harold Russell, national commander of Amvets, said his organization supports Clark Griffith, owner of the Washington Senators, in his attempt to renew Chandler's contract which expires May 1, 1952. On Monday, at St. Petersburg, Fla., the major voted, 9 to 7, not to renew the contract, a move followed by Chandler's declaration he will stay in office "to the bitter end."

Among the latest suggested as successors to Chandler are Frank J. Lausche, governor of Ohio, and Senator Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.). Lausche had no comment, but Senator Kefauver said he isn't interested.

Fazio, Ladewig All-Star Leaders

Chicago, Dec. 14 (AP)—Buzz Fazio of Detroit and Mrs. Marion Ladewig of Grand Rapids were leaders after first day's play in the National Individual match game bowling championships.

Fazio, however, held only a slight lead over the former champion Joe Wilman of Chicago. The Detroiter had a Peterson point total of 78.33 after eight matches today. This was only .31 better than Wilman. Fazio won 10 of his 16 games.

Mrs. Ladewig was well ahead of other women bowlers. She whitewashed all four of her opponents for a Peterson total of 40.21. Marge Skelton, Indianapolis, was in second place, 2.78 points behind Mrs. Ladewig. Miss Skelton won five, but lost three games.

Competition continues through Sunday, with both men and women engaging in four matches daily. The men roll four games and the women two. The Peterson point system gives the bowler one point for every 50 pins knocked down one point for every game won; a half point for a tie game and a half point if the bowler loses the majority of the games in a series but outtotals his opponent in pins.

Dec. 26th

On the day after Christmas,
And not at all strange,
Are the crowds flocking in
With their gifts to exchange.

Their socks are too large;
Their ties are too bright;
Their slippers are wrong;
Their shirts aren't right.

They have too many pencils;
Their books they have read,
Or have two of a kind
And wish something instead.

Now I have no gripe,
For I make a good living
From people who give
And keep giving and giving.

But if you are anxious
And eager to learn
How to give and be sure
Your gifts won't return.

For what it is worth —
The suggestion is mine,
— Nobody brings back
Their liquor or wine.

Jones Named Tourney Manager For KBA's 15th Championships

Working Committees Appointed by Bruhn

Ad Jones, past president and life member of the Kingston Bowling Association, has been named Tournament Manager for the 1951 city championships, President Louis G. Bruhn, K.B.A. president, announced today.

The designation of a Tournament Manager is being used for the first time by the K.B.A. in accordance with American Bowling Congress suggestions, the president added.

Jones will be assisted by various committees named by the executive committee of the K.B.A. and is expected to make a serious bid to better the all-time entry total of 108 teams set last year.

The 15th annual city championships, embracing leagues from Kingston, Rosendale and New Paltz, will be held from February 10 to February 18, inclusize, at the Ruzzo Bowlatorium and Ferraro Bowlodrome.

The tournament will be run in three divisions, without handicap, while the Hattstrom System will be used for the all-events.

Chairmen for the various tournament committees will be:

Entries—Charles J. Tiano, Mannie Colao, Jake Blinder.

Averages—Bill Kuehn, Joe Magnino.

Prize List—Louis G. Bruhn, William Kuehn, Eltinge S. Auchmoody.

Score Keepers—Tony LaRocca, Joe Messinger.

Scores and Posting—Mitzie Arlensky, Bud Evans.

Running Scores—George Robinson.

Floor Committee — Louis G. Bruhn and all members of K.B.A. executive committee.

Entries for the tournament close at midnight, January 31, with averages official as of January 13. Entry blanks will be available through league secretaries early next week.

Plan Free Tennis Clinics

Plans for a series of weekly indoor tennis clinics and play periods for adults at the New York State Armory were announced today by Joe Scott and the Recreation Department.

According to tentative plans, the public will be invited to free instruction periods and tennis nights on Wednesdays and Sundays, starting in early January.

Ed Lacey, veteran county star and former doubles champion, and Irving "Laddie" Wheatcroft, English-born tennis star, will be the instructors. Wheatcroft, a newcomer to local tennis circles, won the 1950 county doubles crown with Joe Scott.

Tennis will be played on Wednesdays from 6 to 11 p. m. and on Sundays from 10:30 a. m. to 5 p. m. Persons desiring additional information are asked to call 6047.

American Leaguers Shatter or Tie 67 Records During 1950 Season

Chicago, Dec. 15 (AP)—American League players shattered or tied 67 major and American League records during the 1950 baseball campaign.

Assaults on the record books became official today.

Boston's 20-4 win over St. Louis June 7, followed by a 29-4 victory over the Browns the next day helped the most to boost to 22 the assortment of major league marks cracked.

Thirteen A.L. records were set, topped by a grand total of 973 home runs—90 more than the old mark of 883 booked in 1940.

Sixteen players slammed 20 or more homers, a total tying a major league record.

Afield, New York's Phil Rizzuto added two league marks—288 chances at shortstop without a bobble, and another of 58 straight errorless games at that position. Detroit's Hoot Evers hoisted another with only one error in 341 chances in the outfield.

Gerry Priddy, another Detroit ace, assisted in 150 double plays—a new major league high for second sackers.

Co-RBI Leaders

For the second successive season, co-champions in runs-batted-in were crowned. Vern Stephens and rookie Walt Dropo, both of Boston, each drove in 144. Neither could break the stalemate and bang across a run in the final game against New York.

Stephens and another teammate. Ted Williams, tied in 1949, and again against the Yankees in the season's finale, neither could come through to snap a 159 tie.

A total of 11 players batted in more than 100 runs in 1950, six more than last year.

Williams repeated as slugging champion with a .647 clip through 89 games on 334 times at bat and 216 total bases. New York's Johnny Mize was second with .595.

Third baseman Eddie Yost of Washington drew the most bases on balls, 141; Chicago's Gus Zernial struck out the most times, 110; and Bill Hitchcock of Philadelphia drove into 30 double plays, three more than Cleveland's Al Rosen.

Chandler Tempest Simmering Off

New York, Dec. 15 (AP) — The Chandler situation continued to simmer in baseball circles today as a four-man committee looked for a successor to A. B. Chandler as commissioner of baseball.

The committee, composed of two representatives each from the American and National Leagues, was named yesterday. No announcement is expected from them until the New York Baseball Writers dinner in February when the majors winter meeting is scheduled. In the meantime they will interview possible successors before making a recommendation.

Lou Perini, president of the Boston Braves, and Phil Wrigley, owner of the Chicago Cubs, are the National League representatives. Del Webb, vice president of the New York Yankees, and Ellis Ryan, president of the Cleveland Indians, represent the American League.

Harold Russell, national commander of Amvets, said his organization supports Clark Griffith, owner of the Washington Senators, in his attempt to renew Chandler's contract which expires May 1, 1952. On Monday, at St. Petersburg, Fla., the major voted, 9 to 7, not to renew the contract, a move followed by Chandler's declaration he will stay in office "to the bitter end."

Among the latest suggested as successors to Chandler are Frank J. Lausche, governor of Ohio, and Senator Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.). Lausche had no comment, but Senator Kefauver said he isn't interested.

Fazio, Ladewig All-Star Leaders

Chicago, Dec. 14 (AP)—Buzz Fazio of Detroit and Mrs. Marion Ladewig of Grand Rapids were leaders after first day's play in the National Individual match game bowling championships.

Fazio, however, held only a slight lead over the former champion Joe Wilman of Chicago. The Detroiter had a Peterson point total of 78.33 after eight matches today. This was only .31 better than Wilman. Fazio won 10 of his 16 games.

Mrs. Ladewig was well ahead of other women bowlers. She whitewashed all four of her opponents for a Peterson total of 40.21. Marge Skelton, Indianapolis, was in second place, 2.78 points behind Mrs. Ladewig. Miss Skelton won five, but lost three games.

Competition continues through Sunday, with both men and women engaging in four matches daily. The men roll four games and the women two. The Peterson point system gives the bowler one point for every 50 pins knocked down one point for every game won; a half point for a tie game and a half point if the bowler loses the majority of the games in a series but outtotals his opponent in pins.

Maroon Vs. Beacon In DUSO Contest

Kingston High seeks to recover its winning touch against twice-beaten Beacon High tonight at the municipal auditorium, while three DUSO basketball hopefuls face stern tests in road engagements.

Poughkeepsie High, upset by Kingston, travels to Liberty where Wayne Mauer and company will be waiting. Newburgh Academy will put the fire and brimstone test to Monticello, recent conqueror of Kingston, while Fallsburg will probe Ellenville's armor at the Fallsburg court.

Middletown and Port Jervis will try to knock each other out in Port Jervis.

Beacon, a newcomer to the DUSO basketball fold, has dropped two straight decisive margins to Poughkeepsie and Fallsburg.

The probable starting lineups:

KINGSTON		BEACON

Officials: Al Roberts and Milt Kaufman.

Erdelatz Rewarded For Army Upset

Annapolis, Md., Dec. 15 (AP)—Coach Eddie Erdelatz piloted Navy to just three wins in nine starts this year in his first season of football coach at Annapolis.

But one of those victories was the great 14-2 upset of Army Dec. 2 in Philadelphia. That made it a good season from the Navy viewpoint.

Yesterday, the Navy tore up Erdelatz' old four year contract and gave him a Christmas present of a brand new five-year pact that will run through 1955.

"This merely reaffims our confidence in Eddie," Capt. Howard Caldwell, director of athletics, said in making the announcement.

Daylight Saving Time was first introduced by the Germans in 1916 when they turned back the clock to give them more daylight hours to fight World War 1.

John MacLellan's 278 New Individual High

Pounding solos of 248, 196 and 257, Johnny Ferraro rolled his fourth "700" of the season—701 to be exact in last night's Bowlodrome Major League firing.

"The Ace" shared honors with John MacLellan, who cracked 278 in his third game for a new individual single high. It bettered the previous record of 276 held by Lou Straley.

While Ferraro was murdering the pocket steadily, seven other keglers hit "600" or better and four team games of "1000" or better were recorded. Jones Dairy shot 1006-1012-2951 and Johnny's Drive-In had 1009-1017-2957.

Bowling

Team No. 6 took over undisputed possession of first place in the Freeman League, with a three-game sweep over No. 4, while No. 2 copped three and placed four of five top bowlers in last night's rolling on the Bowlatorium lanes.

Bob Felton sandwiched a 213 with 186 and 148 to roll top series of 547, two pins better than Dick Pearson's 545. F. Cashin shot 515; Frank Bruno shot 505; Craig Plough 206-498; Andy Campbell 489; Roland Post 487; Frank Martin 205-483 and Ferrell McElrath 480.

Eddie Propp led the Colonial Men's League with 220-171-195-586, while Murray Greene shot 203-200-574; Ed Koskie 206-557; Bill Murray 543; Harry Newman 200-517; Joe Ausanio 508; Al Heisman ditto; George Williams 505 and A. Cross 503.

Ten pins off the "500" mark, Sue Heins was tops in the Central Rec. Women's circuit with 155-183-152-490. Jessie Burnett and Norma Hornbeck tied with 461s, Jennie Spada had 451; Frances Van Buren 449; B. Cadden 441 and J. Osterhoudt 422.

Pinfall was good in the No-Can-Do League, Sam Turck's 569, with 201-178-190, pacing a series of 13 "500" triples. John Frederick had 201-562; J. Fatum 534; Stan Colvin 528; W. Pieper 522; Johnny Lowe 201-519; Orville Carney 517; Bill Mohr 514; Emil Boessneck 210-513; H. Kelder 512; Carl Lundquist 507; Frank Norman 601; W. Fatum 500.

Bea Arlensky's 445 was the best triple in the Sisterhood League, with five others going over the "400" mark. Shirley Bahl rallied after a 100 opener to finish with 438; Blanche Pekarsky shot 426; Sally Basch 414; Esther Naigles 409 and Sylvia Jacobs 404.

Top keglers in the Y Mercantile included F. Sarbacher with 557; Sam Hayes 531; Bill Hornbeck 528; John R. Wessel 494 and S. Rowland 480.

Moe Lazarowitz showed the way in the Commercial League with 169-181-211-561. Rowe posted 537; Diffley 210-536; Grimaldi 205-527; Dasher 526; Scheinvold 503; Freer 499.

The one "500" triple in the Matinee Club League went to one of the Evelyns, of course. This time it was E. Gross with 168-139-207-514. Evelyn Francis hit for 473; Marge Logan 464; Gertrude Hoyt 453.

"Red" Gorsline took over in the Jacobson Mixed wheel with 206-166-151-523. Leo Bechtold shot 482; Jake Chichelsky 469; Ken Glass 464; Jake Terpening 452; and Hap Rockwell 452.

Maroon Vs. Beacon In DUSO Contest

Kingston High seeks to recover its winning touch against twice-beaten Beacon High tonight at the municipal auditorium, while three DUSO basketball hopefuls face stern tests in road engagements.

Poughkeepsie High, upset by Kingston, travels to Liberty where Wayne Mauer and company will be waiting. Newburgh Academy will put the fire and brimstone test to Monticello, recent conqueror of Kingston, while Fallsburg will probe Ellenville's armor at the Fallsburg court.

Middletown and Port Jervis will try to knock each other out in Port Jervis.

Beacon, a newcomer to the DUSO basketball fold, has dropped two straight decisive margins to Poughkeepsie and Fallsburg.

The probable starting lineups:

KINGSTON		BEACON
23 Provenzano	Forward	Amich
18 Carpouzis	Forward	Korykora
27 Leonard	Center	Skipworth
29 Caruso	Guard	Pendell
28 Camp	Guard	Thorne

Kingston reserves. Koenig 19, Tiano 30, Hampton 25, Hooker 23, Schultz 26, Hinkley 32.

Officials: Al Roberts and Milt Kaufman.

Erdelatz Rewarded For Army Upset

Annapolis, Md., Dec. 15 (AP)—Coach Eddie Erdelatz piloted Navy to just three wins in nine starts this year in his first season of football coach at Annapolis.

But one of those victories was the great 14-2 upset of Army Dec. 2 in Philadelphia. That made it a good season from the Navy viewpoint.

Yesterday, the Navy tore up Erdelatz' old four year contract and gave him a Christmas present of a brand new five-year pact that will run through 1955.

"This merely reaffims our confidence in Eddie," Capt. Howard Caldwell, director of athletics, said in making the announcement.

Daylight Saving Time was first introduced by the Germans in 1916 when they turned back the clock to give them more daylight hours to fight World War 1.

John MacLellan's 278 New Individual High

Pounding solos of 248, 196 and 257, Johnny Ferraro rolled his fourth "700" of the season—701 to be exact in last night's Bowlodrome Major League firing.

"The Ace" shared honors with John MacLellan, who cracked 278 in his third game for a new individual single high. It bettered the previous record of 276 held by Lou Straley.

While Ferraro was murdering the pocket steadily, seven other keglers hit "600" or better and four team games of "1000" or better were recorded. Jones Dairy shot 1006-1012-2951 and Johnny's Drive-In had 1009-1017-2957.

Runnerup Ken Williams fashioned 248-225-632. Lou Guadagnola had 208-248-637; Bob Hanley 214-232-628; Clifton Quick 212-227-622; John MacLellan 278-621; Ad Jones 206-212-603.

Near-misses included Charlie Manfro 225-596; Charlie Grunenwald 207-205-595; "Hod" Spaulding 214-593; George Robinson 203-219-592.

Meade Withdraws Job Application

Miami, Fla., Dec. 15 (AP)—Jockey Don Meade took the Florida State Racing Commission off the hot seat yesterday by withdrawing his application to ride at Florida tracks.

The dapper little former riding great then announced he would ask the National Association of State Racing Commissioners to reconsider his case when it convenes here Jan. 21.

Meade won a probationary license from the Florida group last Saturday by a 3-1 vote, touching off a storm of protest throughout the racing world.

FAIR EXCHANGE—Six-foot four-inch Tony Lavelli teaches tiny Josephine Guido something about basketball. The opera star reciprocates with a singing lesson. Lavelli, the Yale All-America with the professional New York Knickerbockers, has the edge in learning. He's an accomplished musician, especially with the accordion, which the youngster also plays professionally.

SWIFTEST—City College of New York won the National Collegiate Athletic Association championship and the National Invitation Tournament at Madison Square Garden with the fast break. Irwin Dambrot, 5, passed out to Al Roth, 7, as Ed Warner, 8, streaked up court. Ed Roman, 6, and Floyd Lane, 9, broke up court. Jim Kelly, 34; Gene Melchiorre, 23, and Aaron Preece, extreme right, Bradley Braves upset in each tournament, were unable to prevent the execution of this particular maneuver.

COVER MAN—Ezzard Charles made Joe Louis cover winning a clear claim to the heavyweight title, but the aging ex-champion persisted in further demonstrating that he was the Hollow Shell of 1950.

Holds Record

"Life With Father," which ran over 3,200 performances on Broadway, holds the street's longevity record, followed by "Tobacco Road" with more than 3,150 performances.

Firemen to Discuss Defense on Dec. 19

Problems confronting the fire service in atomic defense operations will be discussed at an instruction session for firemen and others interested at the Myron J. Michael School at 8 p. m., Dec. 19.

Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy stressed that the State of New York is moving ahead with its program of civilian defense instruction for the fire service and announced that all persons interested are invited to the session.

Representatives from Greene, Columbia, Sullivan counties and the northen part of Dutchess county will attend.

The Lemonade Opera

"Chivalry" in the Middle Ages referred to fully armed and mounted fighting men but has come to mean "courtesy."

Lee Wins

Cleveland Coach Ridicules Odds Favoring Browns

Cleveland, Dec. 15 (AP)—Bettors may have established the Cleveland Browns as seven-point favorites over the New York Giants, but not Coach Paul Brown.

"It's ridiculous," he declared. "Why, the Giants beat us the other two times we played. And we gave it all we had each time."

"I'd sure like to know on what basis the points were spotted," he continued. "I thought for once we'd be the underdogs and the players feel like underdogs."

"We're going at it on the basis that we have everything to win and nothing to lose," he added.

The two clubs, tied with 10-2 records, meet here Sunday. At stake is the championship of the National Football League's American Conference. The winner meets the National Conference champ. That will be decided by a game between the Chicago Bears and Los Angeles.

The Giants' regular season wins over the Browns were by 6-0 and 17-13 scores. The shutout was the first ever scored against a Brown-coached high school, college or pro football team.

The Giants have held the Browns to a single touchdown, the other points in the second game resulting from field goals and a conversion by Lou Groza. The New Yorkers did that by ruining a passing attack which had been the wonder of the All-America Conference in each of the four years it existed.

In the first game, the Giants smothered receivers for quarterback Otto Graham's pitches. In the second, they rushed Graham so hard he didn't have time to spot targets.

Brown complained today that a frozen field and snow were cramping practice for his club and said, "I trust the same things are happening in New York."

The Giants work out today at the Polo Grounds in New York and then catch a train for Cleveland. They will work out here tomorrow morning.

Elder Flanagan Tries Famechon

New York, Dec. 15 (AP)—The Irish have been wowing the customers in Madison Square Garden lately and Glen Flanagan hopes to keep the sons of Erin cheering tonight.

Glen, eldest of the fighting Flanagans of St. Paul, makes his Eastern debut against Ray Famechon, a fancy boxing Frenchman who holds the European featherweight crown.

Only a week ago Bobby Murphy, a socking sailor with the map of Ireland spread all over his face, stopped Jimmy Beau in as sensational a fight as has been seen here in a year.

Millions saw the scrap via television and the promoting International Boxing Club hopes enough of them will show up in person to root for the fighting Irishmen.

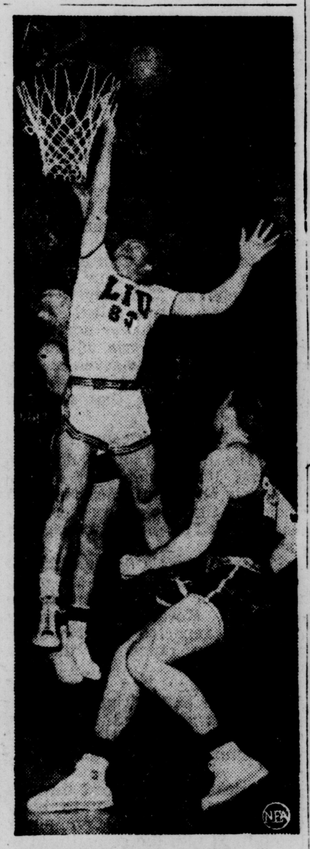
Famechon has lost only four of 65 fights. Flanagan's record shows 39 victories six losses and six draws.



BEATING THE ODDS—Surrounded by Denver players, Al Bigos of Long Island University stretches to coax the ball through the basket at Madison Square Garden. The Blackbirds won in double-overtime, 58-56.

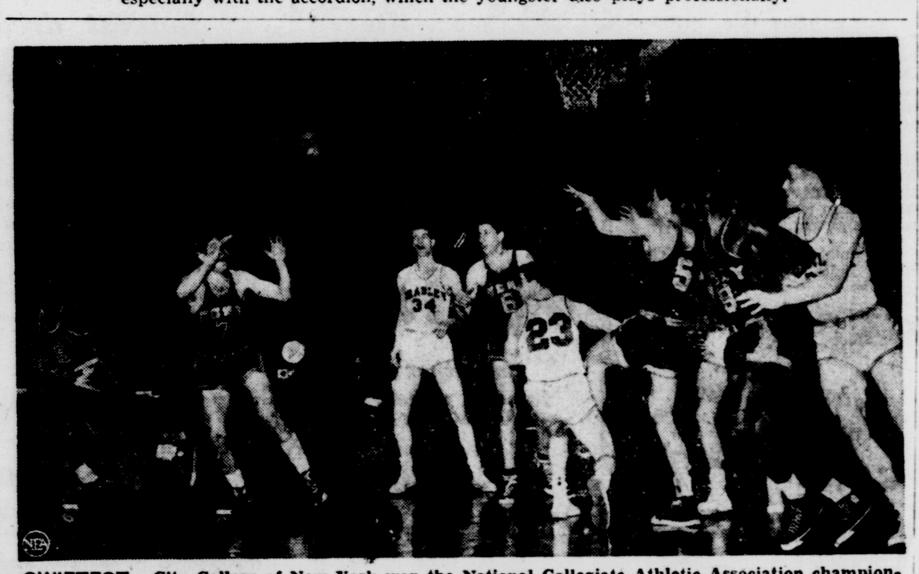
FAIR EXCHANGE—Six-foot four-inch Tony Lavelli teaches tiny Josephine Guido something about basketball. The opera star reciprocates with a singing lesson. Lavelli, the Yale All-America with the professional New York Knickerbockers, has the edge in learning. He's an accomplished musician, especially with the accordion, which the youngster also plays professionally.



SWIFTEST—City College of New York won the National Collegiate Athletic Association championship and the National Invitation Tournament at Madison Square Garden with the fast break. Irwin Dambrot, 5, passed out to Al Roth, 7, as Ed Warner, 8, streaked up court. Ed Roman, 6, and Floyd Lane, 9, broke up court. Jim Kelly, 34; Gene Melchiorre, 23, and Aaron Preece, extreme right, Bradley Braves upset in each tournament, were unable to prevent the execution of this particular maneuver.

COVER MAN—Ezzard Charles made Joe Louis cover winning a clear claim to the heavyweight title, but the aging ex-champion persisted in further demonstrating that he was the Hollow Shell of 1950.

Holds Record

"Life With Father," which ran over 3,200 performances on Broadway, holds the street's longevity record, followed by "Tobacco Road" with more than 3,150 performances.

The name "Bambino," popularly applied to the late Babe Ruth of baseball fame, derives from "Il Bambino" used by Italians for pictures of the infant Jesus in swaddling clothes.

Firemen to Discuss Defense on Dec. 19

Problems confronting the fire service in atomic defense operations will be discussed at an instruction session for firemen and others interested at the Myron J. Michael School at 8 p. m., Dec. 19.

Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy stressed that the State of New York is moving ahead with its program of civilian defense instruction for the fire service and announced that all persons interested are invited to the session.

Representatives from Greene, Columbia, Sullivan counties and the northen part of Dutchess county will attend.

The Lemonade Opera

The Lemonade Opera, providing summer opera for New Yorkers, takes its name from the custom of serving lemonade between the acts.

"Chivalry" in the Middle Ages referred to fully armed and mounted fighting men but has come to mean "courtesy."

Lee Wins

Cleveland Coach Ridicules Odds Favoring Browns

Cleveland, Dec. 15 (AP)—Bettors may have established the Cleveland Browns as seven-point favorites over the New York Giants, but not Coach Paul Brown.

"It's ridiculous," he declared. "Why, the Giants beat us the other two times we played. And we gave it all we had each time."

"I'd sure like to know on what basis the points were spotted," he continued. "I thought for once we'd be the underdogs and the players feel like underdogs."

"We're going at it on the basis that we have everything to win and nothing to lose," he added.

The two clubs, tied with 10-2 records, meet here Sunday. At stake is the championship of the National Football League's American Conference. The winner meets the National Conference champ. That will be decided by a game between the Chicago Bears and Los Angeles.

The Giants' regular season wins over the Browns were by 6-0 and 17-13 scores. The shutout was the first ever scored against a Brown-coached high school, college or pro football team.

The Giants have held the Browns to a single touchdown, the other points in the second game resulting from field goals and a conversion by Lou Groza. The New Yorkers did that by ruining a passing attack which had been the wonder of the All-America Conference in each of the four years it existed.

In the first game, the Giants smothered receivers for quarterback Otto Graham's pitches. In the second, they rushed Graham so hard he didn't have time to spot targets.

Brown complained today that a frozen field and snow were cramping practice for his club and said, "I trust the same things are happening in New York."

The Giants work out today at the Polo Grounds in New York and then catch a train for Cleveland. They will work out here tomorrow morning.

Elder Flanagan Tries Famechon

New York, Dec. 15 (AP)—The Irish have been wowing the customers in Madison Square Garden lately and Glen Flanagan hopes to keep the sons of Erin cheering tonight.

Glen, eldest of the fighting Flanagans of St. Paul, makes his Eastern debut against Ray Famechon, a fancy boxing Frenchman who holds the European featherweight crown.

Only a week ago Bobby Murphy, a socking sailor with the map of Ireland spread all over his face, stopped Jimmy Beau in as sensational a fight as has been seen here in a year.

Millions saw the scrap via television and the promoting International Boxing Club hopes enough of them will show up in person to root for the fighting Irishmen.

Flanagan is a busy boy who keeps throwing punches. That should make him an excellent foil for the 26-year-old Frenchman who has a stabbing left jab and a sneaky right.

Famechon has lost only four of 65 fights. Flanagan's record shows 39 victories six losses and six draws.

BEATING THE ODDS—Surrounded by Denver players, Al Bigos of Long Island University stretches to coax the ball through the basket at Madison Square Garden. The Blackbirds won in double-overtime, 58-56.

U.N. Ammunition Burns in Pyongyang

An Allied ammunition train is blasted into a pillar of fire and flame by U. S. B-26 bombers 12 hours after the last United Nations troops left Pyongyang, North Korean capital, in their retreat to the south. The train was destroyed to deny its use by Communist forces. (Associated Press Photo from Life Magazine)

Congress Demands

for the Atomic Energy Commission.

Testimony revealed that it will include two gaseous difusion plants. The gaseous difusion process of producing atomic materials is the one employed at Oak Ridge, Tenn.

The commission disclosed on Nov. 28 that it will build a new project in South Carolina. Testimony released today placed its cost at $600,000,000 or more. AEC Chairman Gordon Dean said this will be a dual purpose project "because we do not know as to the feasibility of the H-bomb project." The South Carolina plant has been reported designed to produce fuel for the hydrogen bomb.

Work Awaits Money

As for the Kentucky plant, Rep. Gregory (D.-Ky.) said last night work will start as soon as Congress votes the money.

To direct industrial mobilization, the government called in Charles E. Wilson, president of the General Electric Co., who said he will accept. Wilson will head a new central agency.

Although most speculation was that wage-price controls would be imposed on a gradual basis, Rep. Wolcott of Michigan, senior Republican on the House Banking and Senate-House Economic Committees, said there is talk in administration circles of a price-wage freeze.

"The difficulty there would be in enforcing it," he said.

Chairman Taft (Ohio) of the Senate G.O.P. policy committee called for a Presidential announcement of over-all manpower and production goals. He said Republicans, who will have heavy influence in the new Congress would go along willingly if they know where they are going.

The government announced last night that a cut will be made shortly in the use of copper and brass in a wide range of civilian products. Both copper and brass are essential in war production. The cutback will be effective in specialized fields, ranging from plumbing and radiators to hub caps.

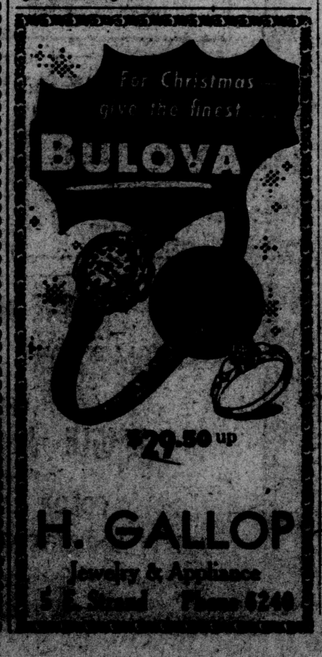
Mailing of Gifts

land on the south and Illinois to the west will be able to handle mail for any point north of—and including—Washington, D. C. But they can handle mail for western points, unless the route of the only available rail center passes through Chicago.

If the railway work stoppage spreads further, however, the department said additional embargo action may have to be taken.

Under the present order, there are no restrictions on any mailings for local delivery or rural routes operated out of individual post offices, or to air mail or air parcel post, or to other mailings "originating at or destined for delivery at points between which it is known that no interference with transporttion exists."

Postal officials, facing an estimated load of 3,500,000,000 individual pieces of mail in the next 10 days, began shifting some surface mail to the airlines. An official said all resistered mail in congested areas may start moving by air today.



Red Chinese . . .

the U. S. Third Division, reported the Chinese broke through the outlying mountain barrier onto the plains.

The cutoff Third Division platoon directed artillery fire into the Red ranks. Communications with the 40 doughboys blacked out shortly after tanks failed to reach them. The platoon men were presumed lost, although Maj. Samuel G. Kail of Dallas said they still were battling when last heard from at noon Friday.

Poses Serious Threat

Lambert said the Red "advance onto the beachhead's flat plain posed a serious threat to allied forces backed against the sea." A security blackout shrouded allied activities elsewhere within the beachhead.

The U. S. First Marine and Third and Seventh Infantry Divisions and elements of two South Korean divisions, a few British commandos and Puerto Ricans retreated into the beachhead last week-end.

Dogfight Occurs

To the north another dogfight between 10 Russian-built swept-wing jets and four American F-80 Shooting Stars was further evidence of Red intentions to wage an air war.

The latest was a dogfight 25,000 feet over Namsi, about 20 miles southeast of Sinuiju in extreme northwest Korea. One enemy plane was reported hit. No U. S. planes were damaged, the air force said.

Twenty-four Red jets had flashed into battle Thursday. The action was described by an air force spokesman in Washington as the beginning of "an all-out air war."

American B-29s droned through a wintry fog Thursday to blast Pyongyang, Korean Communist capital. It was the second raid in two days on the city.

The bombers also rained 500-pound bombs on railroad marshalling yards at Chongju, Sonchon and Sinanju north of the Red capital.

HouseGroupUrges

ports the Pentagon might ask for another $8,000,000,000 before the fiscal year ends.

That would push the year's total for defense close to $50,000,000,000 and represent about $330 for every man, woman and child in the country.

The additional money is designed to build up and fully equip with the newest and most deadly weapons a military force of 2,766,022 by next June 30. It would provide 1,264,900 for the army, 683,872 for the navy, 166,155 for the marine corps and 651,095 in the air force.

1,264,000 More in Uniform

This is about 1,264,000 more people in uniform than originally planned for the present fiscal year.

To speed up the filling of the military ranks, the committee recommended a boost in funds for the selective service system.

By departments, the new defense funds were allotted this way:

Army, $9,211,799,000, including $934,000 for the Alaska Communications Commission.

Navy, $2,979,371,000; this includes the marine corps.

Air force, $4,603,011,000.

House Republicans

foreign policy. This group held several meetings but never could agree on a resolution.

Chairman Millikin (Colo) was reported to be opposed to language as strong as that proposed by Ives.

The upshot was the full policy committee's decision to submit the whole matter to a caucus of all Republican senators this afternoon.

Mariposa trees in Yosemite National Park, California, are believed the world's oldest and largest living things.

Dewey Demands

should set an immediate goal of 25 per cent of our productive capacity for defense production."

Appointment of Mobilizer

3. Appointment of an economic mobilizer, who should be "the ablest business executive in our country."

"To avoid the dreadful waste of manpower and the stalemate of inter-agency quarrelling," Dewey said, "the economic mobilizer should have not only full supervision of production but of economic controls and of civilian manpower."

"This man should be responsible only to the President and should report only to the President and * * * only to a single, joint committee of the House and Senate," the New York governor added. "He should not spend half his time, as is often the case today, reporting to committee after committee or both Houses."

4. A rearmament program on a pay-as-you-go basis to check inflation.

Freedom vs. Luxuries

"We cannot save our freedom and also keep our personal comforts and luxuries," Dewey said. "Let us remember that, even then, we will have more than any other people in the world."

"The only effective way to deal with inflation is to finance our rearmament program on a pay-as-you-go basis. * * * Government services—federal, state and local—must be cut to the bone," he said.

"Industry and labor must avoid increasing costs," he said. "* * * Corporation profits must be taxed heavily. An excess profits tax should siphon off any profits in excess of normal, arising out of the defense effort.

Must Raise Taxes

"Individual income taxes must be raised up and down the line, and in this connection we must remember that the larger incomes already bear taxes running up to 91 per cent.

"Disagreeable as it may be, the spending power of America * * * is not in the hands of a few rich people but in the hands of all of us."

Dewey advocated an excise tax on luxuries, a crackdown on credit expansion, and added: "But we cannot and must not borrow the savings of our people as we did in the last world war and then pay them back in 57-cent dollars. Inflation must be stopped now and stopped hard."

His proposal, Dewey said, far exceeded "anything they have in mind in Washington."

Dewey Stirs Nation

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 15 (AP)—Governor Dewey's office today was swamped with messages lauding Dewey's call for complete national mobilization to cope with Communist aggression. Several hundred telegrams from all parts of the nation were delivered to his office in the capitol this morning and more were coming in. Many messages were from the Pacific coast states and the deep South. Dewey, in a speech last night in New York city, proposed drastic steps to gird the nation for any eventuality. He is expected to return to the capitol Monday.

Wore Crown of Thorns

Augsburg, Germany, Dec. 15 (AP)—An Austrian Catholic priest testified today that he was forced to wear a crown of thorns made of barbed wire during his imprisonment at Buchenwald concentration camp. The Rev. Adreas Rieser, testifying in the trial of Mrs. Ilse Koch, said that while he wore the crown SS (Elite) guards ordered other prisoners to spit at him. He also said he saw Mrs. Koch egg on a guard to beat a prisoner until he collapsed. Mrs. Koch is being tried for inciting murders at Buchenwald while she was there as the wife of the camp's commandant.

Cease-Fire Committee

Cease Fire Group

until every acceptable path toward peace there has been explored, it will not adjourn.

Should a cease fire appear to be in the offing soon, President Entezam plans to continue the main body in session next week. Otherwise, while the three-man committee continues to work, he will recess the assembly until after the Christmas holidays.

Since the committee is empowered only to ascertain acceptable terms for a cease fire—not to issue such an order, the assembly must be in session to call a halt to the fighting.

Sentences Imposed

Belgrade, Yugoslavia, Dec. 15 (AP)—A Belgrade district court today imposed prison sentences ranging from four years to 17 months of 11 teenagers who called themselves the Black Falcons and were alleged to have plotted to overthrow Premier Marshal Tito's government.

Congress Demands

for the Atomic Energy Commission.

Testimony revealed that it will include two gaseous difusion plants. The gaseous difusion process of producing atomic materials is the one employed at Oak Ridge, Tenn.

The commission disclosed on Nov. 28 that it will build a new project in South Carolina. Testimony released today placed its cost at $600,000,000 or more. AEC Chairman Gordon Dean said this will be a dual purpose project "because we do not know as to the feasibility of the H-bomb project." The South Carolina plant has been reported designed to produce fuel for the hydrogen bomb.

Work Awaits Money

As for the Kentucky plant, Rep. Gregory (D.-Ky.) said last night work will start as soon as Congress votes the money.

To direct industrial mobilization, the government called in Charles E. Wilson, president of the General Electric Co., who said he will accept. Wilson will head a new central agency.

Although most speculation was that wage-price controls would be imposed on a gradual basis, Rep. Wolcott of Michigan, senior Republican on the House Banking and Senate-House Economic Committees, said there is talk in administration circles of a price-wage freeze.

"The difficulty there would be in enforcing it," he said.

Chairman Taft (Ohio) of the Senate G.O.P. policy committee called for a Presidential announcement of over-all manpower and production goals. He said Republicans, who will have heavy influence in the new Congress would go along willingly if they know where they are going.

The government announced last night that a cut will be made shortly in the use of copper and brass in a wide range of civilian products. Both copper and brass are essential in war production. The cutback will be effective in specialized fields, ranging from plumbing and radiators to hub caps.

land on the south and Illinois to the west will be able to handle mail for any point north of—and including—Washington, D. C. But they can handle mail for western points, unless the route of the only available rail center passes through Chicago.

If the railway work stoppage spreads further, however, the department said additional embargo action may have to be taken.

Under the present order, there are no restrictions on any mailings for local delivery or rural routes operated out of individual post offices, or to air mail or air parcel post, or to other mailings "originating at or destined for delivery at points between which it is known that no interference with transporttion exists."

Postal officials, facing an estimated load of 3,500,000,000 individual pieces of mail in the next 10 days, began shifting some surface mail to the airlines. An official said all resistered mail in congested areas may start moving by air today.

Red Chinese . . .

the U. S. Third Division, reported the Chinese broke through the outlying mountain barrier onto the plains.

The cutoff Third Division platoon directed artillery fire into the Red ranks. Communications with the 40 doughboys blacked out shortly after tanks failed to reach them. The platoon men were presumed lost, although Maj. Samuel G. Kail of Dallas said they still were battling when last heard from at noon Friday.

Poses Serious Threat

Lambert said the Red "advance onto the beachhead's flat plain posed a serious threat to allied forces backed against the sea." A security blackout shrouded allied activities elsewhere within the beachhead.

The U. S. First Marine and Third and Seventh Infantry Divisions and elements of two South Korean divisions, a few British commandos and Puerto Ricans retreated into the beachhead last week-end.

Friday's major attack came after two lighter, probing thrusts were beaten off Thursday.

Dogfight Occurs

To the north another dogfight between 10 Russian-built swept-wing jets and four American F-80 Shooting Stars was further evidence of Red intentions to wage an air war.

The latest was a dogfight 25,000 feet over Namsi, about 20 miles southeast of Sinuiju in extreme northwest Korea. One enemy plane was reported hit. No U. S. planes were damaged, the air force said.

Twenty-four Red jets had flashed into battle Thursday. The action was described by an air force spokesman in Washington as the beginning of "an all-out air war."

American B-29s droned through a wintry fog Thursday to blast Pyongyang, Korean Communist capital. It was the second raid in two days on the city.

The bombers also rained 500-pound bombs on railroad marshalling yards at Chongju, Sonchon and Sinanju north of the Red capital.

ports the Pentagon might ask for another $8,000,000,000 before the fiscal year ends.

That would push the year's total for defense close to $50,000,000,000 and represent about $330 for every man, woman and child in the country.

The additional money is designed to build up and fully equip with the newest and most deadly weapons a military force of 2,766,022 by next June 30. It would provide 1,264,900 for the army, 683,872 for the navy, 166,155 for the marine corps and 651,095 in the air force.

1,264,000 More in Uniform

This is about 1,264,000 more people in uniform than originally planned for the present fiscal year.

To speed up the filling of the military ranks, the committee recommended a boost in funds for the selective service system.

By departments, the new defense funds were allotted this way:

Army, $9,211,799,000, including $934,000 for the Alaska Communications Commission.

Navy, $2,979,371,000; this includes the marine corps.

Air force, $4,603,011,000.

House Republicans

foreign policy. This group held several meetings but never could agree on a resolution.

Chairman Millikin (Colo) was reported to be opposed to language as strong as that proposed by Ives.

The upshot was the full policy committee's decision to submit the whole matter to a caucus of all Republican senators this afternoon.

Dewey Demands

should set an immediate goal of 25 per cent of our productive capacity for defense production."

Appointment of Mobilizer

3. Appointment of an economic mobilizer, who should be "the ablest business executive in our country."

"To avoid the dreadful waste of manpower and the stalemate of inter-agency quarrelling," Dewey said, "the economic mobilizer should have not only full supervision of production but of economic controls and of civilian manpower."

"This man should be responsible only to the President and should report only to the President and * * * only to a single, joint committee of the House and Senate," the New York governor added. "He should not spend half his time, as is often the case today, reporting to committee after committee or both Houses."

4. A rearmament program on a pay-as-you-go basis to check inflation.

Freedom vs. Luxuries

"We cannot save our freedom and also keep our personal comforts and luxuries," Dewey said. "Let us remember that, even then, we will have more than any other people in the world."

"The only effective way to deal with inflation is to finance our rearmament program on a pay-as-you-go basis. * * * Government services—federal, state and local—must be cut to the bone," he said.

"Industry and labor must avoid increasing costs," he said. "* * * Corporation profits must be taxed heavily. An excess profits tax should siphon off any profits in excess of normal, arising out of the defense effort.

Must Raise Taxes

"Individual income taxes must be raised up and down the line, and in this connection we must remember that the larger incomes already bear taxes running up to 91 per cent.

"Disagreeable as it may be, the spending power of America * * * is not in the hands of a few rich people but in the hands of all of us."

Dewey advocated an excise tax on luxuries, a crackdown on credit expansion, and added: "But we cannot and must not borrow the savings of our people as we did in the last world war and then pay them back in 57-cent dollars. Inflation must be stopped now and stopped hard."

His proposal, Dewey said, far exceeded "anything they have in mind in Washington."

Dewey Stirs Nation

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 15 (AP)—Governor Dewey's office today was swamped with messages lauding Dewey's call for complete national mobilization to cope with Communist aggression. Several hundred telegrams from all parts of the nation were delivered to his office in the capitol this morning and more were coming in. Many messages were from the Pacific coast states and the deep South. Dewey, in a speech last night in New York city, proposed drastic steps to gird the nation for any eventuality. He is expected to return to the capitol Monday.

Wore Crown of Thorns

Augsburg, Germany, Dec. 15 (AP)—An Austrian Catholic priest testified today that he was forced to wear a crown of thorns made of barbed wire during his imprisonment at Buchenwald concentration camp. The Rev. Adreas Rieser, testifying in the trial of Mrs. Ilse Koch, said that while he wore the crown SS (Elite) guards ordered other prisoners to spit at him. He also said he saw Mrs. Koch egg on a guard to beat a prisoner until he collapsed. Mrs. Koch is being tried for inciting murders at Buchenwald while she was there as the wife of the camp's commandant.

Cease-Fire Committee

until every acceptable path toward peace there has been explored, it will not adjourn.

Should a cease fire appear to be in the offing soon, President Entezam plans to continue the main body in session next week. Otherwise, while the three-man committee continues to work, he will recess the assembly until after the Christmas holidays.

Since the committee is empowered only to ascertain acceptable terms for a cease fire—not to issue such an order, the assembly must be in session to call a halt to the fighting.

Sentences Imposed

Belgrade, Yugoslavia, Dec. 15 (AP)—A Belgrade district court today imposed prison sentences ranging from four years to 17 months of 11 teenagers who called themselves the Black Falcons and were alleged to have plotted to overthrow Premier Marshal Tito's government.
